NY PLANE DARES SEA

Donald Hops for London

British Pilot Flying Alone With Only 200 Gallons of Gas

Newfoundland Hops Begun Landing This Morning

(N. Y.) Oct. 17. (AP)—Lieut. Flight Commander R. D. MacDonald, retired, of Iron Duke Grace early today, reportedly to attempt to duplicate Charles A. Lindbergh feat—a nonstop solo flight across the Atlantic.

The 30-year-old former Navy officer stowed into his tiny plane Dr. Maitland he is said to have told some friends that his chances for a five-hour dash hop in the plane's tanks would be only a little more than enough fuel and compensation for an ocean hop. It was at 1:21 p.m., Pacific standard time, that MacDonald was ready from the Curtiss Field runway for moments and was soon out of sight.

TWENTY HOURS

(4 p.m. Pacific Standard time) Commander MacDonald has gone more than 20 hours and it became apparent early today that the British flyer was attempting to fly across the Atlantic. The plane carried enough gasoline for nearly hours flying.

Commander MacDonald had left Newfoundland tonight had been met by the Mohawk was expected to land. It was also said that the flying field was in condition for a landing.

GOOD WEATHER

The last word in Newfoundland before September 28, last, was that awaiting favorable weather for a flight to Ireland, but the meteorological bureau promised no serious storms over the ocean and that a plane would be able to take off shortly. Lieut. Commander MacDonald's father, Rear Admiral

QUEENS SEWER PAIR CONVICTED

New York Borough President and Aide Condemned

Asserted $10,000,000 Graft to Cost Year in Jail

Connolly Sentenced at Once, Seely's Fate Deferred

NEW YORK, Oct. 17. (AP)—Maurice E. Connolly, for many years a powerful Democratic leader in Queens Borough and president of the Borough for seventeen years until he resigned last April under fire, was sentenced today to serve one year in prison and fined $500. He was convicted by a Supreme Court jury of conspiracy to defraud the city in the construction of the $29,000,000 Queens sewer system. The penalty was the maximum.

His former sewer design engineer, Frederick Seely, was convicted with him on the same charge but Supreme Court Justice Tompkins postponed sentence until Saturday in order to have time to study the evidence.

JURY DEBATED LONG

The jury had deliberated more than twenty-five hours.

Connolly and Seely were remanded to jail while the former Borough leader's attorney made preparations for him to take an appeal.

During Connolly's regime as borough head the population of Queens grew by leaps and bounds. Thousands of persons of small means built homes there and they felt the burden of the heavy sewer construction costs from 1917 on. For years there was much grumbling and many charges were made. Finally an investigation into assertions of wholesale graft in connection with sewers was begun last spring. John M. Phillips, sewer-pipe dealer, who died before the trial started, and Connolly were central figures in the charges.

RIGGED TO FIT

The State charged the sewer specifications had been "rigged" so that only Phillips' precast patented lockjoint pipe would satisfy them and that, as a consequence, he charged what he pleased, in some jobs as high as 700 per cent above market prices.

The trial started three weeks ago. The State's testimony showed Phillips made as much as $7,000,000 in excess profits on one sewer job and that these costs were passed on by the contractors to the city and taxpayers.

Ready to Start Flight Across Atlantic

Small Plane in Long Jump

The picture shows the Moth plane of Flight Commander H. C. MacDonald with which he is attempting to span the Atlantic Ocean from Harbor Grace, N. F., to England. The little plane carries only 100 gallons of fuel, which it is asserted will keep it in the air for thirty-six hours. The inset picture is Flight Commander MacDonald, who took off on his hazardous trip on surprisingly short notice and apparently with little preparation.

AIR LINERS TO GERMANY NEXT

ficient American capital he will spend $6,000,000 on the construction of the four gas bags and $6,000,000 for new airports in Germany and the United States, complete terminals for the projected line.

LETTERS PREFERRED

The ships would carry letters, fast freight and a limited number of passengers. Dr. Eckener figures that carrying letters at 50 cents a letter will be more profitable than carrying humans at $2000 a human.

The skipper of the Graf Zeppelin plans now to make a start for Detroit after Sunday or Monday morning. The denuded fin will be reclothed by next Saturday and if weather conditions are right the big gas bag will get away early Sunday.

The thought that came to the mind of many a resident when the Graf floated over Eastern United States cities last Monday, "What if the Graf were an enemy ship with a few tons of TNT aboard?" was echoed today at the Advertising Club by Rear-Admiral William A. Moffett.

TIME TO MOVE

"It is time that New York acquires all air fields possible, the cruise of the Graf shows," Moffett said, speaking before Dr. Eckener and the other guests. "Even Governors Island should be taken for an air field by the city if such a step is necessary."

Later, compatriots cried "Hoch!" in chorus when the distinguished visitors were given a tea at the German Club. The two-day round of receptions was concluded with a dinner given by the Board of Trade for German-American Commerce tonight.

Riggers worked throughout today on the damaged fin, which held the bucking 770-foot dirigible a prisoner of the winds around Bermuda through last Sunday. These repairs are likely to be completed on Saturday.

ARGENTINA SIGNS ZEPPELIN MAIL CONTRACT

BUENOS AIRES, Oct. 17. (AP)—A contract to carry mail by dirigible between Spain and Argentina has been signed by Argentine postoffice officials and representatives of the Spanish Trans-Aerial Company, which is reported to have leased the Graf Zeppelin from German interests for two years. The service is expected to begin in six months.

The agreement calls for a flight at least once a month in either direction.

RADIO LISTENERS HEAR ZEPPELIN STORY

NEW YORK, Oct. 17. (AP)—A graphic description of the heroism and good airmanship which kept the Graf Zeppelin nosing ahead after her port horizontal fin had been damaged by a sudden squall, was broadcast tonight in a radio talk by Lieutenant-Commander Charles E. Rosendahl, U.S.N., who was a guest observer on the trans-Atlantic flight.

The passengers soon fell into shipboard routine, he said, diaries were fattening and the click of news-reel cameras became commonplace. The thrill had worn off, but in the control room the officers knew from their weather charts what lay ahead, he added.

"Just before breakfast we bucked straight into a squall," Rosendahl said. "The Zeppelin's nose got it first. It bounded up as though some giant's hand had shot up a blow from the sea. As the bow went up the stern went down. There was a crash and clatter in the dining room. Dishes went flying. Lady Drummond Hay suddenly found her eggs in her lap.

"And then the only woman passenger laughed. The tension eased and in a moment all hands were teamed up to tidy the damage. It was good fun."

The officers' decision was instantaneous, he said, when a lookout reported three-quarters of the underfabric stripped from the fin. The ship was swung to slow speed and officers and crew patched and lashed the fabric of the fin so that no more of it could be carried away. He said that never after that did the ship dare to risk full cruising speed.

TINY PLANE LONDON BOUND

for a distance of 300 feet and then gracefully left the ground and rose to an altitude of 500 feet. He circled the airport once and then turned eastward on his long journey.

MacDonald carried 100 gallons of gasoline which he estimated will carry him to his destination. Before starting he said he hoped to reach London and that he hopes to land early tomorrow morning. He took with him a quart of coffee in a thermos bottle and two dozen sandwiches.

LONDON THRILLED BY NEWS OF FLIGHT

LONDON, Oct. 17. (AP)—London thrilled today to the news that Commander H. C. Macdonald had hopped from Newfoundland on a trans-Atlantic flight in a tiny Moth plane.

Because of the size of his machine and his own limited flying experience, the attempt was hailed as probably the most daring air exploit ever undertaken. British airmen found it hard to believe that their comrade was in real earnest and not making a short test flight.

They pointed out that while the Moth machine was supposed to have a fuel capacity sufficient for a thirty-five-hour flight, it was a question whether this gave enough margin of safety. The experts figured that MacDonald will run a large risk of finding himself without fuel if he meets unexpected head winds or other delaying factions on his route to Ireland.

The flyer took up aviation after he retired from the Navy. He quickly established a reputation for daring and last May after only sixteen hours' training in dual flight and ten hours of solo flying started for India by air. He got only as far as Bagdad, having experienced a slight accident on the outward trip.

HICKMAN IN DEATH CELL

ing the death cell Hickman began to pray. As he prayed he looked at the signs, symbols and marks that 190 of his predecessors have left on the walls as their last word to a mundane world.

DOOR OF DEATH

By turning his eyes to the right, or the south wall of the larger room, Hickman could see the door which opens on the short path to the gallows.

The door is scheduled, barring a last-minute change of plans, to open for him a few seconds before 10 a.m. Friday. Immediately beyond the door is a short ramp which can be covered in about three average-size steps. Next come the thirteen steps which end at the gallows trap.

If Hickman's mother arrives it is believed possible she and her estranged husband, separated for several years, might readjust their differences in the shadow of the gallows that looms for their son on Friday morning.

An inkling of the possibility was gained from Thomas Hickman, the condemned child killer's father. The two met late today in the office of L. E. Carpenter, captain of the prison yard. They were allowed several minutes in strict privacy. When the elder Hickman emerged, his eyes were streaming tears. His voice quavered as he said:

"The boy is very brave. I thought I'd console him, but he consoled me, instead. He told me to live a Christian life and he'd see me in a little while.

"He gave me a message to his mother. I'll give it to her and to nobody else."

PLEADS RECONCILIATION

Belief is expressed that the youth waiting the hangman's noose has asked his father to make overtures to his mother for a reconciliation.

Hickman's last complete day among his fifteen other companions of "Death Row" was spent almost in ignorance of them. He had several visitors, both in his cell and in the yard captain's office. Among them besides his father, were Attorney Walsh, Attorney Richard Cantillon of Los Angeles, Warden Holohan, Father William A. Fleming, pastor of St. Raphael's Church in San Rafael, and Welby Hunt, Los Angeles youth sentenced to life imprisonment for participation with Hickman in the murder of C. Ivy Toms in the hold-up of the latter's pharmacy on Christmas Eve, 1926. The visit with the latter developed into one of dramatic tensity, with Hickman essaying the role of spiritual judge and adviser over his former partner in crime.

HUNT'S REQUEST

Hunt was by far the shyer of the two as he asked:

"Eddie, I wondered if you'd do anything for me—now?

"No, Welby," replied Hickman, promptly. "I thought then you did it and I still think so. (The reference was to Hickman's contention that Hunt was the actual slayer of Toms.) If I can help you without lying I will. Otherwise I'm afraid I can't do anything for you."

Hunt obviously was downcast and shaken as he was led back to his work in the jute mill. Echoing in his ears were Hickman's further words:

"You have my forgiveness for 'squealing' on me, Welby. But let my fate be a lesson to you. Turn from a life of sin and embrace God. Then nothing can touch you."

Hickman surrendered his last recreation period, from 12:30 to 2 p.m., for the conference with his attorneys and the drawing of his will. He was informed there was scant hope for a stay of execution.

According to Walsh, he accepted the situation calmly saying:

"What is going to happen to me on the 19th is an incident to something the accomplishment of which I have long desired. It marks the end of my physical life and the beginning of my spiritual life."

His attitude had led to the impression that by the time he mounts the gallows, he will have fortified himself with a religious fervor bordering on fanaticism.

No formal appeal to Warden Holohan for a sanity test of the prisoner was made today, but Attorneys Walsh and Cantillon met with the warden and the members of the State Prison Board in an unusual midweek session of the board. The discussion was surrounded with secrecy. In the light of subsequent developments, it was believed to have hinged on the reported arrival of Mrs. Hickman and an agreement to allow her to see her son prior to his removal to the death chamber in the event she came.

BETS PAID OFF

In the ironic fashion of prison "grape vine" messages, the conviction among prisoners that Hickman will "swing" Friday morning was evidenced late today. Several prisoners who had previously wagered candy bars and tobacco in ratios up to 10 to 1 that the slayer would not hang on the 19th inst., paid off their bets in advance. The "grape vine" had told them there was no further chance.

Walsh carried from the prison when he left late in the day a picture which the prison photographer took of Hickman in civilian clothes several days ago. The photograph reveals him in a smiling pose. It was his request that Walsh deliver it to his mother.

Father Fleming administered Holy Communion this morning and prepared to spend as much time as he is allowed with the prisoner from now until 10 a.m. Friday, the hour for the execution. The priest has buoyed the flagging spirits and given religious rites to many condemned men at San Quentin, but says Hickman appears more calmly resigned to his fate than any other man in his experience.

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 17. (AP)—Los Angeles dispatched and received 111.4 pounds of air mail for each 1000 of population during 1927, while San Francisco dispatched and received 32.1 pounds.

This was shown by a survey by Charles G. Shone, assistant engineer for the State Railroad Commission, who has been investigating air traffic in the State. The survey result was made public today.

toward the expenditure of the public funds? It is the best example of the high morale that has been built up under President Coolidge's leadership, and nothing that I know of is more conducive to the destruction of that morale than to have a candidate for the Presidency of the United States hold up to ridicule and contempt the efforts of public servants to save the money of the taxpayers."

SECOND TIME GUILTY

Reviewing Gov. Smith's statement that the government cost $200,000,000 more in 1927 than in 1924, the Treasury Secretary gave a series of figures which he said showed that the increase was $29,000,000, leaving out postal expenditures, which he explained as a business expenditure.

"This is the second time Gov. Smith has been guilty of an error of this kind," Mr. Mellon resumed. ". . . This is a good example of the use of figures not to present an accurate and truthful picture, but quite the opposite.

"And now let me turn to the Governor's third charge, that public works have been neglected entirely, postponed or started with grossly inadequate appropriations. The Governor states that there is established in Washington what he calls a trick bookkeeping system under which large amounts are authorized, while only small amounts are appropriated year by year. He is apparently under the impression that this practice was recently inaugurated for political purposes. Since 1837 the House of Representatives has followed the sound rule of not permitting an appropriation for any given purpose unless that purpose had previously been authorized."

BUILDINGS CITED

"The Governor cites a number of instances in which building sites were acquired some years ago on which no building to date has been constructed. The fact is that the last omnibus public building bill, the items for which were made up by the committees of the House and Senate, became a law on March 4, 1913. Work under that bill progressed steadily until the conditions brought about by the World War caused the then Secretary of the Treasury, in the interest of conserving man power, materials and transportation facilities for war purposes, to suspend the letting of contracts for new buildings.

"When the new administration came into power in 1921, the immediate task to be undertaken was putting the government's own house in order. . . .

"Once accomplished, the President recommended to the Congress that the time had come for expanding the physical facilities of the Federal government, but he was unwilling that we should return to the old pork barrel practices of an omnibus public building bill. Accordingly, a law was enacted, under the terms of which, for the first time in its history, the physical plant of the government would be constructed on the basis of actual requirements, rather than by virtue of the political needs of Congressional districts. Since that time and in the course of the last three years, a general authorization of $298,000,000 has been made for public buildings purposes, of which $77,000,000 have been appropriated, and of which $30,000,000 approximately are being annually expended.

STUDY RECOMMENDED

"The business of the United States government is the greatest business enterprise in the world. Knowledge of it is not to be acquired hastily during the course of a few months' campaign. It is no reflection on Gov. Smith's ability that he is inadequately informed as to the business of the Federal government. What might reasonably be asked of him, however, is that he refrain from charging others with misrepresentation and bad faith until by study and familiarity with his subject he has placed himself in a position to deal with it in terms of fact."

"It is now up to Gov. Smith to explain how the Republican administration could make four successive slashes in Federal taxes aggregating $1,800,000,000 and pay off $7,000,000,000 of public debt in seven years," Chairman Work said, "if there had not been, as coincident with this, a corresponding reduction in the cost of running the Federal government."

THE HISTORY OF TAMMANY

anti-third-term tradition; still another was his espousal of the prohibition cause and his insistence that the Legislature ratify the prohibition amendment to the national Constitution. This was an unpopular move. Smith had in his favor a tremendous popularity with the rank and file of Tammany; his "wet" record and his unquestioned knowledge of the State government and State affairs gained in many years of legislative service. Smith won the election and was soon being made the target of abuse in the Hearst newspapers. In 1920 he lost.

He evened the score against Hearst and Hylan in 1922, 1924 and 1926.

CAROLINA CITY CHEERS HOOVER

Senator Borah Makes Plea to Vote Convictions

Crowd Roars Disapproval of Smith's Policies

Huge Audience Expresses Favor for G.O.P.

CHARLOTTE (N. C.) Oct. 17. (AP) A plea to the voters of North Carolina and of the normally Democratic southern States was made tonight by Senator Borah of Idaho, an "ace" of the Hoover campaign forces, for them to vote in the Presidential election "according to their convictions and not on the basis of party loyalty."

In his final speech in the "solid South," which was broadcast over a nation-wide radio hook-up, the Idaho Senator declared that "there was an effort in North Carolina to persuade the people not to vote as they want to vote."

"If the people were permitted to go to the polls tomorrow, they would vote according to their convictions," the Senator said.

BOOS FOR DANIELS

When the Idahoan mentioned the name of Josephus Daniels, former Secretary of the Navy, the audience burst into "boos."

The Senator declared Herbert Hoover stood for the policies which "will benefit North Carolina." The audience cheered and many listeners shouted "Hoover."

"Does Gov. Smith stand for anything that North Carolina wants?" the Senator asked, and drew a roar of "nothing" from the audience. "Do you want Tammany Hall moved from New York to Washington: the repeal of prohibition and the letting down of the immigration bars? he continued. The audience that had packed into the auditorium roared "no," after each question of the Idahoan.

CAN'T BE BLENDED

Senator Borah took a fling at Gov. Smith in connection with the Democratic Presidential nominee's campaign trip through North Carolina. "You heard the Governor fully expound his views," Borah said. "Let me see, the Governor spoke about the blending of 'Dixie' and the 'Sidewalks of New York.' I do not think that can be done."

Discussing the various issues of the campaign, Senator Borah first urged that the campaign be based on the policies of the two candidates and not be directed at their personalities.

"There will be lots of personalities in the closing days of the campaign," he added, "but they will be campaign lies."

The Idahoan reiterated his assaults on the immigration and prohibition positions of Gov. Smith.

ON IMMIGRATION

"I am unalterably opposed to Gov. Smith's immigration proposal of eliminating the present quotas," he said.

"It would let down the bars of immigration for Southern Europe."

Saying that the "South was the leader of the great cause of prohibition," Senator Borah charged Gov. Smith and Tammany Hall with having injected the liquor issue into the campaign in contravention to the Democratic party's national platform, and several persons in the audience responded, "Away with them."

When he called on the voters to "stand by Moover, who will prevent the repeal of prohibition, there were cries of "We'll do it."

The World War food administration record of Hoover was "entirely friendly" to the American farmer, Mr. Borah said.

"ALWAYS FOR BEST"

"He was vigilant at all times," he continued. "To do the very best he could for the protection of the American producers and the record will bear any investigation which anyone desires to make.

"The more they search the record the more it appears conclusively that Mr. Hoover was constantly supporting the American producer and making every effort to secure him a fair profit."

Senator Borah's address was delivered to probably the largest number of auditors so far assembled during the campaign trip that he has made in the past three days through the "Solid South" States of Virginia and North Carolina. Three halls in the city were equipped with amplifiers to carry the speech from the auditorium to overflow audiences. His speech was broadcast over the nation by a coast-to-coast radio hook-up.

WILSON FIXED PRICE

Democratic opponents who charge that Hoover fixed the price of wheat in 1918 were declared by the Senator to be in error, because President Wilson "fixed the price upon the recommendation of a board made up in the majority by agriculturists."

Another Democratic charge that the Republican nominee "beat down" the prices of farm products after the armistice also was disclaimed by the Senator, who said cablegrams at that time of Senator Carter Glass of Virginia, then Secretary of the Treasury, declared that "Hoover was fighting to maintain prices."

Reviewing the agricultural situation after the armistice the Senator declared that Hoover opposed the proposal of the agricultural advisory committee in 1918 to fix a minimum price for wheat of $2.46 a bushel because it would not "be just to the consumers." He added that Hoover recommended to President Wilson the giving of a guaranteed price to the farmers after Secretary of Agriculture Houston also had opposed the fixed-price plan.

URGED INCREASE

Hoover was in favor, Borah said, of a thorough inquiry into the increased cost of production and of a price which would fully protect the farmer. Instead of recommending a decrease he recommended an increase if the increased cost of production required it. He added that President Wilson followed Hoover's recommendation and extended the war-time $2.25 a bushel guarantee to the 1919 crop.

Senator Borah left directly after the speech on his private car for Chattanooga, Tenn., where he will deliver a speech tomorrow.

INDIAN AID PLEDGED IF SMITH WINS

Nominee Answers Letter of Defense Association's President on Redmen

NEW YORK, Oct. 17. (AP)—Gov. Smith tonight made public through the Democratic National Committee a letter he wrote Dr. Haven Emerson, president of the American Indian Defense Association, regarding what were termed shocking conditions under which American Indians are living.

The Governor said he was shocked at conditions disclosed in a report made by the Institute for Government Research and believes immediate relief is essential. Dr. Emerson in calling the matter to the Governor's attention wrote that his letter was sent in interest of the "Indian subjects of the United States."

"We say subjects," Emerson said, "Because though in form the rights of citizenship are accorded them, they are living under a despotism such as is unknown elsewhere in the Western World and such that it is inconceivable that the American people would tolerate if the facts generally were known."

Emerson asked what Gov. Smith will do about the institution if elected. "The Gov. said, "Starvation of Indian children will come to an immediate end if I am elected," adding that in handling the Indian problem he would "consult with those who know most about their difficulties."

BALTIMORE, Oct. 17. (AP)—Following the ignoring of an order to cease distribution of political matter, several hundred pamphlets espousing the Republican cause and urging the election of Herbert Hoover were seized today from the W.C.T.U. booth of a local food show.

JANE ADDAMS FOR HOOVER

Famous Social Worker in Indorsement Asserts Republican Nominee Best Qualified

WASHINGTON, Oct. 17. (AP)—Jane Addams of Chicago, famous social worker, today indorsed Herbert Hoover for the Presidency. She called at the headquarters of the Republican Presidential candidate, and was a luncheon guest at the Hoover home.

Before calling on Mr. Hoover, Miss Addams visited headquarters of the Republican National Committee, where a statement on her behalf was given out in indorsement of the nominee. The statement says Mr. Hoover more than any one man in America is "qualified to represent the interests of the whole people" in the period of vast economic development the country is entering.

"If big business is increasingly directing the essential policies of our government," she says, "then it is of great moment that we should be able to depend upon the next President to keep these forces within social control."

REFERENCE TO FARMS

"No one whose childhood was spent in a farming community in the Mississippi Valley," she continued, "can fail to realize the deplorable conditions of thousands of farmers throughout this region. Yet every analysis shows the difficulty adheres not only in methods of production but also in the fact that the means for transportation and for marketing are inadequate and inefficient, the latter being quite beyond the farmers' control. Mr. Hoover draws attention to the fact that the business aspects of farming are as varied as the processes themselves. Once more his achievements in this field would be grounded upon conference and co-operation, doubtless including Board of Trade and railroad men as well as farmers."

PROHIBITION ENFORCEMENT

Miss Addams's statement says she believes further that Hoover could find an effective solution of the prohibition-enforcement situation.

"It is to be hoped," she concludes, "that Mr. Hoover will retain his traditional training to the point of enforcing the Prohibition Act without permitting Federal agents to act as gunmen. What the prohibition situation needs first of all is disarmament. We believe Herbert Hoover will apply to it that ability which he often displayed as an engineer when a situation required new processes to replace the old ones no longer capable of controlling conditions."

DEMOCRATS REPORT ON FINANCES

Receipts $2,753,192.04 Up to Last Monday and Outlay $2,555,353.18

WASHINGTON, Oct. 17. (AP)—The Democratic National Committee today reported receipts up to last Monday of $2,753,192.04 and expenditures of $2,555,353.18.

A statement filed with the House Campaign Funds Committee shows that from September 1, last, to the 15th inst., it has received $1,839,441.70, including a loan of $500,000 from the County Trust Company of New York. The committee reports a balance in hand on the 15th inst. of $197,838.86.

The contributions between September 30 and October 15 were listed for the first time in today's report, and these showed that John J. Raskob, chairman of the national committee, and W. F. Kenny, a New York contractor, active in support of Gov. Smith prior to the Democratic convention had each advanced a second contribution of $50,000 to the Democratic cause. This made them the largest individual contributors to date. Receipt of $60,000 from Thomas F. Ryan of Waynesboro, Va., also was shown in the report.

MARIJUANA CAUSES SENTENCE

CORCORAN, Oct. 17.—Juan Rios, on a plea of guilty of possession of marijuana, was today sentenced by City Judge J. E. Woods to pay a fine of $300 or 300 days in the County Jail.

ATHEIST CHIEF FOUND GUILTY

Arkansas Judge Fines Him for Breach of Peace

Fight on Anti-Evolution Law Brings Jail

Prisoner Will Serve Term to Register Protest

LITTLE ROCK (Ark.) Oct. 17. (AP) Found guilty of a charge of distributing printed material "calculated to provide a breach of the peace," Charles Smith of New York, president of the American Association for the Advancement of Atheism, was fined $25 and costs by Municipal Judge Harper here today.

Smith surrendered to city authorities to serve in jail in lieu of the fine imposed. He said he will serve out the fine as a protest against antiatheist laws in the State.

His arrest yesterday resulted from his activities in opposition to a proposed initiative act to prohibit teaching evolution in tax-supported schools of the State, which is to be voted on in the general election next month.

PROTESTS TWO LAWS

Smith announced he will serve out his fine in jail as a protest against two Arkansas laws, one denying an atheist the right to testify in court and the other denying an atheist the right to hold office in the State.

In addition to imposing the fine, Judge Harper ordered that atheistic literature and placards seized when Smith was arrested at newly opened atheistic headquarters be seized pending disposal of an appeal which Smith announced will be filed.

Smith also was charged with violating a city ordinance which prohibits use of the name of the Deity except in "veneration and worship," but this charge was dismissed and the "breach of peace" charge substituted.

CITIZENS COMPLAIN

Chief of Police Rotenberry submitted as evidence in the hearing two placards which he said were displayed at the atheist headquarters and testified he had received complaints from several citizens against Smith's activities and that some had threatened to wreck the atheist headquarters if it were not closed.

Smith asked to testify in his own behalf, but Judge Harper refused when Smith declined to take the usual oath in which a belief in God is indirectly affirmed.

DIVORCE STUDY WILL CONTINUE

Episcopal Commission Sets Forth Its Findings

School Instruction Urged as Aid to Marriage

Change in Family Ideals Held Factor in Unrest

WASHINGTON, Oct. 17. (AP)—The special commission of the Episcopal church, appointed three years ago to study the divorce problem, today was ordered continued by a unanimous vote of the bishops. The action followed presentation of a report of its survey to the general convention of the church, which recommended no changes in the Episcopal church divorce law.

The report, presented by Rt. Rev. Herman Page, bishop of Michigan and chairman of the commission, noted that the "greatest need is for more homes that are really animated by the ideals of Jesus Christ" and "for the development of such homes we require the right sort of training for marriage and the right sort of education in religion."

EDUCATION URGED

Suggested means of making the marriage ties happier and more likely to endure included courses of instruction in schools and colleges on the subject of human relationships, particularly marriage; a larger place for the marriage problems in the programs of the clergy, and special attention to marriage and divorce by social service commissions.

The problem is chiefly confined to those who are not under the direct influence of the church, the report said, summarizing answers to the questionnaires sent to 4000 clergyman of the Episcopal, Methodist, Congregational and Presbyterian faiths.

Asked the number of divorces among parishioners when both husband and wife were recognized regular attendants of the church, 20 per cent of the clergyman replied they did not remember any such divorces. The reports on the extent to which clergymen were consulted on marital problems was termed "disturbing," as only a small percentage were found to have gone to their pastors with their troubles.

SUMMARY GIVEN

The lengthy report, only a summary of which was read, set out a number of factors contributing to America's divorce rate which was termed the highest in the world. Among these were hasty marriages, sex tension and childless marriages. Another cause given was the change in ideals of family life.

"Since the Reformation the gospel of individualism has been given increased emphasis," the report said, "putting women on an equal status with men. Moreover, in the last few generations there has been a steady growth of the so-called romantic view of life which, in the minds of many men and women, would make marriage one long honeymoon. This makes pleasure the test of life rather than duty or suffering."

The laws of the Roman Catholic church which prohibit divorces under any circumstances were considered by the commission, which said that conditions in Roman Catholic countries are "by no means reassuring" and that studies of conditions in America revealed the desertion rate among Catholics as deplorably high.

UNIFORM AGE URGED

One suggested solution noted in the report is to make uniform the legal ages for marriage.

A resolution of "sincere approval" of the Kellogg-Briand peace pact was offered in the House of Deputies by Paul Little, delegate of the Sacramento (Cal.) diocese, and referred to a committee.

The Deputies received a report of the General Theological Seminary from Very Rev. H. E. Fosbroke, dean, who said the church has not taken seriously the question of theological training. The laity have given to general education, he said, but not to theology.

Bishop Charles P. Anderson of Chicago was elected vice-chairman of the church on the third ballot taken today. Other candidates were Bishops Alexander Mann of Pittsburgh and F. F. Reese of Georgia. Bishop Hugh L. Burleson of South Dakota was named assistant to the presiding bishop.

SINCLAIR'S OIL SUPPLY CHOKED

Interior Secretary Orders Delivery Stopped

Sargent's Opinion Results in Prompt Action

Government Will Insist on "Cash-Down" Bids

WASHINGTON, Oct. 17. (AP)—Secretary West today ordered delivery of government royalty oil to the Sinclair Crude Oil Purchasing Company from the Salt Creek field in Wyoming stopped at 7 o'clock next Monday morning after a ruling yesterday by Atty.-Gen. Sargent that the contracts negotiated by two former secretaries for thesale of the oil were invalid.

The order was issued within twenty-four hours after the Attorney-General had delivered his opinion that the contracts made by former Secretary Fall in December, 1923, and renewed for five additional years last February by former Secretary Work are not binding on the government because they were illegally executed.

EXPERT SENT OUT

Immediately upon issuing the order and notifying the lessees and operators in the Salt Creek field of his action, Secretary West dispatched Dr. George Otis Smith, director of the Geological Survey, to the Tulsa, (Okla.) headquarters of the Sinclair company to look after the payment for oil delivered this month.

Dr. Smith will represent the Interior Department in carrying out the final negotiations in connection with the termination of oil delivery.

ROYALTIES IN CASH

Secretary West announced that until the royalty oil is disposed of in accordance with the law the government will take its royalties from the sale of Salt Creek production in cash. This was interpreted to mean that any purchaser, including the Sinclair company, which could transport the oil from the wells in Tin Creek production area could buy the oil for cash on delivery.

The action today is preliminary to working out a plan for the sale of the royalty oil to the highest and best bidders after it is readvertised for sale, Secretary West said.

The question of how to handle the sale of the approximately 160,000 barrels of oil that has been produced recently each month from the area is being worked out by First Assistant Secretary Finney, and the chiefs of the Geological Survey, the General Land Office and the solicitor of the Interior Department.

YEAR'S PRODUCTION

The Geological Survey announced that during the current year ending August 31 the production from the Salt Creek field totaled 1,981,000 barrels for which the Sinclair company paid the government $1,634,000. It announced that the field reached its peak production in 1923 when 6,500,000 royalty barrels of oil were produced. The average price paid for the August production was $1.33 a barrel, according to the figures furnished by the Geological Survey.

During the five-year period before the renewal of the contract through the opinion granted by Fall, the Sinclair company paid the government $33,767,380 for 19,543,536 barrels of oil at an average price of $1.73 a barrel. While the Salt Creek field is not being drilled as much now as formerly, it is understood at the Interior Department that production has been greatly increased during the past few months.

SINCLAIR LEASE RENEWED IN LEGAL ADVISER'S FIAT

WASHINGTON, Oct. 17. (AP)—Dr. Hubert Work, chairman of the Republican National Committee, issued a statement late today declaring that criticism of his renewal of the Salt Creek purchasing contract is entirely "of campaign origin."

"The terms of the contract, as made before I took office, required this renewal after the expiration of the first five-year term," Dr. Work said. "I referred the matter in regular course to the solicitor for the Department of the Interior, my official legal adviser. He reported that that there was no choice but to renew the contract. As is customary, I acted upon this official advice.

"The Attorney-General, in his opinion of the 16th inst., thus recites the circumstances:

"The Sinclair Crude Oil Purchasing Company assumed the exercise its option on June 7, 1927, and pursuant thereto, the parties entered into a second five-year term of performance under the contract of January 1, 1928. It appears that when the Secretary of the Interior granted the renewal under the option, he did so upon the advice of the solicitor of the Interior Department, but the questions here discussed regarding the initial validity of the contract were not raised by the solicitor. Nor did they form the basis of any protest against renewal then pending before that department."

He also cited a letter by Senator Walsh of Montana upholding his action.

Acceptance of Churchill as Member Brings Outcry Against Unionist

LONDON, Oct. 17. (AP)—The Manchester branch of the Building Trade Workers' Union today sent to the executive council a demand that Secretary George Hicks resign because he accepted Winston Churchill, Chancellor of the Exchequer, as a member of the union.

The branch charged that Hicks had "brought upon upon the organization public contempt and ridicule" by permitting the entry of the Chancellor, whose only experience with the craft of bricklaying had been a little amateur building on his own estate.

BROADCASTERS ASK NEW RULE

Amendment of Radio Law by Congress Sought

Changes Declared Needed to Aid Public Interest

More Flexible Schedules in States Proposed

WASHINGTON, Oct. 17. (AP)—The amendment of the radio law of 1927 is urged in a resolution unanimously adopted by the National Association of Broadcasters at the annual convention here today.

The resolution which will be presented to Congress says:

"It is the sense of the legislative committee of the National Association of Broadcasters that the so-called Davis amendment of the radio law of 1927 imposes too drastic limitations upon the administrative authorities in control of radio. Under such limitations, broadcast facilities of the United States are subject to wastage by the inflexibility in the assignment of frequencies to States in different zones.

"These States by reason of geographical separation between the eastern and western portions of the United States and the differences in time could use these frequencies without causing interference. It is the recommendation of the association that the radio law be further amended by granting greater discretionary powers to the administrative authorities in assignment of frequencies, power and periods of operation, thereby permitting the Federal authorities in charge of broadcasting to better serve the public interest, convenience and necessity."

The association also recommended that several sections of the law be amended to state more specifically the rights of broadcasters.

William S. Hedges of station WMAQ, Chicago, was elected president; Joseph B. Groce of WEEI, Boston, first vice-president; J. W. Laughlin, KPO, San Francisco, second vice-president, and Alfred J. McCosker, WOR, Newark, treasurer.

Directors elected for three years are W. H. Heins, WHO, Des Moines; Maurice Clements, WSM, Nashville; Leon Levy, WCAU, Philadelphia; E. M. Spence, WRC, Atlantic City; H. A. Bellows, WCCO, Minneapolis; Earl C. Anthony, KFI, Los Angeles, was elected director for two years and the following for one year, Powell Crosley, WLW, Cincinnati; Lambdin Kay, WSB, Atlanta; J. G. Cummings, WOAI, San Antonio.

Russian Prince Wins Franc in Kerensky Suit

PARIS, Oct. 17. (AP)—Prince Felix Youssupoff today was awarded damages of one franc for defamation of his moral character in the columns of "D. N. Z." the Russian newspaper which Alexander Kerensky publishes here. The Prince originally asked for 500,000 francs but the newspaper apologized and published corrections on the objectionable articles dictated by the Prince.

The editor of the newspaper was fined 16 francs by the Criminal Court. Kerensky had refused to divulge the name of the writer of the article. Neither principal attended trial of the case.

Prince Youssupoff killed the Monk Rasputin who was of great influence during the last days of the Imperial Russian Court. Kerensky was a leader in the first Russian revolution.

Coolidge Will Visit Virginia Thanksgiving

WASHINGTON, Oct. 17. (AP)—President Coolidge will spend a brief vacation over Thanksgiving Day in the Blue Ridge Mountains of Virginia in the Swannanoa Country Club, about four miles from Waynesboro.

President Coolidge plans to leave Washington on November 28, next, to return the following Sunday, December 2.

The Swannanoa Country Club was offered to President Coolidge for a summer residence last spring, but was turned down in favor of Cedar Island lodge on the Brule. The board of governors of the club renewed their offer for a Thanksgiving holiday.

Witness Seized in Rum Scandal

PHILADELPHIA, Oct. 17. (AP)—The trial of Matthew Patterson, Republican ward leader and member of the State Legislature, and of Charles W. Schoenleber, suspended police captain, jointly charged with bribery, extortion and conspiracy in protecting bootleggers, was delayed today when the commonwealth arrested one of its own witnesses.

The witness, Francis J. McKeown, a saloonkeeper, was held in $5000 bail by Judge Gordon on a charge of perjury. Denial on the stand of his previous statements that he had paid protection money "to keep the cops away" lead to McKeown's arrest.

Judge Replies to ex-Warden

STOCKTON, Oct. 17. (AP)—Presiding Judge Buck of the San Joaquin county Superior Court took issue late yesterday with the statement of Frank Smith, former warden of San Quentin prison, that judges who sentence men to hang should see the hangings.

In considering whether to send Guy A. Fogg, murderer of his child wife, Carrie L. Fogg, to the gallows, Judge Buck declared that the wardens should see the corpses of the murdered. Sentencing of Fogg was continued to next Monday.

Quaker Police Politics Banned

PHILADELPHIA, Oct. 17. (AP)—The entire police force of Philadelphia today was ordered not only to get out of politics, but to have no association with any political leaders, high or low. Political rule of the police bureau, it is declared, is at an end. The announcement was made by Superintendent of Police Mills.

It caused amazement among the police captains and inspectors. When the present administration came into office the police districts were reorganized and it was understood generally among the police that it was done on a political basis and that every ward leader was permitted to have a captain named by him in his ward.

Wife's Bullets Hit Bystander

OAKLAND, Oct. 17. (AP)—Firing wildly as she chased a taxicab driven by her husband through the Oakland shopping district today, Mrs. Ilde Mayhew wounded Lawrence L. Taylor, a pedestrian.

Taylor, a former newspaper man, was crossing the street when the taxi of Charles Mayhew turned the corner. Running after the car was Mrs. Mayhew, brandishing a pistol. She fired five shots in the direction of the taxi, one of the bullets ricocheting from the sidewalk and striking Taylor in the ankle.

The injured man grabbed Mrs. Mayhew, disarmed her, and held her for police. She told authorities her husband had been going with other women.

Nicaragua Will Have Heavy Vote

MANAGUA (Nicaragua) Oct. 17. (AP)—Owing to the heavy registration for the November Presidential election, the national board of elections today ordered eighty additional voting precincts to be established throughout Nicaragua. This is an increase of 25 per cent over the original number.

The United States electoral officials said there is no evidence of the attempted registration of repeaters except a few dozen cases. Plans adopted to mark each voter with a harmless chemical stain are expected to weed out any cases of repeating which may have escaped the attention of watchers during registration.

"Its golden voice is my inspiration"

by Rosa Ponselle

Soprano, Metropolitan Opera Company

"Wherever I sing—at home, on the Metropolitan stage, on the concert platform—the Knabe sings with me. Always its golden voice is an inspiration, urging me to do a little better than my best. And always it seems instinctively to sense the mood of my song, and to express that emotion in perfect harmony with me."

The same richly mellow, humanly sympathetic tone that has endeared the Knabe to the world's greatest singers, that has made it the official piano of the Metropolitan Opera Company, and the choice of such famous pianists as Rosenthal and Orloff—this same quality makes the Knabe the ideal piano for your home. Think of the distinction—the joy—it will bring! Let us discuss the replacement of your old—possibly out-of-date piano with a new Knabe. The 10% down payment means that the initial cost can be as little as $97.50. Years to pay the balance. Prices $975 to $2600—with the Ampico, $1900 to $4600. Come in today!

On SHOPPING for a GAS RANGE

Diogenes in search of his honest man had an easy job of it, compared to the modern homemaker who has "shopped around" for a "best value" in a gas range. Hers is a boring pursuit at best. Ask any woman who has wandered from store to store, heard dozens of conflicting claims as to the superiority of this, that and the other make, only to be the more confused and discouraged in the end.

. . . she has shopped at Barker Bros., where buying a range is no more a "fest" than buying any other household need. Because, here, conveniently assembled on one floor — the 7th — are 125 models of four makes famous for their dependable construction and performance. Intelligent salespeople can help her to select quickly just the right type and size range for her cooking needs — at the price she wants to pay, whether $20 or any amount to $600!

Barker Bros.' responsibility does not end with the sale. Our own service men connect the range and make all necessary adjustments—and our domestic science expert comes to the home and demonstrates how one may get the best results from it.

Did you know . . .

. . . that the problem of paying for a handsome, efficient new range in place of an old one past its efficiency, is no problem at all, when you use Barker Bros.' "budget" plan — a small payment now, and convenient monthly payments? And your old range will be taken as part payment on the new one! Come in and visit the department!

FOES OF CANCER GIVE NEW HOPES

Six Famed Experts Address Public Health Group

Ravages of Malady in Land 125,000 Annually

Mayo Urges Clinics Placed in Western Areas

CHICAGO, Oct. 17. (Exclusive)—Cancer kills 125,000 Americans a year.

This dread malady was exposed to public view in Chicago today, and by six authorities counted among the most celebrated cancer experts in America.

They told the way to detect cancer early and the way to cure or check it in this early stage.

But above all, they told the ways of preventing cancer and in this message they made an appeal to the nation.

The six who were led in public discussion by Dr. Charles Mayo, noted surgeon, head of the famous Rochester (Minn.) clinic, were brought together by Dr. Herman N. Bundesen, who induced them to address the members of the American Public Health Association, of which Dr. Bundeson is president. The association is holding its fifty-seventh annual convention here.

Aside from the knowledge of cancer acquired by those at the meeting there was a definite step suggested to check the disease, the formation of cancer clinics in the Middle West and the West. To these clinics when formed will be attracted all the problems, all the treatments, all the statistics, all the researches, all the results having to do with cancer.

CLINIC NETWORK URGED

There now are clinics in New York, in Boston and a few other cities, Dr. Mayo said, and they have proved of inestimable value. There should be a network of them, with their efforts all co-ordinated throughout the nation, the surgeon declared, and by this means he held out the eventual hope for the overcoming of cancer.

The six cancer experts who addressed the meeting are: Dr. Mayo, Dr. Joseph C. Bloodgood, professor of surgery, Johns Hopkins University; Dr. William Carpenter McCarthy, pathologist of the Mayo clinic; Surgeon-General Hugh S. Cumming of the United States Public Health Service; Dr. Maude Slye, associate professor of pathology, University of Chicago, and Dr. George A. Soper, managing director of the American Society for the Control of Cancer.

The specialists held that a community informed of the nature and danger of cancer will have fewer hopeless cases of the disease and, consequently, fewer deaths. An enlightened people now is the greatest hope against cancer, it was stated.

MAYO EXPRESSES HOPE

Dr. Mayo said that some day, maybe soon, maybe many years hence, a positive cure for cancer may be discovered.

"Heredity is tremendously influential in the causes of death," Dr. Mayo continued. "We find that 65 per cent of all humans die of diseases which killed a strain of their ancestors. Put conversely, we can tell by a study of a man's ancestors, what he will die of—again with 65 per cent of success.

"By breeding plants and animals we can positively lower or raise resistance to disease. Interest may some day in the growth of our civilization, lead to the scientific breeding of humans and then we shall be able to wither away the spectre of cancer."

The famous surgeon opened his address by acknowledging what he termed "a debt owed by the medical profession to the newspapers of America."

"Cancer publicity," he said, "has saved many lives. It has sent the victims of this disease to seek medical advice and attention before it became too late to save them.

BLOODGOOD SPEAKS

"What to do about cancer" was delivered by Dr. Bloodgood, termed by Dr. Mayo as one of America's greatest cancer surgeons. "For the individuals," said Dr. Bloodgood, "there are definite preventive measures. This is the important thing to remember: cancer starts from things which are not cancer. Moles, birthmarks and other skin signs should be examined for cancerous tendencies and then removed.

"Stomach pains should send a patient to an X-ray laboratory for a cancer search. Sores on the tongue or in the mouth should be given the closest examination if they do not heal quickly.

"Ulcers of the teeth may lead to cancer. Nipple irritations should never be disregarded if they are persistent, for they lead to the common forms of breast cancer.

CUMMING'S DISCUSSION

"Lumps anywhere on the body should be explored surgically for cancer and removed. A persistent pain in the knee should lead to a search for cancer.

"Oral hygiene is a necessary preventive measure in cancer, for tobacco deposits have been known to bring cancer."

Gen. Cumming discussed the relation of cancer to the social status of its victims. It is more highly prevalent among the working classes than the upper strata of the social structure, he said.

BUSHMAN IN COURT ON ALIMONY PLEA

BALTIMORE, Oct. 17. (AP)—Francis X. Bushman, motion-picture actor, appeared in Circuit Court at Towson today in answer to a petition filed by his first wife, Mrs. Josephine Bushman, asserting that he is $60,000 in arrears in payments for alimony and for support of their children. A conference between Bushman's attorney and Judge Grason, who ordered the actor's appearance to show cause why he should not be held in contempt, resulted in agreement for filing of a formal answer at a later date.

women love it as an astringent

So many women have proved the value of Listerine as an astringent that we are glad to pass the good word along.

The cost of Listerine, compared to most astringents, is very low, yet its effectiveness you would go a long way before finding its equal, especially for oily skins. Gently it contracts open pores, tightens sagging muscles, and leaves the face with a delightful sense of coolness.

If for no other reason than its stimulating effect upon the skin, you will be delighted with Listerine. And then remember how much it saves you!

SMITH STARTS ILLINOIS DRIVE

Arrival in Chicago Marked by Demonstrations

Nominee Declares Self Sure of Border's Votes

Candidate Redefines Plan for Tariff Change

CHICAGO, Oct. 17. (AP)—The special train bearing Gov. Smith, Democratic candidate for the Presidency, arrived at the Union Station in Chicago at 10 o'clock p.m. tonight. A large crowd, which had been waiting for more than an hour, cheered as the nominee appeared.

The Governor smiled broadly as he viewed the crowds. "Hello, boys, how are you?" he shouted above the roar of the crowd and the booming of flash guns.

When Mrs. Smith followed her husband down the steps from the railroad car, the official welcoming committee presented her with a huge bouquet of flowers. Mr. and Mrs. Smith proceeded into the station.

ARDENTLY CHEERED

For five minutes the party was held practically motionless in the center of the station; then the police escorted it up a stairway in view of the waiting-room.

There Gov. Smith paused, turned, and waved his brown derby while cheers went up again. The demonstration lasted another five minutes.

For two full days and a part of a third the Democratic nominee will stay in Chicago for conferences with party chieftains in the State which, with twenty-nine electoral votes, is exceeded only by New York and Pennsylvania as a political prize.

Normally Illinois is a Republican stronghold. Four years ago it registered 1,453,221 votes for Coolidge to 576,975 for Davis, and the combined vote of Davis and La Follette fell 444,319 votes short of that received by the Republican candidate. Nevertheless, the Democrats are out to change, if, possible, its political status.

BUSY SCHEDULE

The Governor's schedule today included stops at Alton, Springfield and Joliet on the way to this Lake Michigan city. The Congress Hotel will be his headquarters here until his departure for Albany, N. Y., Saturday morning.

His only formal speech in the State will be given Friday night at the One Hundred and Thirty-first National Guard Armory, from which a radio hook-up again will carry his voice out over the nation. He has not disclosed the subject for that address.

While this speech is expected to be the last the Presidential nominee will deliver in midwest territory during the campaign, the Democrats are known to have under consideration a plan to bring Senator Robinson, the party's Vice-Presidential nominee, into this section during the week preceding the election.

SATISFIED WITH TOUR

On his way to Chicago, the Governor at a press conference in the club car of his train was asked his views concerning his swing through the northern tier of southern States and the border States of Kentucky and Missouri.

"I think they are all right," he said, and to another question as to whether he thought he would carry the States he had been through he replied:

"Yes, I am satisfied of it. I am entirely satisfied that they are all right."

The nominee also was asked if he thought his rival for the Presidency, Herbert Hoover, in his address at Boston had intended his remarks on the tariff to apply to the Governor's tariff speech at Louisville.

"Of course, the only thing you can say about it," the candidate answered, "is that the speech (Hoover's) was apparently written long before I made my Louisville speech."

After further questioning, the Governor added that if Mr. Hoover had been referring to his address he "does not understand it." The nominee also was asked what he thought Mr. Hoover had been talking about.

TARIFF REJOINDERS

"I do not know," was the answer. "He seems to think, or must have thought that I was going to say I believe the fixation of schedules ought to be taken from the Congress and lodged with the Tariff Commission but no such thing was said. No such position was taken by me. I distinctly said that the Tariff Commission was to provide the information and the basis for scientific tariff making.

"Senator Moses said, 'If Gov. Smith's program can possibly be adopted, it would mean the turning over of the constitutional power of Congress to a tariff commission.'

"Nothing could be further from the truth than that. Moses does not understand it. I took no other position than that taken by Taft twenty years ago and by Wilson twelve years ago."

The Governor added that Senator Moses was "obviously 100 per cent off the track," and that the Democratic party took two positions on the tariff. First, he said, that there would be no general revision of the tariff.

TWO POSITIONS

"This means there is to be no bill introduced in Congress generally revising the whole tariff," he continued, "so that all the special and favored interests can come and logroll and trade and scratch backs to get what they want.

"Second, specific changes must be made in specific schedules only after thorough investigation and fact-finding by a body properly equipped to get the facts."

The Governor was asked if the revision would be done by Congress.

"Why, of course," he declared. "There is no suggestion that it will be anything else."

The Democratic candidate said he had no comment on Attorney-General Sargent's decision on the Salt Creek lease but indicated he might have something to say about it later.

HOOVERITES RESPOND TO FUNDS PLEA

All Southern California Rallies to Appeal Made for Contributions

Enthusiastic response to the appeal of the Southern California Hoover Associates for small contributions to the campaign for the Republican nominee for the Presidency was reported yesterday by Henry O. Wheeler, chairman of the organization.

Contributions are being received not alone from Los Angeles, but from many other cities and towns of the Southland, Mr. Wheeler said.

"We are asking that every citizen supporting Mr. Hoover's candidacy contribute some amount, no matter how small, to the necessary expenses of the campaign," Mr. Wheeler said. "Mr. Hoover is California's own candidate, and we feel that it should be a matter of pride with Californians and westerners to aid the great cause.

"The movement for small contributions has the approval of Mr. Hoover."

Local chairmen appointed by Chairman Wheeler to direct the drive outside Los Angeles follow:

Judge Farrell, Alhambra; Tom McFadden, Anaheim; Harvey Johnson, Banning; Dr. Guy Bogg, Beaumont; Claire B. Thompson, Bellflower; Harrison Lewis, Beverly Hills; A. L. Sebille, Brawley; Frank Mason, Brea; William Carroll, Burbank; Jesse Sabra, Calipatria; R. A. Condee, Chino; Myron F. Powell, Claremont; Elmo Veach, Corona; Hogan Wilbert, Covina; Dewey R. HOOVER GREETS PLUCKY FLYERS

Hassell and Cramer Lauded by Nominee

Graf Zeppelin Crew Next to Call on Candidate

Aspirant Working on Speech for New York Delivery

WASHINGTON, Oct. 17. (AP)—Herbert Hoover interrupted his work on the Madison Square Garden address today to greet Bert Hassell and Parker Cramer, the two aviators whose attempted flight from Rockford, Ill., to Stockholm, Sweden, ended when they were forced to land in Greenland.

"I am very glad to have the privilege of meeting you—of meeting men who have come through a great adventure with great courage and success and we certainly welcome you back to the United States," the nominee said to them. "We are all proud of you and of all the citizens in our country who come from the same blood. It is quite appropos for you to be here. I appreciate your coming to call on me."

FAMILIES PRESENT

The two flyers were accompanied by Assistant Secretary William P. MacCracken of the Department of Commerce, who later escorted them to the White House. Other members of the party were Mrs. Hassell and her two children; Mrs. Fanny Cramer of Clario, Pa., mother of the aviator; Mayor Burt M. Allen of Rockford, Ill., and C. E. Patrick, secretary of the Rockford Chamber of Commerce.

It became known during the day that members of the crew of the Graf Zeppelin would visit the candidate on Friday morning after they have breakfasted at the White House with President Coolidge.

While the nominee was devoting his attention to plans for the New York speech, which will be his last one of the campaign east of the Mississippi, some thought also was being given to his forthcoming return trip across the continent to his home at Palo Alto, Cal., where he will vote.

RADIO SPEECH LAST

This trip during the closing days of the campaign will see the delivery of his last speech but one of the drive for the Presidency. He will conclude the campaign in a radio speech on the night before election, but the address that he will make on his cross-country swing is one from which his advisers are expecting much.

St. Louis is being regarded seriously as a site for the delivery of this final effort to capture the farm belt vote, although strong claims have been advanced in behalf of Milwaukee, Chicago and Minneapolis.

A report brought to the Republican National Committee today from Missouri said that the extremely heavy registration in Republican areas of that State, especially among women voters, was giving leaders renewed hope that the Hoover-Curtis ticket would garner the State's electoral vote.

HOOVER PROVEN GOOD AMERICAN

Whispered Tales of British Leanings Refuted

State Department Certifies Citizenship Unsmirched

Chairman Work Spikes Guns of Democratic Foes

WASHINGTON, Oct. 17. (AP)—Simultaneously with the formal declaration by the State Department that Herbert Hoover has always been an American citizen, Chairman Work of the Republican National Committee today charged that the Republican Presidential nominee "has been the victim of one of the most unjust whispering campaigns in the history of Presidential contests."

Chairman Work charged that a fund has been raised by the proponents of the whispering campaign to misrepresent Mr. Hoover through the publication of photographs of English voters' rolls listing the nominee's name. He declared that this is "an outrage on Mr. Hoover and a fraud on the American people," because, he said, Mr. Hoover never applied for British citizenship, was never a British citizen, never voted or attempted to vote in England and was never entitled to a vote at the British polls because he was an American citizen.

WHISPERS CURRENT

The whispering campaign has been to the effect that Mr. Hoover was at one time a British citizen or applied for British citizenship, Chairman Work said, adding that he denounced "all statements to that effect" as false and all purported copies of such applications as forgeries. For some time, he continued, he had in his possession a certificate from the proper authorities in Great Britain certifying that no application "of this character or a similar character was ever considered or presented."

The formal statement issued by the State Department over the signature of Assistant Secretary W. R. Castle, Jr., declared that when Mr. Hoover was abroad he maintained his residence in the United States and that "there never has been the slightest question of Mr. Hoover's American citizenship."

OLD CALUMNY

As long ago as 1920 the State Department heard a rumor that at one time Mr. Hoover applied for British citizenship, the statement continued. The department made careful inquiries at the time and it was proved to the entire satisfaction of the Department that the rumor had no basis, Mr. Castle wrote.

"As a result of a whispering campaign with regard to Mr. Hoover's citizenship that has been in course of progress for some time," Chairman Work said, "an important newspaper requested the State Department for information on this subject, in reply to which the State Department has today issued the following:

"My dear sir,

"I understand that the paper which you represent has asked you to secure from the Department a record of the dates, if any, when Mr. Hoover registered at the American Consulate in London.

NOT COMPULSORY

"You will realize, of course, that registration of American citizens abroad was never made compulsory by law. There was, however, some discussion of the interpretation of the Act of Congress of March 2, 1907, which resulted in a circular instruction from the Department of State to consular officers requiring registration of American citizens resident abroad.

"This was based on an executive order of April 8, 1907, signed by President Roosevelt, which stated that 'principal consular officers should keep at their offices a register of all American citizens residing in their several districts and will, therefore, make it known that such a register is kept and invite all resident Americans to cause their names to be entered therein.' In consequence of this circular, which incorporated the executive order above quoted, consuls warned American citizens of the desirability of registration and opened registers therefor.

REGISTERED AS AMERICAN

"Mr. Hoover registered at the American Consulate in London in 1908. He gave his permanent residence as in the United States. At the bottom of the registration blank he wrote: 'I have, in the practice of my profession, journeyed abroad to various countries from the United States for eleven years.' This registration was for an unlimited period and there was, therefore, no necessity for subsequent registration.

"Before the war passports were not required in any countries except Russia and Turkey. In 1909 Mr. Hoover applied for a passport to go to Russia. The passport was given him without question as a result of the proof always required by the Department of State of an applicant for a passport that he is an American citizen. In 1911 Mr. Hoover secured another passport and again in 1913, when he was compelled to go to Russia, he was issued still a third passport. Further passports were issued to him in 1915, 1916 and in 1918.

RESIDENCE ESTABLISHED

"In all applications for passports, as well as in the original registration at the Consulate, Mr. Hoover established the United States as his permanent residence. In every application he signed the usual form, that he intended to return to the United States with the purpose of residing and performing the duties of citizenship. There never has been the slightest question of Mr. Hoover's American citizenship.

"I might add, although it does not bear directly on the question of citizenship, which I take it was the reason for your inquiry, that as long ago as 1920 the department heard a rumor that at one time in his career Mr. Hoover had applied for British citizenship. Merely of passing interest, I may say that careful inquiries were made at the time and it was proved to the entire satisfaction of the department that this rumor had no basis.

"Sincerely yours,

"W. R. CASTLE, JR."

WORK'S CHALLENGE

"I wish as chairman of the Republican National Committee," Mr. Work said, "to go further than this and to publicly denounce this whispering campaign and trust that the Democratic National Committee will join with me in this repudiation. For nearly two years Mr. Hoover has been the victim of one of the most unjust whispering campaigns in the history of Presidential contests. He has consistently borne the brunt of all the unfair and unfounded charges that from time to time have been conjured up by his opponents. He has met them with the dignified silence and contempt they deserve. But in view of the publication by the State Department I wish once and for all to bring this to an end.

"These whispers have comprised various accounts to the effect that Mr. Hoover was at one time a British citizen or had appalled for British citizenship.

WHISPERS FALSE

"I wish to announce now that all statements to that effect are false and all purported copies of such applications are forgeries. In corroboration of the statement issued today I have had for some time in my possession a certificate from the proper authorities in Great Britain certifying that no application of this character or a similar character was ever even considered or presented. Every man who has known Mr. Hoover over these years has known his life-long and almost fanatical devotion to his own country.

"Another phase of these whispers is to the effect that Mr. Hoover voted in a British election. This is equally untrue. He never voted or tried to vote. But there is in course of preparation an attempt to deceive the American people on this point, which necessitates that I should further amplify it.

LISTED AS TAXPAYER

"Mr. Hoover's name appeared on two or three occasions during a period from 1909 to 1914 on a printed register of persons entitled to vote in a precinct where he rented a house near London and upon which he paid taxes. Anyone who rents a house in England pays taxes. The voting register in England is not a personal registration, as it is in this country, but the voting roll is made up by a return from the taxing authorities to the election authorities, informing them of the names of taxpayers, there being a tax requirement for a voter in that country.

"But all taxpayers are not entitled to vote in England, any more than in this country. There is no notification of persons that they are on the roll and unless they are interested enough to inquire their names continue on the roll indefinitely, subject to test if attempt is made to vote.

VOTE CANARD DENIED

"As I have said, Mr. Hoover never voted. He never attempted to vote. He was never entitled to vote. He would have been subject to drastic penalties if he had voted. At that very time, as shown by the State Department statement, Mr. Hoover was fully maintaining his American citizenship. Moreover, during the whole of the period referred to Mr. Hoover maintained his home at Stanford University and San Francisco, where he or his family resided a considerable part of each year and where his children were educated.

"Mr. Hoover was not aware until some short time ago that his name even appeared on the roll. He became aware of this fact only by being informed of search being made of local records in England by representatives of American detective agencies and opposition newspapers endeavoring to find something which they could launch in this campaign. I am informed that they have taken photographs of these rolls and they propose to produce them in the United States. They have raised a fund of money for their circulation. To circulate this material is misrepresentation and slander. It is an outrage on Mr. Hoover and a fraud on the American people."

Woman Scores Smith's Record as Tammanyite

STATE COLLEGE (N. M.) Oct. 17. (AP)—Declaring that Gov. Smith is "the tail, if not the teeth and claws, of the Tammany Tiger," Mrs. Alexander Thompson of Portland, Or., a Democrat opposing the candidacy of Gov. Smith, brought her speaking tour of New Mexico to a close here last night.

Mrs. Thompson charged that Gov. Smith was "nominated by a well-oiled machine which rode over the minority at Houston," and declared that Smith is a "product of Tammany, which organization has been an outrage to Democratic principles."

She charged that "Smith was trained by Tammany and has been obeying Tammany for more than thirty years."

Mrs. Thompson concluded her talk with an eulogy of Herbert Hoover, saying that "never has our nation offered a man more fitted for the Presidency."

MINERS' LEADER LAUDS HOOVER

John L. Lewis Tells Why G.O.P. Must Win

Declares Standard Bearer Necessary to Nation

Shows Why Union Labor and Industry Need Him

NEW YORK, Oct. 17. (AP)—The plea that unprecedented conditions render it imperative "from the standpoint of organized labor as well as business and industry that Herbert Hoover should be elected," was made here tonight by John L. Lewis, president of the United Mine Workers in a radio address.

"We are in the midst of a new industrial revolution which has become the marvel of the civilized world," Lewis said. "The astounding basis of procedure underlying this new development has been that prices should be lowered to the consumer, reasonable margins of profit maintained for the producer and at the same time the wages of labor should be indeterminately increased in accordance with the principle of increased productive efficiency."

He discussed conditions during and after the war, and declared no changes in theory or practice were developed "until after the industrial and financial breakdown of 1920-1921, and the resultant period of depression."

"It was the effort to revive the prostrated industry and trade of the country," he declared, "that finally led to the new economic order through which the country has been passing since the year 1923.

"The turning point came early in 1923 when Secretary of Commerce Herbert Hoover publicly and unequivocally condemned the fallacy of assuming that pre-war standards of living were normal standards. On the contrary, he vigorously stated that post-war normal standards were vastly different and future prosperity in turn was contingent upon still further improving these living standards.

"As a result of the influence of these revolutionary suggestions the present era of unprecedented prosperity was begun and developed. Industrial leaders and financiers, as well as heads of labor organizations, accepted the enlightened and far-seeing attitude of Secretary of Commerce Hoover. The new proposals were enthusiastically applied.

"So far as organized labor is concerned, a general, practical method must be worked out for guaranteeing to labor a definite equitable participation in the increased productive efficiency of industry.

"It is at this point that the vital needs of Mr. Hoover's election to the Presidency at the present time becomes clearly apparent. Labor and industry require his services and genius for constructive, industrial statesmanship."

Secretary Addresses Women at St. Paul Rally

Nominee Declared Eminently Qualified for Job

Republican Record Cited in Plea for Ticket

ST. PAUL, Oct. 17. (AP)—Secretary of State Kellogg today paid tribute to Herbert Hoover, Republican Presidential nominee in an address before the Ramsey County Women's Republican Club. Secretary Kellogg is at his home here for a brief visit.

Praising the Republican Presidential candidate as "exceedingly able, conscientious and high minded," Secretary Kellogg said that during the World War Hoover had the confidence of Democrats and Republicans alike.

He credited Hoover with having "knowledge and capacity" to deal with economic problems facing the country. The Secretary of State said he has nothing against Gov. Smith, "but I ask you if there is any reason why he should be preferred to a man of the training, experience and vision of Hoover, the Republican candidate."

Secretary Kellogg briefly recounted the chief accomplishments of the Coolidge administration, pointing to tax reduction, governmental economy and reduction of the public debt. No country that engaged in the World War, he said, has been more prosperous and happy or has made more progress than the United States.

NEWS OF SOUTHERN COUNTIES

VENTURA FACES WATER FAMINE

Daily City Supply Less Than Usual Usage

Early Rains Will Prevent Annoying Shortage

Commercial Organizations Asked to Reduce Needs

VENTURA, Oct. 17.—With Ventura's water supply lower by thirty miner's inches today than it was a week ago, Water Superintendent Myles Robinson today issued an order that all lawn sprinkling must be done between the hours of 7 and 11 p.m. He also asked the Griffith Company, not to sprinkle the torn up streets in the east end, notwithstanding the inconvenience of a little dust. Unless there is rain within the next few weeks, Ventura will be reduced to a policy of strict conservation in the use of all water. The city ordinarily uses 400 or more miner's inches of water daily. At the present time there is available only about 250 miner's inches a day, Robinson said.

The oil companies operating on the Rincon have been asked to find an auxiliary source of supply for their water. Robinson was to confer with their superintendents today to see how much this supply could be curtailed without causing the companies to shut down their operations.

At present, the oil companies have been taking about 2,250,000 gallons of water a month for their Rincon operations and 2,000,000 gallons daily for Ventura avenue. The Rincon wells being the newest, would be the first to be cut down, Robinson said.

At the same time it appeared probable that the City Council would meet with the Mound Water Company, to see if arrangements could be made for a temporary supply of water from the Mound system, which Robinson feels might be able to deliver the city 1000 miner's inches daily.

As emergency measures the city may be forced to drill more wells in the Ventura River. If that is not sufficient and the low level of the underground reservoir in the watershed makes that impossible, the drilling of wells in the Santa Clara River Valley may be employed as the answer to the question.

There is good water east of the city but it has been the policy of the water department to draw on the Casitas supply because it could be obtained by gravity flow, whereas water from wells east of the city would require pumping.

Population of San Bernardino Put at 44,272

SAN BERNARDINO, Oct. 17.—Indicative of the rapidity of this community's growth since 1920, a report just made public by the Eberle Economic Service of Los Angeles shows an increase of almost 140 per cent in population here in less than eight years' time.

In 1920, this city had a population of 18,721 and today the Eberle economists estimate that 44,272 persons reside here. The report points out that few cities in Southern California outside of Metropolitan Los Angeles have shown such a rapid development. The population of San Bernardino county in 1920 was 73,401 and is computed today as approximately 140,000, it is shown. In 1900 this city had a population of 6150.

The population growth of the cities of Riverside and Redlands also is covered in the Eberle report, which states that each of these communities has experienced a population increase of approximately 70 per cent since 1920. The city population of Riverside increased from 19,341 in 1920 to 32,685, while the county of Riverside increased from 50,297 to about 84,000 in the same period. Redlands has 16,310 residents at present as compared with 9871 in 1920.

INDIANS IMITATE FATHERS

Prepare Scenery and Properties for Production of Desert Play

PALM SPRINGS, Oct. 17.—Visitors who make the pilgrimage to this community on Saturday, November 3, for the opening of the picturesque desert play, "Tahquitz," are to see something new in the way of elaborate settings and properties through arrangements just made by those staging the community pageant spectacle with Max Parker of the First National studios in Burbank.

The committee of prominent citizens sponsoring the drama, based on one of the most fascinating of the Indian legends of the region, today commissioned Parker to direct a crew of Indians from the near-by reservation who will duplicate the handicraft of their ancestors in fabricating the implements, weapons and masks used in the spectacular play.

Under Parker's supervision, the reservation Indians also will build a village of ramadas, or tent houses woven entirely of reeds and grasses exactly as their forefathers made them centuries ago, and unlike anything heretofore presented, as the setting for some of the principal scenes of the production.

Garnet Holme, pageant director of the United States National Parks Service, author of "Tahquitz," who is supervising the production, visited Hollywood today to interview leading dramatic stars sought to head the cast of townspeople who have played principal roles in the drama year after year in the manner of the Passion Play of Oberammergau.

With the formal opening of the Desert Inn, famous resort, on the 12th inst., signaling the beginning of the winter season here, John Chaffey, secretary of the Chamber of Commerce, reports that preparations are being made to accommodate the greatest throngs of visitors in the history of the desert oasis for the season, reaching its height during the presentation of the desert play.

Santa Fe Train Iniures Man as His Car Stalls

MONROVIA, Oct. 17.—Struck by a westbound Santa Fe train when his car stalled on the tracks at the Mayflower avenue crossing, Frank M. Sugarman, 45 years of age, of 1523 Marsden street, Los Angeles, sustained injuries which are expected to prove fatal, according to Chief of Police Frank Scott.

Sugarman was rushed by ambulance to the Monrovia hospital where examination reveal both hips and leg broken and fractured skull, besides serious bruises and cuts.

He was thrown clear of his car and his body was found approximately eighty feet from the crossing.

The man was unconscious when found by J. M. Love, engineer of the train; R. B. Scott, fireman and Sammy Kidd, conductor. Mrs. W. M. Alexander of 1517 South Mayflower avenue, an eyewitness to the accident, also rushed to the man's aid. The car, dragged along the tracks for seventy feet, was completely demolished.

According to Mrs. Alexander's story to Chief Scott, Sugarman encountered motor trouble as he approached the crossing and the engine stalled while he was on the tracks. Chief Scott notified the man's family in Los Angeles.

Motor Cops in Private Room

SAN DIEGO, Oct. 17.—Traffic bureau "business" in the future will be transacted behind "four walls," according to plans being put into execution at central police headquarters at present. One large room which formerly was used for the taking of traffic reports and the transaction of other affairs pertaining to traffic is being split into three rooms.

One of the rooms will be used as a private office by Motorcycle Sergeant Mike Neely, who submitted the floor plan to Chief Doran; another will be occupied by Captain of Police Arthur Hill, while the third will be utilized as a squad room for the motor patrol.

The new arrangement is expected to prove advantageous for the transaction of business more privately and the greater seclusion of public reports.

The squad room which will be used as the recreation center for the twenty-nine officers attached to the motorcycle and automobile detail, is to be a boon to various activities at central headquarters.

Cloyd Snyder, president of the organization, stated that although the principal object of the group is to construct the new temple, the association will also conduct general Masonic business.

Until the site has been selected, no definite plans as to architecture will be made, but the directors declare that the structure will be one of the finest in the city. A budget of $100,000 was set aside for the building fund, land and furnishings.

The following directors of the association were elected last night: Clyde M. Church, L. J. Mygatt, Harold Jackson, Albert Kuhlman, W. B. Lewis, Edward Barden, W. C. Snyder, Franklin Paden, Henry C. Vier, Hiram Hood, W. B. Foster and Kenneth Hawkins.

Cripple Since Babyhood, Boy Learns to Walk

VENTURA, Oct. 17.—Manuel Romero, 18-year-old Ventura boy who spent sixteen years on crutches, is walking today as a result of the new State law in behalf on crippled children, which was called into use for the first time in this county to aid him.

When he was two years old he was stricken with infantile paralysis and his leg was crippled at the hip No hope was held for the use of the leg and from his earliest walking days he hobbled about on crutches. Then the State last year passed a bill offering aid to afflicted children.

Using this law, Mary Grogan of the Catholic Welfare Association for Ventura county, took Manuel into Los Angeles in February where an orthopedic surgeon operated on the boy's hip. For months the child lay in casts and braces and it was only this week that the doctor told him he would have a movable hip and be able to walk like other boys.

'Practice Trip' to Altar Leads to Divorce Court

SANTA ANA, Oct. 17.—Edith R. Richards went to Tia Juana with Alfred Richards last September 11 and they were married by Francisco L. Mirando, judge of civil affairs at the Mexican town. Then they drove to the bride's home in Los Angeles, where she was all prepared to introduce her new husband to the family.

But he got out of the car and said: "I never intended to live with you. I just thought it would be a joke to be able to call myself a married man. Goodbye." And she hasn't seen him since.

Such is the complaint filed today in Superior Court by Mrs. Richards, through Attorney H. P. Delongy, of Orange, in seeking annulment of the marriage.

Ventura Seeks Stop for Writ

VENTURA, Oct. 17.—Dist.-Atty. James Hollingsworth today filed a complaint for Ventura county against Sheriff Robert E. Clark, asking the Superior Court to restrain him from serving the writ of execution filed yesterday by Judge Robert M. Clarke for Jasper Barry in a desperate effort to get control of $57,792.99 now deposited in the Home Savings Bank here. The money is claimed by Barry as commissions on personal property tax collections.

Hollingsworth in his complaint states that the county will be irreparably injured if this writ is served and says further that the county's appeal of the Barry case to the Supreme Court will be without avail if this writ is served and that the county will be without adequate remedy to recover the money and without adequate relief. He claims that the bank is merely a depository and never had any title or claim to the money.

The movement had its inception several weeks ago and was given new impetus with the celebration of Yom Kippur, the Hebrew New Year. It was decided then that a regular Hebrew congregation would be formed with the building of the new temple.

YOUTHFUL SPEEDER FINDS TWIST IN LAW

GLENDALE, Oct. 17.—The tender age of Miss Gypsy Clancy, a 16-year-old dancer, of 626 Western avenue, prevented her taking advantage of the custom of forfeiting her bail, when she was charged with speeding at forty-two miles in a twenty-mile zone by Motorcycle Officer J. V. Reppell. Miss Clancy appeared at the office of Judge P. H. Lowe to make bail and intimated that she might just forfeit it, as she was really too busy to fool with court procedure. Mrs. Ethel Roudebush, Judge Lowe's clerk, told the dancer that, as she was a minor, bail could not be accepted and she would have to appear and face trial.

AVOCADO MEN WILL HOLD MEET

Southland Growers Plan Institute Saturday at Orange County Park

SANTA ANA, Oct. 17.—Preparations are going forward, according to H. E. Wahlberg, county farm adviser, for a meeting of avocado growers of Southern California on Saturday at Orange County Park, under auspices of the California Avocado Growers' Association.

E. C. Dutton of Anaheim, president of the State association, will act as master of ceremonies at the meeting, which is expected to draw 500 growers.

Leigh Crosby, advertising manager for the Calavo Growers' Exchange; George Hodgkin, manager, and Joseph Brodkey, Los Angeles avocado distributor, will be the chief speakers at the morning session, which will open at 10 o'clock. A basket lunch will occupy the noon hour, the association providing coffee and cream.

A field tour, in the afternoon, will cover the San Joaquin Fruit Company holdings near Irvine and Lemon Heights. Fertilizing, pruning and variety plots will be examined, while Secretary William McPherson, Farm Adviser Wahlberg and C. V. Newman, president of the California Avocado Exchange, will discuss field problems.

Assembly Area Challenges Any Other District

SANTA MONICA, Oct. 17.—Challenging any similar area in the entire country to turn out as large a vote for Herbert Hoover at the coming election, the Republican party organization of the Sixty-second Assembly District, embracing the Bay District from Redondo to Topanga Canyon, and including Beverly and Culver City, has deposited $100 with Col. William Eric Fowler, chairman of the county central committee, according to a statement made today by A. W. McPherson of Santa Monica, chairman of the district.

"This is the largest Assembly district in the United States," McPherson declared, "so we are justified in putting up our money against any other district in the entire country, though it sounds like taking in a lot of territory. If other districts care to meet our defi they can send in their checks for $100, and the winner, to be decided when the election returns are all counted, can take the entire pot and spend it on a little recreation after the strenuous campaign, or give it to charity—whatever the winner chooses to do with the prize."

Talk Clubs Are Popular at Ontario

ONTARIO, Sept. 17.—Ontario is rapidly becoming the "talking" center of Southern California. Men of the community have had two toastmasters' clubs in action for several months. Now the women have organized a Toastmistress Club, which will function for the first time officially Monday evening at American Legion Hall. Twenty women have joined the club to learn to talk more efficiently. Mrs. Minnie Roloff is temporary chairman. Mrs. Mary Howell, temporary secretary, and Mrs. Susannah Williamson is chairman of a constitution committee. FRANCHISE GIVEN FOR NEW FERRY

Supervisors of San Diego Approve Request for New System Across Bay

SAN DIEGO, Oct. 17.—By unanimous vote of the Board of Supervisors today the Automobile Ferry Company of Coronado was granted a franchise to operate a ferry line between San Diego and the transbay section. The action was in accord with approval given by the Coronado Trustees, the San Diego City Council and the harbor board to the project, which will give competition in ferry service to the present San Diego and Coronado Ferry Company.

Final approval of the grant must, however, come from the State Railroad Commission and County Supervisors were frank in stating that the vote of the board was meant merely to get the claim of the rival companies before the State Commission with the least delay. The motion to grant the franchise was made by Supervisor E. A. Hornbeck and seconded by Supervisor Thomas M. Hurley, who declared it his opinion the applicant for franchise had, through its witnesses, shown need for the competitive service.

Opposition to the grant was made by the present ferry line, represented by Attorney H. W. Clark of San Francisco. The petitioner presented, through Attorney Charles Forward, nine witnesses and further was backed by nearly 100 Coronado residents, who vigorously applauded points regarded as in favor of the new line. Attorney Clark brought forward only one witness, that one a volunteer.

Italian Held for Death of Filipino Youth

CHINO, Oct. 17.—Leugi Cunal, 34-year-old Los Angeles Italian, was today in custody of San Bernardino County Superior Court to answer charges of manslaughter, developed from the death Tuesday night, the 9th inst., of Hermanidine Tacto, Filipino bus boy at Los Serranos Country Club. Cunal's preliminary hearing was held before Judge Claude Durrell in Chino court, and evidence was given that resulted in Judge Durrell remanding Cunal to the higher court. The Italian has been held in San Bernardino County Jail in lieu of $10,000 bail. This figure was reduced to $1000.

Tacto was struck twice by Cunal's automobile, it was testified. Witnesses called at the preliminary hearing included Harold Pulus, another Filipino, friend of the victim, who was walking with him at the time of the accident; Russel Caldwell and Ralph Foster, occupants of another automobile which arrived at the scene of the accident a moment after it had happened; Dr. G. E. Noggle, who attended Tacto, and Thomas J. Willis, Chino undertaker.

The District Attorney's office prosecuted the case. Attorney A. D. Mitchell, Ontario, represented the relatives of Tacto.

Pomona to Act on Protection of Water Rights

POMONA, Oct. 17.—The city of Pomona will take immediate steps to protect its future water supply from near-by canyons through the filing of rights on surplus waters, pending the passage or defeat of Amendment No. 7 on the November ballot, which provides for the elimination of exclusive riparian rights.

At the suggestion of Councilman C. B. Afflerbaugh, City Attorney J. A. Allard Jr., and City Engineer F. C. Froehde, were instructed to investigate the rights in the canyon supplying Thompson Creek. Afflerbaugh said pumping of water had become a serious problem in recent years with well levels throughout the valley being lowered in the artesian strata. In many cases formerly large producers are now dry holes. He further stated that the city should consider the feasibility of erecting a dam in Thompson Creek in the near future.

In the opinion of City Engineer Froehde, the Pomona Valley Protective Association of which the city is the largest factor, has rights well protected in the San Antonio Canyon.

Clark, treasurer.

The business of the meeting consisted in hearing reports of the committee chairman, the president and farm adviser, Vincent Blanchard. One of the most gratifying reports to the directors was that of the treasurer, showing a balance of more than $1800, almost twice the balance of the year previous.

The girl died Monday morning at the Anaheim Sanatorium, where she had been taken after she is said to have admitted to a physician that she had taken the poison.

The girl has been suffering ill health for several months and despondency over this is thought by the family to have caused the act of self-destruction.

Although the autopsy was held yesterday, Dr. Alice L. Thompson, Coroner's representative, did not complete her findings until five minutes before time for funeral services to start at 2 p.m. today.

The charges were filed last week on behalf of Councilman McMullen, following failure of Council as a body to support McMullen in similar charges against the City Attorney out of court. TWO SENATORS ADDRESS RALLY

Republicans Hear Metcalf and Shortridge

All Southland Represented at Luncheon Session

Californian Talks on Tariff; Easterner Lauds Youth

A Hoover confidence luncheon rally yesterday brought Republican leaders to Los Angeles from all of the southern counties with assurances of tremendous majorities from every section while Senator Shortridge, and Senator Metcalf of Rhode Island, arrived with assurances of an overwhelming national Hoover victory.

The rally taxed to capacity the Alexandria ballroom and was arranged to bring southern leaders together to make final plans for getting to the polls the south's unprecedented registration.

Among the prominent Hoover supporters attending were William D. Stephens, former Governor of California; Mrs. Florence Collins Porter, Rex Goodcell and Col. William Erie Fowler, the new Los Angeles county Republican chairman. Ralph Arnold, for many years county chairman and prominent in Los Angeles Republican ranks, was presented with a watch as a token of his years of service to the committee. The presentation was made by William H. Kilgore, former vice-chairman of the committee.

SHORTRIDGE SPEAKS

Senator Shortridge, who is making a speaking tour of the southern counties for Hoover and Curtis and the entire Republican ticket, urged the greatest possible vote for the ticket while he spoke with confidence concerning the result. He said, in part:

"Republican principles have made us the most prosperous, and therefore, the most happy people. Happiness is the universal aspiration of all peoples, but in order to have happy people, a nation must be prosperous. There must be good business, active industries and employment for all men. There must be good schools, which result from prosperity.

"Under Republican administrations, we have had prosperity, and under two Democratic administrations business languished and unemployment was general.

"It is our duty to continue the Republican party in control and to place in the Presidential chair, now so ably occupied by Calvin Coolidge, our great Californian, Herbert Hoover.

"The Democratic plan of free trade would prostrate California. There would not be a lemon tree in California worth the planting, except for the tariff that bars Sicilian lemons, for which the total cost at New York is no more than only the cost of freight on lemons from California, due to our higher standards of wages and living. The same applies to rice, walnuts, almonds, oranges, grapefruit and other California products.

"The Republican tariff act of 1922 raised the duty on almonds, walnuts, wool and grapefruit and immensely benefited California. And to illustrate the 'sincerity' of the Democratic opposition to a protective tariff, let me quote the following incidents in Congress at that time:

"Senator Fletcher, Democrat, of Florida, introduced an amendment, in which he had my support, raising the duty on grapefruit from ½ to 1 cent a pound. Grapefruit is a principal crop of Florida. Apparently he did not despise protection through a tariff for his own constituents. Yet, knowing we had enough votes to pass the bill anyway, he voted 'no' when the final action came up, thus keeping up the appearance of traditional Democratic opposition to the protective tariff.

METCALF TALKS TARIFF

"Senators Carroway and Robinson of Arkansas, the latter now Democratic candidate for Vice-President, both voted to raise the duty on rice, a staple crop in Arkansas. Apparently they saw some good in the Republican protective tariff when it protected their own constituents yet, with Senator Fletcher, they voted 'no' on passage of the tariff bill as a whole. In the light of these facts can they sincerely deny, that they virtually have indorsed the Republican protective tariff?"

Young America is coming into its own in this Presidential campaign, according to Senator Metcalf. Interest in maintaining the present high American standard of living, the growth of the school system and the firm establishment of industry by the protective tariff is given by Senator Metcalf as the chief reason for the interest on the part of first voters and those not yet voting.

"One of the most interesting trends that I have observed in the States I have visited is the rapidly growing interest in the campaign on the part of young men and women," he said. "Young men's Republican clubs exist throughout the Northwest. The young people of today are beginning to realize the necessity for interesting themselves in the affairs of a government which they must some day control.

"Young people with sufficient vision to foresee the importance of the problems they must shoulder within a very few years are taking an active interest in the candidacy of Herbert Hoover. They do not want as their heritage government war debts to the extent of $21,000,000,000. They know that the Republican policies are rapidly removing these debts and will leave the slate clean when the young people of today are ready to become our national statesmen.

"The young people are, and should be, interested in the maintenance of a high protective tariff in order that the industries of the coming generation may be on a firm foundation. This is particularly true of those industries which now are being established in this country for the first time.

"I am extremely gratified with the rapidly growing Hoover popularity in the Western States. While I know that the general order of the day as far as politics is concerned is extreme optimism, I have carefully studied the situation in the States of Indiana, Illinois, Utah, Idaho, Montana, Wyoming, Washington and Nevada. I am convinced that Hoover will carry all of those States by an overwhelming majority."

Senator Metcalf is chairman of the Senate Republican Committee. He left Los Angeles last night for Phoenix.

CYCLE TRAFFIC RULES REVIVED

Growth in Bike Riding at Princeton Brings New Road Problems

PRINCETON (N. J.) Oct. 17. (Exclusive)—Since Princeton students were forbidden to use automobiles, bicycles have become so numerous as to make it necessary for police to dust off the statutes and enforce cycling rules. The department today called riders' attention to many taboos New Jersey has laid down.

Darkness must be counteracted with a light, no more than one rider is permitted on a bicycle, the sidewalks are for pedestrians only and a warning of some sort must be sounded whenever anyone out of the ordinary straight path is contemplated. Students call them "blue laws."

ROBINSON TALKS ABOUT RELIGION

Intolerance Condemned in Utah Address

Says 'Propaganda' Subversive of Intelligence

Smith's Running Mate to End Trip West Soon

OGDEN (Utah) Oct. 17. (AP)—The "propaganda" that Gov. Smith, if elected President, would turn the government over to the Pope of Rome was declared by Senator Robinson tonight "to be subversive of intelligence and happiness, seeking to undermine the foundations of liberty and equality."

Devoting practically an entire campaign speech to religious tolerance, Senator Robinson declared "that the preservation of liberty—liberty in its full and comprehensive sense — is an issue of this campaign." He laid to "an organized political effort" a spirit of intolerance such as prevailed in the dark ages.

"The cabal," Senator Robinson said, "where robbed the nation of its naval oil reserves, the conspiracy to loot the Veterans' Bureau and the trust funds of the Allen Property Custodian's office were not more harmful to the public than the effort in this campaign to make the American people believe that if the great, progressive leader of the Democratic party is chosen President, he will turn the government over to the Pope of Rome, close the public schools and procure enactment of a law requiring every one 'to kiss an archbishop's toe.'

GREATNESS OF NATION

"Such propaganda is subversive of intelligence and happiness. It seeks to undermine the foundations of liberty and equality. It incites to hatred one group of religious believers against another and poisons the fountain of progress.

"More than that, the injection of religious prejudice and animosity into the campaign tends to cause the public to forget and disregard the great issues which press for consideration and solution. It covers with a smoke screen inefficiency and corruption and is calculated to perpetuate in power demagogues and crooks.

"It supersedes fair tests with false standards and breaks down barriers erected through the courage and sacrifices of patriots against the advance of lawlessness and treason.

"It is important to remember always that the greatness and glory of this nation cannot be ascribed to any one religious organization or to any single political party. The glory of American civilization is attributable to the capacity of our people to co-operate in establishing and maintaining institutions which promote progress and happiness.

GREETS IDAHO PEOPLE

"It is only through freedom—freedom of religion, freedom of speech, freedom of the press and freedom of the person — that our citizens can advance to the enjoyment of greater privileges and rights than they now possess.

"The appeal to passion and prejudice, by whomsoever made, has never been responded to by the electors of this nation in the selection of a President of the United States. The right of every voter to be guided by his conscience and judgment in casting his ballot is recognized and must be respected. If sectarian prejudice becomes the basis for political choice only confusion, injustice and oppressive government will result.

"How fortunate it will prove for the living and future generation if the result of this election strengthens and sustains the pillars upon which the temple of American civilization rests — liberty, justice, equality progress."

Senator Robinson came to Ogden from Boise where he attacked Senator Borah in a speech last night. His train stopped at a number of stations in Idaho where he was greeted by citizens and presented with venison, pheasants and other delicacies of this territory. The nominee was prepared to resume his eastward trip after tonight's speech, the first stop being at Cheyenne tomorrow night. He speaks at Casper, Wyo., Friday night and Hastings, Neb, Saturday night.

CURTIS IN EAST TALKS ON TARIFF

Party Record Contrasted With Democrats' When in Power in Past

WILMINGTON (Del.) Oct. 17. (AP) Hurrying up the eastern coast, Senator Curtis, the Republican Vice-Presidential nominee, carried the Republican campaign into two more States today—West Virginia and Delaware.

Tonight at Wilmington the Senator lauded his party's administration of the last seven years and advocated the tariff as a means of raising revenue as well as of protecting American industry.

In a brief visit at Martinsburg, W. Va., this afternoon the nominee assailed the prohibition and immigration views of Gov. Smith before a crowd gathered in the city square.

He was cheered by the Martinsburg crowd, which stood under a hot sun as he declared against "any State's going into the whisky business," and denounced the proposal of Gov. Smith for a modification of the immigration laws, "lest it threaten employment through a flood of new immigration."

In his address tonight, Senator Curtis reviewed tariff history and declared that the last three Democratic Presidents had been required to recommend revenue legislation, increasing taxes, "in order to pay the running expenses of the government, which couldn't be met because of the loss of revenue resulting from their lower tariff acts."

Smith's Talk on Air Tomorrow

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 17. (AP)—The Democratic State Central Committee announced tonight that Gov. Smith's speech in Chicago Friday night would be broadcast over KPO, San Francisco; KGO, Oakland, and KFI, Los Angeles, between 6 and 7 p.m. From 7:30 to 9 o'clock this same night John W. Davis, former Democratic candidate for President, will deliver a speech which will be broadcast from the same stations, part of the national broadcast chain.

Ex-Navy Secretary Makes Second Georgia Talk

Gives Reasons Why He is for Smith Election

So-called Snobs Condemned; Walsh Answered

ATLANTA, Oct. 17. (AP)—Josephus Daniels, former Secretary of the Navy, invaded the gateway to the Solid South tonight with a second Georgia address in two days in the interest of the candidacy of Gov. Smith.

Declaring that there is needed a man in the White House "with the backbone of a circus pole," Mr. Daniels pointed to the New York executive as one who would "restore government to the people and administer public affairs upon Jeffersonian principles."

"What is needed in Washington," he said, "is a Chief Executive who will unhorse privilege and restore equal rights to all and special privilege to none."

TELLS ANOTHER REASON

Mr. Daniels specified twelve reasons why he is supporting Gov. Smith and then added:

"There is another reason to which I will give no number. I am supporting Smith for one thing because I would like to see Mrs. 'Al' in the White House.

"In addition, I would like to cast one vote to rebuke the snobs who whispered that because it is said Mrs. Smith at one time did her own household work, she lacks the social grace that should be possessed by the first lady of the land."

SUPPORTING TICKET

Earlier today Mr. Daniels declared he never had denied being opposed to Gov. Smith before his nomination at Houston.

Mr. Daniels's statement was made in referring to an address by Charles A. Walsh, former Democratic national committeeman from Iowa at Miami last night, in which the former naval secretary was charged with having declared it would be a "fatal mistake" to nominate Gov. Smith.

Mr. Daniels said he had always supported the nominee of the Democratic party.

SWEET SAYS SMITH HAS QUIT PARTY

Ex-Governor of Colorado Declares Good Democrats Should Vote for Hoover

KANSAS CITY, Oct. 17. (AP)—William E. Sweet, former Democratic Governor of Colorado, now supporting Herbert Hoover for the Presidency, declared here tonight that "Al Smith had bolted his party platform and thereby has repudiated it." Mr. Sweet spoke at a rally of "Hoover Democrats."

"Considered solely from the standpoint of party regularity," Sweet said, "a Hoover Democrat is a better Democrat than an Al Smith Democrat.

"Hoover in his stand on the prohibition question is more nearly in accord with the principles of the Democratic party as expressed in the Houston platform than is Gov. Smith.

"Smith felt there had been a reaction against the prohibition law. He desired a national referendum on it. He is using the Presidential candidacy of a dry party to obtain that end.

"There is no reason why a dry Democrat should vote for Smith. Not to vote for him does not signify surrender of party regularity. Smith is the one who is irregular. The situation is not the same as it would be if we had a candidate who represented the principles of our party as expressed in the platform, the only way a party has of expressing its principles.

"It has been said I am not a good Democrat. I say I am. I have been a Democrat all my life. I will remain one all my life unless the wet label is attached to the party. Smith is making an effort to attach such a label. The fact so many Democrats are going to use their ballots to keep him from the White House is ample evidence that he hasn't been able to make us a wet party."

Idaho Chairman Flays Robinson on Borah Attack

BOISE (Idaho) Oct. 17. (AP)—John McMurray, Republican State chairman, tonight said Senator Robinson, Democratic Vice-Presidential nominee, had revealed himself as inconsistent in his personal attack here last night on Senator Borah.

The Democratic candidate had charged Borah with inconsistency in his support of Herbert Hoover in the present campaign after having criticised the Secretary of Commerce on the floor of the Senate.

State Chairman McMurray explained that Senator Borah never had challenged the personal integrity of Hoo , but had honestly disputed with him the advisability of appropriating $100,000,000 to assist in feeding Europe after the war.

He added that Senator Robinson once had vigorously opposed the McNary-Haugen bill on the floor of the Senate and was now criticising the Republicans for having refused to put it through.

Comparable to the Italian Riviera say world travelers of Del Mar. All its delights, all its picturesque beauty—plus a superior climate.

Looking down on the Mediterranean on the Italian Riviera

Then the ocean on the sea at Del Mar

STAND upon a wooded ridge at Del Mar, and you can easily imagine yourself looking down upon the beauty of the Italian Riviera from the historic Corniche highway.

Both face an azure blue sea, with its infinite depth of color, while behind, in the distance are purple mountains.

From both the Mediterranean, and the Pacific at Del Mar, rise sloping hills, wooded with towering eucalyptus and fresh smelling pines.

The Italian Riviera is the setting of lovely villas and enchanting gardens, overlooking a picturesque coastline. And at Del Mar, gardens gleam with brilliant color, and terraced estates front a flashing sea. Homes draw inspiration from Spain and Italy with their mellow tiled roofs and old world architecture.

But to this striking similarity, Del Mar adds a superior climate, for summer and winter here are only 14.7 degrees apart. While on the Italian Riviera, the variation between January and July averages 29.9 degrees.

You should own a country estate at the seashore in this picturesque old world setting! Where you can enjoy contented living the year 'round, or on vacation and weekends!

You will be amazed at the low prices at Del Mar—lower than any other similar high grade property on the coast. Call, telephone or mail the coupon below for complete information. Or mail the non-solicitation coupon for beautifully illustrated booklet.

The first might be a declination of a stupid dinner party; the other could only be written with Cupid's dart for a pen.

UTILITY HEADS FACE PENALTY

Court Action Threatened if They Won't Testify

New Yorkers Arouse Ire of Federal Inquirers

Hot Clashes Culminated by Virtual Ultimatum

WASHINGTON, Oct. 17. (AP)—Two officers of the Electric Bond and Share Company, a New York holding concern which embraces many subsidiaries throughout the country, are faced with court action unless they appear in the power utilities investigation of the Federal Trade Commission next Tuesday ready to testify and produce documents on the company's expenditures.

Commissioner McCulloch told Ralph B. Feagin, a vice-president of the company, and A. E. Smith, controller, after they refused to answer questions that they virtually were flouting the commission and the state, by the direction of which the inquiry is being conducted. The witnesses said that their refusals were on advice of counsel, and several times during the examination John F. MacLane, representing the company, interrupted to say that certain questions by Robert E. Healy, commission counsel, were not required to be answered.

VIGOROUS PROTEST

Vigorous exceptions to MacLane's contentions were taken by Commissioner McCulloch, who said the information sought "comes squarely" both within the Walsh resolution and the powers of the Federal Trade Commission. He several times indicated impatience with MacLane's argument, and wound up by ordering the witnesses to return Tuesday with the operating expense ledgers or face whatever legal steps the commission may decide to take in order to force their compliance.

Preliminary to the setto, which was precipitated by questions by Healy regarding disbursements to influence public opinion against municipal ownership, MacLane had challenged validity of the subpoenas by which Feagin and Smith were called. His objections, which were overruled in short order by McCulloch, followed a declaration that the company had entered into the investigation "in the spirit of complete co-operation."

WHAT HE CHARGES

He said the company has already furnished such information as is material to the inquiry, and added that the commission representatives had demanded to examine all the records "whether relevant to the investigation or not."

"The company wishes only to have ascertained and determined, as its duty to its clients and to its stockholders," he continued, "its fundamental rights under the Constitution and laws of the United States and the limitations upon the rights of the Federal government on any commission or body acting under it to make the sweeping demand for a disclosure in detail of its private business and professional undertakings for its clients which are competitive in their nature and would involve the disclosure of costs, employments and transactions wholly private and confidential and not relevant to the subject of the inquiry."

SPRECKELS BLAZE LAID TO ARSONIST

Napa Chief Discovers Clew to Incendiarism as Fire Destroys Mansion

NAPA, Oct. 17. (AP)—Sheriff's officers here tonight said circumstances attendant on a fire that destroyed the thirty-four-room Spreckels mansion today indicate that the blaze was of incendiary origin.

Mrs. Alma Spreckels Rosencrans, daughter of the late A. B. Spreckels, and her infant son were in the house with the baby's nurse and governess. The governess, Miss Rose Dunlah, was awakened by the crackling of the fire, and roused the others.

They were obliged to climb through a window to escape from the building.

The loss, estimated at more than $600,000, included art treasures from Europe, valuable antiques collected over a period of thirty years, and expensive furnishings.

Fire Chief Otterson said the fire started in two widely separated parts of the building. He considers it a strong indication that the flames were incendiary.

The first portion of the house was built more than thirty years ago. Two wings were added later. Shortly before his death A. B. Spreckels spent about $100,000 remodeling the structure.

State Forestry Division Seeks Doubled Sum

SACRAMENTO, Oct. 17. (Exclusive)—An increase of 100 per cent in the 1929-31 appropriation for the State Division of Forestry was requested in the division's budget presented today to A. R. Heron, director of finance, by Fred G. Stevenot, director of natural resources.

The division has placed its financial needs for the next biennium at $660,000 as compared to $360,000 allowed for the present two-year period.

"The increase," said Heron, "is wanted for protective work. This has been a disastrous forest fire season and the division of forestry is anxious to be adequately prepared for next year."

Heron declared the protective plans for the division call for the extension of the patrol system and the purchase of motorized and other modern equipment.

FIREMAN ON SHIP WALKS INTO BLAZE

One Dead, Seven Burned in Fire on Blue Star Boat; Survivors Tell of Ordeal

VANCOUVER (B. C.) Oct. 17. (AP) With seven of her crew burned and scalded, the Blue Star Line steamship Trojan Star was safe here today after arriving late last night with a harrowing story of fire on board while the vessel was off the California coast on the night of the 12th inst.

William P. Tennison, fireman aboard the ship, was burned to death and his body buried at sea.

The fire broke out when an oil jet burst in the stoke hold, trapping eight men of the engine room force in a wall of flame that sprang up in an instant.

Second Engineer Sydney P. Houston and Fireman William James, the ship's officers said, were chiefly responsible for the safety of the engine-room crew. Seeing the way to safety on the deck was barred, Houston led the men into the bilges under the boiler. The flames roared above them and for three hours and thirty minutes they lay there in oil and water with the plates and the water in which they lay steadily getting hotter.

James, by his cheery conduct, and singing of songs, aided his comrades while awaiting rescue. Tennison went temporarily insane from the heat and strain and rushed back to the engine room again, where he succumbed.

The men were saved when a huge steam pipe in the stoke hold burst, pouring a dense cloud of steam into the compartment, finally smothering the fire and permitting the deck crew to reach the imprisoned engine-room crew.

THREATS IN TAXI FEUD TOLD COURT

Child Guarded Following Kidnaping Warnings and Investigation Asked

CHICAGO, Oct. 17. (Exclusive) John Herts Etling, 6 years of age, grandson of John Herts, president of the Yellow Cab Company, has been rushed out of Chicago and is being hidden "somewhere in America" as the result of threats made to kidnap the child.

Threats, too, are said to have been made against Mr. Herts's life and to bomb the Herts home.

These statements were made by Rush C. Butler, acting as head of the Illinois Association for Criminal Justice, and Silas H. Strawn, in his capacity as head of the Commercial Club, when they went before Chief Justice Sullivan of the Criminal Court this afternoon to ask for a grand jury investigation of the Chicago taxicab situation.

For more than a month there has been a "war" on between the Yellow and the Checker cab companies. It began with the slaying of Eugene Thivierge, a Checker driver. A few days thereafter the locally famous Herts stables near Carey, Ill., were burned with the loss of thoroughbred horses valued at $200,000, and there followed the bombing of two Yellow Cab Company garages.

SCIENTIST FINDS BODY RADIO SET

Experimenter Tunes in Own Body on 3.66 Meter Wave Length, He Says

NEW YORK, Oct. 17. (AP)—C. R. Englund, a research scientist of the Bell Telephone Laboratories, said today that after extensive experiments he was convinced of the soundness of his theory that the human body has a radio tuning point. The tuning point of his body, he said, is 3.66 meters and was discovered accidentally while he was working on radio oscillators producing very short wave lengths.

Starting at five meters, he said, he worked downward gradually and went below four meters. A search for the cause disclosed that his body was working as a tuned circuit, he said.

The scientist said he tuned his radio tubes to produce oscillations of 3.66 meters and discovered his body was acting in the same manner as a Hertz antenna and was absorbing oscillations.

Long Beach Man Freed in Hold-up of Bay City Taxi

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 17. (AP)—Alfred Driggs, 24 years of age of Long Beach, was released from jail today after being held since September 19, last, on a charge of holding up Henry Jahreis, taxicab driver, and shooting him when he resisted.

Jahreis first identified Driggs as the outlaw but later identified the body of Ernest Simmons, formerly of Raymond, Wash., as that of the man who shot him. Simmons shot himself last Saturday when about to be captured by a crowd which pursued him after he robbed a drug store.

Police doubted the accuracy of Jahreis's first identification because a hat lost by the robber failed to fit Driggs.

The hat fitted Simmons perfectly. They took Jahreis to the morgue, where he identified the body.

LINE SQUALLS TOY WITH RS-1

Nose Crushed and Envelope Ripped in Flight

Tennessee Storms Battled for Three Hours

SCOTT FIELD (Ill.) Oct. 17. (AP)—Its nose crushed and envelope ripped, the RS-1, the United States Army semirigid dirigible, limped to its hangar here last night at 10:40 o'clock after a battle with line squalls on the Mississippi River in the vicinity of Memphis, Tenn.

Returning from a 1000-mile flight to San Antonio, Tex., where it made exhibition flights in connection with the American Legion convention, the RS-1 ran full into a "nest" of line squalls which it fought for more than three hours. Capt. W. E. Kepner, winner of this year's Gordon Bennett balloon cup race, was in charge of the ship with four commissioned officers and nine enlisted men.

"It was the most violent weather I have ever seen from the air," Capt. Kepner said. "It seems almost miraculous that our ship should have come through. At times the gas bag appeared to be crushed absolutely flat; at other times it was puffed out. We were kicked around by the winds as if the ship had been a football.

"The first heavy squall that hit us ripped the envelope near the nose and crushed the nose braces. Lieut. Fogelsanger was up in the nose at the time. It looked very serious for him. He managed to drop down. With a crushed nose our ship became difficult to steer. I thought it was all up several times.

"Our four Liberty motors kept working all the time and it was our power that finally pulled us out of the squalls after three hours' fighting. If the ship had been all rigid like the Graf Zeppelin or the Los Angeles, I don't think we would have come out. Several times our ship was bent like a horseshoe."

The RS-1, the largest semirigid dirigible in the United States, left Brooks Field at San Antonio about 11 a.m. Monday. The ship measures 260 feet in length.

Jersey Mayor Makes Charge of Shadowing

JERSEY CITY, Oct. 17. (AP)—Mayor Frank Hague, Democrat, of this city, in a statement today declared secret service men from Washington have been watching him and that a State investigation into asserted irregularities in the administration of the affairs of Hudson county is being encouraged from Republican national headquarters at Washington.

"It has been ordered by Republican national leaders in Washington," he asserted. "They realize they have to stop Smith, and to do that they must stop me. They haven't a chance."

WASHINGTON, Oct. 17. (AP)—No secret service man has been following Mayor Hague, W. H. Moran, chief of the secret service, declared tonight, when told of the statement issued by the Mayor today. The secret service, the chief said, does not do that sort of work.

Indictments in Revenue Case

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 17. (AP)—Indictments charging violation of the Federal revenue laws were returned by the Federal grand jury here today against Lawrence Edwards, prominent Stockton attorney, Byron A. Beard, vice-president of the Tidewater Southern Railroad, and Marius W. Hotchkiss, rancher living on Bethel Island in the San Joaquin River.

The three are asserted to have operated a huge still on the Bethel Island ranch, supplying most of the liquor sold in the San Joaquin Valley.

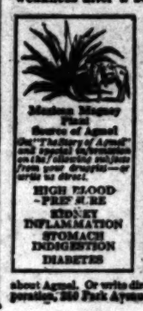
HOOVER, JR., REACHES COAST IN AIR SURVEY

OAKLAND, Oct. 17. (AP)—Herbert Hoover, Jr., son of the Republican Presidential nominee, arrived at Oakland Airport today in a Boeing air transport plane from Chicago. He is making a survey of United States air lines for the Guggenheim Foundation.

He is a junior member of the business administration staff of the Harvard graduate school.

Regained strength After a serious operation

Here's a case of a man who was in bad physical condition when tonsils, antrum, and nose all had to come under the surgeon's knife. "I was ready for the bone boys," he writes. "Then I started to take Agmol and began to improve at once. I am better today than I have been in ten years." Every day, letters like this tell similar experiences. One woman says: "I tested the merits of Agmol thoroughly, with splendid results for general weakness after a serious operation."



What is Agmol? A great natural health food. The sap or milk of the Mexican Maguey plant concentrated by removing excess water. Nothing added. Extraordinarily rich in important minerals and other vital elements necessary for the proper nourishment and functioning of the body. A pill form. Not a medicine. Non-alcoholic. Thousands praise Agmol. If you have any of the following symptoms, investigate Agmol today: headaches, backaches, dizziness, and frequent urgency to get up at night, etc. Ask your druggist about Agmol. Or write direct to The Agmol Corporation, 250 Park Avenue, New York, N. Y.

Acceptances for September Reported as Record

Gain in Month Brings Total to $1,004,166,180

Agricultural Financing Held Principal Outlet

NEW YORK, Oct. 17. (AP)—Bankers' acceptances increased $82,116,671 during September and on September 30, last, reached the total of $1,004,166,180, a record for this season of the year, the American Acceptance Council reported today. The total exceeds that of the same date last year by $141,000,000 and is $290,000,000 higher than in 1926.

The past six weeks have given indications that an unusually heavy volume of new acceptance business was under way, the council said, the gain representing largely the first of the new season's financing for cotton, grains and agricultural products. Reduction of 1-8 per cent in the bill rates on August 31, last, was said to have stimulated demand.

Purchases by Federal reserve banks were reported to be heavy, but somewhat below normal for the period, with Federal reserve banks holding in their open market purchase account about $325,000,000 in bills, or 30 per cent of the total outstanding volume.

Chicago was the only city showing a decrease in acceptances' liabilities. New York banks increased their business $38,000,000 during the month and San Francisco institutions added $7,000,000 to their total.

The volume of business to finance storage of goods abroad or for shipment between foreign countries gained $20,000,000, reaching a total of $170,000,000, against $78,000,000 in 1927 and $35,000,000 in 1926.

Import acceptances were reported as $320,908,553, against $316,343,278 a month ago, and $290,296,963 a year ago, and export acceptances $369,916,383, against $352,620,156 a month ago, and $296,960,331 a year ago. Total of dollar exchanges was $170,309,403, against $151,715,935 a month ago, and $78,824,300 a year ago.

Survey Reports Trade in Local Area as Better

Manufacturers and wholesalers in this territory report business satisfactory with a much improved condition over the past four months, and, although collections are still slow, Southern California manufacturers are continually expanding the territory served, according to the weekly summary of local conditions conducted by the Bradstreet Company.

There has been a decided increase in business from the Philippine Islands and other points in the Orient. The local Chamber of Commerce has played a large part in helping this business, it is stated. The mergers and consolidations in various lines continue to cut overhead by quantity buying and many companies are meeting outside competition successfully.

Industrial building is forging ahead, with increasing pay rolls. Home building is not as quiet as a year ago, but apartment construction shows an increase, with numerous vacancies in the older buildings. Radio and electrical supply trade is good, drug trade is satisfactory and employment conditions fairly satisfactory for this season of the year.

Marmon Motor Car Earnings Register Gain

NEW YORK, Oct. 17. (Exclusive) Marmon Motor Car Company today reported third quarter net income, after all charges, but before Federal taxes, amounted to $275,915, equal after preferred dividends to $1.29 a share on 200,000 common shares outstanding. This compares with $753,000, or $3.87 a share for the previous quarter and $536,518, or $2.60 a share, in the 1927 quarter.

Nine months' net totaled $1,894,513 before Federal taxes, or $7.86 a share on the outstanding common.

G. M. Williams, president, said nine months earnings were the best in history and were accomplished in spite of curtailed production in the early part of last quarter, due to a change in contracts with body manufacturers.

He also said unfilled orders for delivery in October and outlook for November and December indicate a probable profit for full year of approximately $2,000,000, or at a rate of $10 on common. Nine months' production showed increase of 80 per cent over 1927 period.

Trust Company Resources Set at Huge Total

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 17. (AP)—The total of trusts now being administered in California by trust companies is equal to more than half of the aggregate resources of commercial and savings departments of both State and national banks. This was the assertion today of Will C. Wood, State Superintendent of Banks, addressing the first session of the sixth regional trust company conference of the Pacific Coast and Rocky Mountain States, which opened here this afternoon.

W. J. Kieferdorf, vice-president of the Bank of Italy, was chairman of the initial session. Other speakers included Ralph Stone, Detroit; W. F. Morris, president of the California Bankers' Association, and Leo S. Chandler, president of the California Trust Company of Los Angeles.

Mitchell May Get Bank Post

NEW YORK, Oct. 17. (AP)—Charles E. Mitchell, president of the National City Bank, has been recommended as a Class A director of the New York Federal Reserve Bank to succeed Jackson E. Reynolds, president of the First National Bank, whose term expires December 31, next. William H. Woodin, president of the American Car and Foundry Company, has been recommended as a Class B director to succeed himself.

Recommendations are made by a committee of the New York State Bankers' Association, upon which the New Jersey and Connecticut Bankers' associations are represented, and must be acted upon by the member banks having capital and surplus of more than $1,999,000. The directorate consists of nine members, three Class A representing the banks, three Class B representing business and three Class B appointed by the Federal Reserve Board.

EXPORT PROJECT HELPS OIL

Plans to Form Association Regarded as Significant; Standard Linked in West Texas Rumor

BY EARLE E. CROWE

Private dispatches stating that the leading oil executives are meeting in New York for the purpose of forming an oil export association under the Webb Act are of outstanding importance to the industry. Through a similar association the chief problems of the copper industry have been remedied, and steel, food products and other lines have likewise benefited. Probably it was the recollection of these the records of older association that accounted largely for the broad advance yesterday in the oil shares.

Surplus production of copper has been brought under control by the Copper Export Association, particularly with respect to the output of the African and the South American mines. The substantial improvement in the prices of copper securities reflects the success of this project, and suggests the idea that the same thing can be done in oil.

MAY CHECK VENEZUELA

If Venezuelan output con be controlled through the projected association, one of the major problems of the industry will be solved. Presumably this result would be accomplished by prorating orders for export sale among the operators in the American, South American, Mexican and other fields, and an agreement among the operators to maintain crude oil output at a designated relation to sales. Such an accord would also correct the weak situations in the domestic industry.

Among those interested in the association, it is reported, are Walter C. Teagle, Standard Oil of New Jersey; Axtel T. Byles, Tide Water Associated; H. F. Sinclair, Sinclair Consolidated; G. B. Whaley, Vacuum Oil; E. W. Marland, Marland Oil, and H. L. Pratt, Standard of New York.

Conferences in New York on the formation of the export association are the sequel to the recent visit of Teagle and other American operators to London, where discussions were held with Sir Henri Deterding of Royal Dutch-Shell.

While the news concerning the export plans provided the impetus for the move in the oil group as a whole, there were special developments that predominated in several issues. Union Oil of California went through its paces on the basis of the rumor stating that stock subscription rights would be offered before the end of the year. Standard of California also stepped forward a notch or two on a variety of rumors, including the one mentioning stock rights.

DISTRIBUTION POSSIBLE

Powerful interests have been accumulating Standard for some time, it is generally understood, although there is no definite idea of what development is ahead to justify purchase of the stock. A supposition that seems to stand up, however, is one that concerns Standard's holdings in West Texas, the potential value of which has been estimated as high as $100,000,000.

It is suggested that the Standard Oil Company might have a plan under consideration by which a new company would be organized to take over the West Texas properties, the stock to be offered to the stockholders of Standard of California. This could be done either through the offer of subscription rights, or through a straight stock dividend. It will be remembered that the Southern Pacific Company formed the Pacific Oil Company in this manner, and offered its stockholders the privilege of buying the stock.

The West Texas holdings, if opened up, are estimated to have a potential output of several hundred thousand barrels daily, compared with current daily output of about 30,000 barrels. Acreage totals about 502,000 in the Yates pool and Winkler county. At El Paso a 14,000-barrel refinery is in operation, fed by a 200-mile pipe line from Winkler county.

Extra on Slate of United Verde

BOSTON, Oct. 17. (Exclusive)—Directors of the United Verde Extension Mining Company, at the December meeting, will declare an extra dividend, it was unofficially reported today. Current rate is $2 per annum, which has been in effect since November, 1927, prior to which $3 per annum was paid.

It is understood that September earnings approximated $325,000. This would indicate that profits are running at the annual rate of $3 a share on 1,050,000 shares of common stock outstanding. The company has no funded debt and cash and securities, as of December 31, 1927, totaled $4,028,600.

Branch offices are maintained in Beverly Hills and in Redlands.

MAY EXTEND PLAN

Part Pay on Airplane Purchases Under Consideration

Several finance companies have completed surveys with a view of financing installment buying of airplanes along the same lines of credit as the automotive industry, according to A. A. Durante & Co. of New York, specialists in aviation securities.

This should stimulate airplane sales for private use, especially in the low-priced field, it was pointed out. At present there are less than 7000 privately owned planes in the country. The number of students at aviation schools is estimated at 15,000.

Giannini Soon to Give Terms of Stock Shift

Terms of exchange under which stocks of the Bank of Italy, Bancitaly Corporation and Bank of America will be converted into Trans-American Corporation, the new holding company recently organized by A. P. Giannini, are expected to be announced within a few days. It is understood that the United Security stockholders will be offered terms at a later date.

As the probable proposals are reported here, stockholders of Bank of Italy will receive 1 3-4 Trans-American for one of Bank of Italy. The Bancitaly exchange will be on a share-for-share basis, and Bank of America, 1 1-4 Trans-America for one of Bank of America. This report also indicates that the terms of exchange have been worked out on a basis to enhance the current market prices of the Giannini shares.

The Trans-America Corporation was organized a few days ago in Delaware with an authorized capitalization of 10,000,000 shares of $25 par value.

Probability of an important shift in the executive ranks of the Bank of Italy is also rumored here. Handling of the stock market situation during the absence of Mr. Giannini abroad is said to be the reason for the impending change.

NEW CHINESE LEADER ABLE

President Chiang Kai-Shek Believed Equal to Task of Putting Republic on Stable Footing

BY JOHN F. SINCLAIR

(Copyright, 1928, by North American Newspaper Alliance)

Chiang Kai-Shek, the new President of China, is young, modern, and last year married Miss Mayling Soong, up-to-date Wellesley College graduate. The new President, now 41 years of age, was a close associate of Dr. Sun Yat-Sen, first President of China. When Dr. Sun Yat-Sen died in March, 1925, the new President was one of the lesser-known party leaders, but by the spring of 1926, he was the power in the Canton territory.

Lewis S. Gannett, American writer, speaking of Chiang Kai-Shek, says: "I was profoundly impressed with the directness and simplicity of the man."

The new President speaks English a little. His sister-in-law is Mrs. Sun Yat-Sen, widow of the first President and spiritual father of the whole Nationalist movement. She is at present living quietly in Berlin, waiting for a favorable time to return to China.

To the new President falls the task of organizing its 390,000,000 people into a modern nation. Can he do it?

Recent reports coming from China declare that famine will be more widespread this year than last year and that the job of bringing order out of the war chaos of the past decade is almost a superhuman one.

"If any man in China today is competent to assume the direction of this superhuman task, it is the new President, Chiang Kai-Shek," says Mr. Gannett.

Whatever the outcome of this particular situation, the Chinese people are getting together. China has been passing through troublous and anxious times. The far-eastern republic is going through a "new birth of freedom."

An ancient civilization before Europe was born, an industrious and honest people, China has no great friend in her new struggles for economic and political independence than the people of the United States.

American prosperity is so substantial and secure that other nations of the world may be expected from now on to invest a considerable part of their surplus wealth in the United States. This is the opinion held and recently expressed by Reginald McKenna, chairman of England's greatest bank, the Midland Bank, and former Chancellor of the Exchequer.

Mr. McKenna, one of the outstanding banking students of the world, believes that the citizens of the United States do not recognize the strength of their position as much as do those who are on the outside. America's wonderful position in the business of the world is solid and firm, and the prosperity which has been enjoyed for years is likely to continue, says the former British Chancellor.

Canada is more and more depending upon world trade for her prosperity. For her last fiscal year her imports increased again, while her exports decreased slightly. Her total volume of foreign trade during the year amounting to $2,350,000,000. Only in two years in her history has she exceeded this figure—in 1912 and 1921.

As has been pointed out before, Canada's trade with the United States, both import and export, exceeds that of any other country. During the last fiscal year, Canada bought from the United States nearly $900,000,000 more goods than she sold to the United States.

But, if her total world trade is considered, including the United States, Canada stands forth with a favorable trade balance for the last fiscal year of $141,000,000.

Unlike most European nations, she has no problem of international finance to solve.

A Railroad Preferred

Selling on the New York Stock Exchange at about 76, to yield 7.90%

RECENTLY one of our clients asked us to recommend a sound railroad preferred stock listed on the New York Stock Exchange, which offered a high rate of return and an opportunity for substantial appreciation in value. After a careful survey of the market we suggested—

NEW YORK BOND PRICES

NEW YORK, Oct. 17. (AP)—Bond market prices turned irregular with the stock market after an early showing of general strength today. Rails held firm, but the secondary issues attracting most of the buying that lifted the first group to higher levels yesterday. Sales for the day again exceeded $5,000,000, and time money hovered around the 7-per cent level.

Specialties with warrants were prominent among issues to retain their gains, posting a new high for the year at 104½, up 1½ points, on buying encouraged by favorable oil trade news. Simms Petroleum 6s advanced nearly 2 points. Shell Union Crude 5½s yielded a point on selling inspired by the ruling that the sub Crook contract is invalid.

Adams 7s gained nearly 3 points. General Asphalt 6s, Liquid Carbonic 6s, Power Foundation 6s and others showed fractional gains. National Dairy Products 5½s, U. S. Rubber 5s and Dodge Brothers 6s were among the issues to close lower.

Green Bay and Wisconsin debentures, St. Louis, Mexico and Northern 5½s, Norfolk and Western 4s, New Haven convertible debenture 6s and Kelly prior lien 5s were among rails to advance a point or more.

The foreign list was firm, with Antioquia 7s, U. S. Kingdom of Hungary 7½s and Peruvian government issues replacing the rail items as leaders of the advance. Rail issues with warrants closed off 2 points.

Heavy public offerings of new issues have been announced for the near future. They include a $25,000,000 issue for the Peruvian government as a part of its $150,000,000 refunding program, with a $100,000,000 offering made simultaneously in the European market. A $50,000,000 issue was sold in the New York market some time ago.

Offerings tomorrow include the recently awarded $30,000,000 Cities Service Company 5 per cent debentures, and $7,500,000 Equitable Building 6 per cent first mortgage leasehold sinking fund gold bonds.

The quotations represent sales of bonds (in thousands of dollars) and the high, low and closing prices in the order given. To simplify transmission, the decimal point is omitted when the same as the low, and both low and close when same as high.

HEAVY SELLING RULES TRADING

portant part in the day's proceedings. Dupont ran up 11 points to a new high at 418 and General Motors touched a new top at 221½ and then slipped back to 219½, up 3-4 net. Wall street hears that General Motors directors will declare a stock dividend of 25 per cent, and split up the stock on a 3-for-1 basis at the next meeting. One of the chief advantages of this plan is to obtain wider distribution of the stock.

Other high-priced issues to move into new high ground included Case Threshing, Victor Talking Machine, Jewel Tea, National Bellas Hess, Johns Manville, American Express, Otis Elevator and Montgomery Ward. The run-up of 13 1-4 points in Murray Corporation to a new high record at 118 was based on unconfirmed reports of a new Ford contract. The brisk demand for Nash Motors was accompanied by rumors of buying for the account of the Fisher brothers.

COPPERS ACTIVE

Among the low and medium-priced issues to break into new high ground for the year were Alaska Juneau, Kennecott Copper, Household Products, American La France, Bush Terminal, Grand Union Stores, City Stores B, National Cash Register and Marlin Rockwell.

Oils again changed hands in enormous volume although some of the recent leaders fell back moderately on profit-taking. Superior was one of the most active, touching a new top at 9 3-4. Other issues to attain new highs were Barnsdall A and B, White Eagle and Warner Quinlan. Wall street was still in the dark regarding the outcome of recent conferences to bring about a world curtailment of production, but bullish enthusiasm was created by the increase in Wooster Crude and the falling off in domestic production last week.

Motor Products, which broke 15 points yesterday, fell back another 15 points today to 180 and then snapped back to 193 3-4. The decline in Certainteed Products to a new 1928 low at 33 revived fears for the safety of the dividend. Curtiss and Wright airplanes, Hudson Motors, International Harvester, International Silver, the Kelly-Springfield issues and Union Carbide also were conspicuously heavy.

Trading in the foreign exchanges was quiet. Sterling cables held fairly steady around $4.85 1-32, or just above the commonly accepted "gold import" point.

A further rise of about $2 a bale in cotton prices, based on unfavorable weather reports, attracted the most interest in the commodity markets. Wheat futures declined fractionally and coffee quotations sagged 12 to 25 points. Sugar prices held steady.

NEW YORK CURB STOCKS

NEW YORK, Oct. 17. (AP)—The curb market experienced one of the broadest upward movements in some time today, only to turn somewhat reactionary as considerable selling came into the market toward the close. Mines and oils displayed group strength, and more than a few industrials rose to new highs. It was one of the busiest days in the history of the exchange, with total sales again exceeding 1,500,000 shares.

Zenith Radio was a strong feature, gaining 15 points to a new top at 230. Goodyear Tire & Rubber, Metal and Refining Switchboard, 10 to 5 points. Oakes Products issue crossed the 100 mark, gaining 7 points each. Trust units included Campbell, Wyant & Cannon, Leading International Cigar Machinery, Kinney and Shepard A and Ross Gear did about as well, regaining 5 to 7 points. New Grigsby Grunow shares fell back more than 4 points, and Royal Baking Powder reacted 10 points.

In the mines, Anglo-Chilean Nitrate gained 4 points on reports of greatly improved earnings, and Copper Range advanced nearly 3 points to 24, a new high. Newmont rallied 2 points and Nevada and Premier 1 point each. Fair demand for Oils firmed up on reports of plans to form an export association and on decreased domestic crude production. Iso went. Barnsdall debenture rights again sold at a new peak, and Imperial of Canada extended its gain. Standards generally were higher. Humble selling up 3 points at one time and Ohio advancing 2 points, while Kentucky and Vacuum gained a point each. Indiana ran into selling toward the close.

Utilities mostly improved. United Gas Improvement and Mohawk and Hudson Power gaining about 2 and 3 points respectively on unconfirmed reports that the former was acquiring control of the latter. American Gas and Electric preferred gained about 3 points. Tampa Electric advanced 2½ points to a new high of 79½, then reacted to 76.

The closing price is omitted when same as the low, and both low and close when same as the high.

Wheat Market Weak and Off; Corn Stronger

CHICAGO, Oct. 17. (Exclusive)—Wheat prices were on the down grade with Winnipeg in the lead with local professionals taking a good part of the selling, and the result was at last losses of 1¼@1¾c here, while Winnipeg closed ¾@1c lower for the day. Corn showed a strong undertone and with relatively little pressure advanced around ½c over Tuesday's finish and closed ¼@¾c higher. Oats were influenced to the extent of following somewhat the trend of wheat, but the rapid pillage of the latter was not in evidence to the same degree that of late. There was little interest shown in provisions at any time of the session, the dullness being largely attributable to the lack of outside support. Prices ruled irregular, with the outcome ¼@¼c higher, while lard finished ½@¾c off.

Good rains fell over the greater part of the winter wheat belt, and seeding has been resumed in Kansas. There was talk of heavy winter wheat being bought for export from the west and southwest, and with the trade looking for an increase in shipments in the near future, buying orders of this kind was a factor in checking the declines.

The weather over the corn belt, and notably advances indicating that there would be a serious interruption to farming operations, were brought in a full line of buying of futures, and with a lack of offerings in sight, values soon showed a pretty substantial rally from the values reached yesterday.

Cash wheat was unchanged to 1¼c lower, with sales reported 2,000,000 bushels. No. 2 mixed in store and delivered, 1¼@1¾c over the December at $1.13¼@1.13¾. Receipts, 31 cars.

Cash corn was steady to 1¼c higher, with December at $1.13¼@1.13¾. Receipts, 31 cars.

HER GRANDMOTHER UPSETS REPORTS

Virginia Cherrill

NEW FILM PROSPECT'S PATH CLEAR

Virginia Cherrill Will Not be Disinherited Because of Cinema Contract

Virginia Cherrill, 20 years of age, beauty prize winner of Chicago, will not be disinherited by her wealthy grandmother because she signed a contract as leading lady for Charlie Chaplin, screen comedian.

When Miss Cherrill boarded the Santa Fe's Chief last night for Chicago she was a little bit downhearted, she said, because she had been told her grandmother, Mrs. Sidney C. Cherrill of Chicago, had threatened to disinherit her. She plans to have her mother, Mrs. B. W. Cherrill, return to Hollywood with her.

The train had hardly pulled out out of Los Angeles when the telegraph wires bore word from the elder Mrs. Cherrill denying she opposed her grand-daughter's becoming a film actress.

Miss Cherrill had expressed surprise on hearing the reports of her grandmother's opposition, as neither she nor any other member of the family had ever expressed disapproval of her going into pictures.

"Even if the reports are true," Miss Cherrill said, "I would choose a career in pictures."

Chaplin was not interested in the reports concerning his new leading lady. "She willingly affixed her name to the contract," he said. "She was chosen on her merits from more than 100 candidates for the role. All I am interested in is her return to work in ten days when the picture will be under way."

Scotch Visitor Lauds America

"I am here to study the secret of the prosperity of the greatest nation in the world, and I have heard more Scotch stories since my arrival in America than were ever written in the entire history of Scotland," said Charles Munro at the Biltmore yesterday.

Mr. Munro is chairman of the Scottish Calital Investment Company and managing director of the Scottish American Investment Company of Edinburgh. He is accompanied by his wife and two daughters, Misses Winifred and Helen.

"Seeing America is worth every penny it costs," Mr. Munro said.

CASE OF HARDY MAY GO HIGHER

McPherson Check Judgment to be Appealed

Plea Awaits Judge McComb Entering Decree

Bar Committee's Examiner Makes Announcement

As soon as Superior Judge McComb formally enters judgment dismissing the State Bar petition that Superior Judge Hardy be adjudged in contempt for refusing to testify before a bar committee investigating his acceptance of a $2500 check from Aimee Semple McPherson, special bar examiners will appeal from the decision.

This was announced yesterday by Kenyon F. Lee, who is associated with former Appellate Justice Shaw as special examiners for the bar committee appointed by the board of governors of the State Bar to investigate the check case.

After listening to arguments for two days Judge McComb announced in open court Tuesday, last, that he will sustain a demurrer of Judge Hardy's attorneys to the petition and dismiss the case. He read a long decision, but did not enter final judgment, which will be filed within a few days.

Judge McComb's decision holds that the bar committee lacks jurisdiction to compel Judge Hardy to testify because he is not a member of the State Bar, inasmuch as the bar is comprised only of attorneys who can practice law. Judges are banned by statute from practicing law and therefore are not and can not be members of the bar, the ruling declared.

Soon after the bar investigation was launched Judge Hardy, on advice of counsel, refused to testify on the ground that the committee lacked jurisdiction. Contempt proceedings were ordered by the committee and filed after Judge Hardy attempted without success to have the Appellate Court interfere. When the contempt proceedings came up for hearing, his attorney filed a demurer, which was sustained.

NEW INQUIRY IN COLLINS CASE LOOMS

Mayor Proposes to Make Independent Examination of All Circumstances

The aftermath of the Police Commission's exoneration on Tuesday of Police Captain J. J. Jones for blame in connection with the sending of Mrs. Christine Collins to the psychopathic ward came at the City Hall yesterday when Mayor Cryer and the City Council acted independently to investigate all the facts in connection with the case.

The Mayor indicated that he will study the transcript of the commission's hearing at which it is stated none of Mrs. Collins's witnesses was permitted to testify. Mrs. Collins was sent to the psychopathic ward for a sanity test after she refused to identify as her missing son, Walter Collins, the boy who later confessed that he was an impostor.

At the Council session yesterday, Councilman Randall introduced a resolution condemning the Police Commission's action in the matter and requesting the Mayor to direct the commission to reopen the case. The Councilman said that he was "astounded" at the commission's action. The resolution was sent to the Public Welfare Committee.

Attorney S. S. Hahn last night announced he had been retained of Mrs. Collins to bring civil actions against the city of Los Angeles, Chief of Police Davis and Capt. Jones, charging false imprisonment, libel and slander.

Formal complaints in the cases probably will be filed today, Hahn said, following a conference this morning with Mrs. Collins.

Canadians Plan Mammoth Rally

At a joint meeting of the executives of the Canadian Tourists' Society tomorrow at the Canadian headquarters final arrangements for the annual reunion and international celebration will be completed. This function will be held at Long Beach Plaza and Municipal Auditorium, November 11, featuring Southern California's and Los Angeles county's civic welcome to the Canadian tourists.

The Canadian Club, Winnipeg Tour Club, Dominion Old Boys' and Girls' Association, Maple Leaf Club and other organizations will attend. As in the past eighteen years, J. Hooper will be the director-general.

TROJAN SOPHS WIN RIGHT TO RULE

Freshmen Lose Liberties—and Shirts—in Annual Brawl

One Incident in Disastrous Day for Lower Classmen

Sophomores vanquish freshmen in forty-eighth annual tie-up of University of Southern California on Bovard Field.

SOPHOMORES reign supreme on the University of Southern California campus following a 2-0 victory over the freshman class in the forty-eighth annual brawl between the two classes on Bovard Field yesterday afternoon.

The freshmen showed plenty of fighting ability in the first event, the pushball contest, and succeeded in tying their opponents. Neither team was able to push the ten-foot sphere any appreciable distance.

Spurred on by the announcement that their president, Kenneth Callow, had been kidnaped by the frosh and tied up, the sophomores fought and won the sack rush by a score of 9 to 5. The object of this event was to carry as many sandbags as possible to a goal line.

In the final event, the tie-up, shirts were torn off, shoes and socks were lost, and, in many instances, contestants were forced to leave the field partially disrobed. The sophomores, after a fifteen-minute scramble, were declared victorious by a score of 7 to 6.

Several hundred Trojan men and co-eds watched the affair from the sidelines. As a result of the sophomore victory the freshmen will be forced to wear their green "dink" caps until the annual bonfire preceding the U.S.C.-Stanford football game.

ARMISTICE DAY PLANS TAKE FORM

Gov. Young Will Take Seat in Reviewing Stand for Mammoth Parade

Preparations for the celebration of the tenth anniversary of Armistice Day are rapidly going ahead under the chairmanship of Municipal Judge Bogue. Col. Frank H. Adams (retired) will act as grand marshal for the parade which will precede the formal ceremonies at the Coliseum.

During the World War Col. Adams commanded the Thirty-eighth Infantry in the Third Division. He saw action in the six major engagements, was twice wounded and was awarded the Distinguished Service Cross, Croix de Guerre with two palms, and the Legion of Honor.

The parade will form on West Jefferson street and Figueroa, and will march into the Coliseum. Gov. Young and other distinguished personages will be in the reviewing stand.

Four division commanders will be chosen within the next few days to command the four sections of the huge parade. The formal Armistice Day program will be held on Monday, November 12, this year, as the holiday itself takes place on Sunday. Armistice Day services in all the churches will be a feature of the celebration.

Veterans Lose Protest on Age Limit of Police

Requests by the Police Commission that the fixing by the Civil Service Commission of an age limit of 30 years for applicants for patrolmen be modified to except ex-service men was turned down yesterday by the Civil Service Commission. The commission recently reduced the age limit from 35 to 30 years at the request of Chief Davis. His reasons were that younger and more ambitious men would take up police work, whereas failures in other occupations were more liable to apply under the higher classification just to get a berth and sure pay.

The request by the Police Board for a modification in favor of ex-service men followed protests by World War veterans and Legionnaires.

General Manager Amsden pointed out that there are 174 applicants for patrolmen who will take the examination the 27th inst. and that twenty-three of the applicants are ex-service men.

PASSENGER AGENTS ON GO ALL DAY

Trips and Other Events Keep Delegates Stepping; Start North Today

"If worth-while sightseeing and good food are requisites in creating travel business, we should be ready to go the limit," said President A. H. Butterworth of the National Association of City Passenger Agents, which organization arrived here 150 strong yesterday at 7 a.m. from San Diego.

Mr. Butterworth made this remark at the association headquarters at the Alexandria last evening, on the return of the party from a trip to Mt. Lowe, which was preceded by a tour of Pasadena, with luncheon at the Maryland as the guests of the Los Angeles Chamber of Commerce. The day was rounded out with a dinner-dance at the Ambassador last night.

This morning the agents will be guests of the Biltmore for breakfast and then will be escorted through motion-picture studios, with luncheon at the Hollywood Pig and Whistle as the guests of C. R. Mathewson. They are to leave at 6:30 p.m. in their special Southern Pacific train for San Francisco, where the sixth annual convention of the association will open tomorrow morning.

WORK WILL SPEED UP ON RAIL ROUTE

Santa Fe's Right of Way to Harbor District Ordered Rushed to Completion

Work on the construction of a permanent right of way into the harbor district for the Santa Fe line, under the agreement with the harbor department made with the railway two years ago last spring, when a temporary right of way was arranged, is to be started immediately. The harbor board yesterday appropriated $100,000 as a starter. Bids on excavating and grading north of Anaheim viaduct will be opened November 7.

Nicholson estimated that grading, pole stages, piping, etc., can be completed by March 2, while bridge abutments at Truck Boulevard and the boulevard paving beneath the tracks can be completed by May 15. The interlocking system and steel bridge across Truck Boulevard and all construction above or north of Anaheim viaduct can be completed by June 15, 1929, he estimated.

Plans of the permanent route and trackage were submitted to the board, which spent some time going over details and discussing progress in obtaining rights of way, the result being that the engineer was instructed to keep the work going until the entire job is completed.

Nicholson's report placed total cost of the project at $667,946, divided so that the estimate north of Anaheim viaduct is $466,850 and south of that point the estimate is $211,096. Length of the permanent right of way will be 2.60 miles, of which 1.48 miles north of Anaheim viaduct will cost $315,000 a mile and the 1.12 miles south of the viaduct will cost $180,200 a mile.

Estimated cost of the 7.02 acres of land required for the trackage from Reyes street to the viaduct is $129,560, while five acres from the viaduct to the foot of McFarland avenue is $108,196.80.

Library to Have House Warming

Library commissioners yesterday announced a house warming at Angeles Mesa branch library tomorrow evening from 7 to 9 o'clock. Visitors are invited to inspect the new building, the latest of the branch libraries to be completed and the last of a group of fourteen built since October, 1926.

Mrs. Otto J. Zahn and Mrs. J. Wells Smith, library commissioners, will act as hostesses and Orra E Monnette, president of the library board, will make an address. Librarian Perry will be present and First Assistant Librarian Althea Warren and Miss Frances Woodworth, branch librarian, will be in the receiving line.

LOYOLA DRIVE NETS $1,541,000

Building Fund Campaign Ends With Luncheon

More Pledges in Sight for Enlarged University

Speakers Stress Unity of Creeds Effected

The ten-day intensive Loyola University building fund campaign was terminated yesterday at a luncheon of the citizens' central campaign committee. Rev. Father Joseph A. Sullivan, S. J., president of the university, announced that the drive netted $1,541,000 in cash and signed pledges. At the suggestion of Louis W. Myers, chairman, the committee was organized into a permanent association to continue solicitations until enough money has been raised to erect seventeen buildings on the 100-acre campus site in the Del Rey Hills.

Besides the money and pledges gathered by the committee, an additional large amount is in sight for the building program as a result of the campaign, according to Father Sullivan's announcement. He said several persons whose interest has been stimulated by the drive are considering donating between $250,000 and $500,000 each for the construction of buildings as memorials of deceased members of their respective families.

ALUMNI PLEDGE AID

It was also pointed out last night that the Loyola student body, the St. Vincent's Alumni Association and the Loyola Alumni Association will contribute additional funds. Only $57,000 of the $360,000 the Loyola student body promised to raise, none of the $100,000 pledged by the Loyola alumni and but $17,000 of the $100,000 pledge of the St. Vincent's Alumni are included in the campaign figure.

The committee meeting yesterday was attended by 600 enthusiastic volunteer workers, who listened to several speakers comment on the unity of all creeds and walks of life brought about by the drive.

The results accomplished in the campaign have been due, it was pointed out by those in charge, to the unselfish and public spirited co-operation given by civic leaders irrespective of their church or faith.

DONORS THANKED

Father Sullivan thanked the committee and donors on behalf of the university and declared that although the goal of $4,000,000 was not fully attained the drive brought about something greater and more enduring than dollars and cents—an amalgamation and cementing of friendships and fellowships between men and women of all faiths.

The same thought was emphasized by Harry Chandler, who said the drive was a splendid achievement in the common cause of education of youth and community welfare by Jew, Protestant and Catholic.

The campaign was indorsed by the Los Angeles Chamber of Commerce and many civic bodies and both lay and clerical organizations of different denominations.

During the campaign Michael F. O'Dea gave $100,000, Edward L. Doheny $100,000, Dan Murphy $75,000, Joseph Mesmer, $50,000, J. V. McNeil, $20,000, and Mrs. Lillian Mallrup $15,000. Mrs. Mallrup made her donation in honor of an uncle at yesterday's meeting.

Schuck Funeral Will be Today

Funeral services for A. B. Schuck, secretary-treasurer of the California Consolidated Building and Investment Corporation, who was fatally wounded by the accidental discharge of a gun at Big Bear Lake last Saturday night, will be conducted today at 10 a.m. at the undertaking parlors of W. M. Strother, 6240 Hollywood Boulevard.

Mr. Schuck was 50 years of age and had been a resident of Los Angeles for eight years, coming here from San Antonio, Tex. He leaves his widow, Anna; three daughters, Victoria and Lillian, students at Stanford University, and Loraine; a son Robert and a brother, H. C. Schuck of this city.

MISSING FOUR SOUGHT

William Laze and his three daughters, Missouri, Julia and Dora, are being sought, according to a letter received by The Times from Blanche Green, 1615 Thirty-first avenue, Seattle. Miss Green writes that her mother, another daughter of Williams Laze, has for some time been searching for her father and sisters. They are from Tennessee and were last heard of in St. Louis.

The Lancer

by Harry Carr

HICKMAN just leaves 200 speechless.

In the shadow of the gallows his impudence and conceit show no shrinkage. He writes homilies for the world to live by—much after the manner of Socrates.

With patronizing condescension he notifies the father of Marion Parker that he—Hickman—is willing to allow himself to be forgiven for the benefit of Mr. Parker's soul—that Parker may thereby acquire merit in heaven.

It discourages me to reflect upon the fact that it will only be possible to hang Hickman once.

CHILDISH BRAINS

A police captain without brains enough to see through the yarns of a 10-year-old boy would not seem to be necessary on the pay roll of the force—irrespective of the fact that he sent Mrs. Collins to the crazy house.

ENGLAND'S PERIL

Europe is again enjoying an attack of nervous hoohoo-jeebies—which have broken out in the form of a red rash of secret treaties.

I imagine that the ill-omening alliance between France and England has more than a slight connection with another secret treaty of which less is heard.

After shopping around Europe last winter the Amour of Afghanistan has decided that soviet Russia is the best bet in the way of buddies. Wherefore a secret treaty adding further dangers to the one signed by Russia and the Afghans in 1921.

This is a matter of terrible danger to England—the more so in that the Amour—experiencing a new zeal for civilization—is fitting up the strategic Khyber Pass with railroads and military highways.

SEVEN-CENT FARES

It is very curious to listen to the lullabaloo over 7-cent car fares.

The public will stand without much protest for price rises in any other commodity. Food prices have soared to the blue sky, but nobody hollers—much. But 2 cents added to the car fares and you would think we were going through the horrors of another Spanish Inquisition.

I think the reason is they can see the physical evidence of the rise in street-car fares. They do not know exactly upon whom to visit their wrath in the case of food prices.

HELP! HELP!

The desperate plight of the Democratic party is shown by the fact that Franklin Roosevelt has been dragged out—at the peril of his life—to run for Governor of New York.

Mr. Roosevelt is a sufferer from infantile paralysis. He was slowly recovering at one of the hot springs resorts. The doctors told him it would probably mail him an invalid for life if he went into this campaign.

But so great is the crisis that he took the chance and made the sacrifice. Al Smith is not only due for a terrible lickin' on November 6, but his defeat threatens to wreck the Democratic machine in New York State for a generation.

PRESENTS FOR JUDGES

Whatever the technical chases of Judge Hardy's case, it is very hard to make the public believe that a judge has any right to receive presents from any person engaged, at the time, in court litigation. In fact, the safety of his own reputation demands that every judge forget there is a Santa Claus.

JUDICIAL TOAST: "HOW DRY I AM!"

Courtroom Sounds Like Conclave of Masticating Equines as Contestants Over Melba Product Induce Everyone to Munch on Evidence

It was the driest case ever heard in Judge Gates's court.

Came Henry G. Cubbison, the plaintiff, to complain that he was being dealt with unjustly by the Regal Food Products Company, defendant, and to ask for an injunction to stop it.

For a long time, Cubbison related, he has been manufacturing and selling Melba toast in a distinctive package. Last summer, he complained, the Regal Food Products Company started selling a similar product under the same name, in a package almost identical with his. This already has damaged him $10,000 worth, he asserted, and he asked for an injunction to stop the defendant from selling any more toast.

Leland S. Bower, attorney for the plaintiff, placed in evidence a package of each of the parties' product. They looked very much alike. He invited Judge Gates to taste the toast. He invited the clerk and the bailiff to taste it. He even invited the newspaper reporters to have a bite, and took one himself. For a few minutes the courtroom sounded like a convention of horses. Then everyone walked over to the water cooler.

"Wish someone would start a lawsuit about some quarter cigars," Clerk Zimmerman confided to Bailiff Greenleaf.

Attorney William Haughton, for the defendant, argued that Melba toast is a generic name, like French toast, for instance, and that everyone has a right to use it. Then everyone took another drink, and Judge Gates took the petition under submission. It certainly was a dry case.

CITY AIR DEPOT SUGGESTED

Henderson Files Letter With Council Urging Land Adjoining Griffith Park Be Used

Director of Municipal Airports Henderson yesterday filed a letter with the City Council asking for an early decision by Council as to the use of 175 acres of land adjoining Griffith Park as a close-in municipal passenger and mail air terminal.

Councilman Hall has urged the Council to designate this acreage owned by the city as a terminal to supplement the municipal airport at Mines Field. The Councilman has said that the 175 acres should be used as a depot for mail and passenger planes, which would make their mail, base and headquarters at Mines Field.

In his letter Director Henderson said that to obtain mail and passenger transport operators at Mines Field, it will be of great assistance if the city is in a position to provide facilities for depot purposes at the site adjacent to Griffith Park.

That opposition to the use of this land for all depot purposes may be expected from the park department was indicated by Councilman Colden's opposition to the project expressed yesterday when Director Henderson's letter was read. Councilman Hall said the records show this land has not been dedicated for park purposes and he contends that the maximum use of the land in the public interest will be procured by its development as a close-in depot for the landing and taking on of air mail, express and passengers. Director Henderson's letter was sent to the Finance Committee for a report and recommendation.

Imperial Potentate Jones Closes With Biltmore for Convention Headquarters Accommodations

Shrine officers and official representatives from temples all over the nation will make their headquarters at the Biltmore when the fifty-fifth annual Shrine convention opens here in June, 1929.

A contract with the Biltmore was closed yesterday by a Shrine committee headed by Frank C. Jones, Imperial Potentate, of Houston, Tex., accommodations for the Imperial Council and representatives, according to James H. Price, Imperial Recorder, of Richmond, Va.

Uniformed units of the 100,000 Shriners expected here are scheduled to be housed in other Los Angeles hotels. More than fifty units have closed their contracts during the three-day conference between the visiting Shrine leaders and hotel heads.

Some of the units will make their headquarters in the special trains in the yard sidings when the Shrine army invades Los Angeles next summer.

The visiting committee completed its business last night. Most of the members will leave today for their respective homes.

Imperial Potentate Jones, however, has an itinerary to complete en route to Houston. He will leave by automobile this morning for San Diego to be feted tonight by San Diego Shriners. He will be accompanied by Leo V. Youngworth of Los Angeles, who is scheduled to be the next Imperial Potentate by

Branch Bank Held Up by Robber with Fake Infernal Machine

DARING BANDIT MAKES ESCAPE

Receives $7000 on Threat to Blow Up Place

'Bomb' Found to be Package of Old Papers

Work Done So Casually Few Suspect Wrong

A quiet-appearing and soft-spoken bandit yesterday exchanged a small square hand bag stuffed with papers for $7000 in cash from the Bank of Italy at Ninth and Main streets and had the tellers walk out of their cage to deliver the money to him on the street as though he was a valued patron. The hold-up was so quietly staged that no one in the bank except the tellers knew of it. The man then walked calmly down Ninth street and was lost in the crowd before an alarm could be given.

MONEY TURNED OVER

According to P. W. Humphrey and A. F. Kodak, tellers at the bank, the bandit sauntered up to their cage and, placing the hand bag on the ledge, demanded that they give him $7000 in cash. He backed his demand by a threat to blow them all up if there was any trifling on their part.

"I want you boys to know that I mean business," he said in a confidential tone. "I've got an infernal machine in this bag and my thumb is on the catch. If I press it we will all be blown to hell together."

The bank employes placed the money in a canvas bag and then, on the bandit's instruction, preceded him to the street, where they turned the loot over to him. He left his handbag on the street and slipped away into the crowd.

REWARD OFFERED

Police were notified and the bag was taken to headquarters where fingerprints were obtained from its surface. The high-explosive experts of the force then opened the bag and found it filled with folded newspapers, collectors' bill cases and other papers.

According to police officials the robbery, by its very casualness was one of the most unusual ever perpetrated in the city, in view of the fact that the bandit faced certain capture if his bluff had been called. Customers in the bank at the time, and other employes, had not the slightest intimation that a robbery was being committed until the bandit had escaped and the two tellers rushed into the office to give the alarm. The hold-up man appeared to be about 30 years of age, was quietly dressed and spoke excellent English.

The Bank of Italy has offered a reward of $1000 for the capture of the bandit, dead or alive. Police so far have only the fingerprints taken from the bag and a description of the man to work upon.

Science Saves Dog From Early Grave

He's Glad to Remain Among Living

Oscar expresses appreciation to Dr. T. G. Beard for saving his life.

OSCAR, a 2-year-old English bull belonging to J. R. Sergel of 2370 Cheremoya avenue, is enjoying the distinction of being the only dog in dogdom, as far as known to have undergone a tracheotomy.

A few weeks ago Oscar was gorging himself on small bones when one became lodged in his throat. Eventually his throat became paralyzed and when he was taken to the Ambassador Dog and Cat Hospital, 3694 Beverly Boulevard, he was considered well on his way to dog heaven." As a last resort Dr. T. G. Beard, who was in charge of the hospital at the time, procured a trachea tube, and then proceeded to give Oscar a general anesthetic and to slit his windpipe. The trachea tube was inserted and for three days Oscar breathed through this device. Dr. Beard removed the bone in his throat and in three days the paralysis was gone. He was given another whiff of ether and his throat sewed up just as good as new.

JESSIE CLARK IN RIVERSIDE

Northcott's Niece Keeps Her Moves Secret

More Revelations Promised Before Trial

Girl Comes Voluntarily to Testify in Trial

Miss Jessie Clark, 19-year-old niece of Gordon Stewart Northcott, and whose statement to American consular authorities in Canada started an investigation of the activities of her uncle at his Wineville chicken ranch which resulted in indictments charging him with the murder of four boys, arrived in Riverside from Vancouver, B. C., last night.

Mystery covered movements of the girl from the time of her departure from Vancouver with Mr. and Mrs. Vancouver with Mr and Mrs. George H. Morton, residents of Elsinore, on the 8th inst., to her secret arrival in Riverside.

CONFERS WITH ATTORNEY

Immediately upon arrival in Riverside Miss Clark went into a secret conference with Attorney Loyal C. Kelley, former District Attorney of Riverside county, who has been retained to protect her interests in the investigation and trials growing out of the revelations on activities of Northcott and Mrs. Sarah Louise Northcott, her grandmother, on the isolated chicken farm.

According to Kelley, Miss Clark has been living under a terrible strain since the first intimations of criminal happenings charged to her uncle and grandmother, and her whereabouts will be kept secret until after a week's rest and the return of the two wanted prisoners and authorities from Canada.

It was learned, however, that Miss Clark completed the trip from Canada to Riverside with the Mortons, as per her agreement with Riverside investigators, and is willing to tell her complete version of the chicken farm activities, which will charge that Northcott and his mother planned the death, burial and burning of the two Winslow boys and the Collins lad.

ADDS LITTLE TO STATEMENTS

Miss Clark, according to the Riverside county authorities, came to California from Canada to testify of her own free will in the trials against her relatives, and will substantiate the testimony and revelations of her brother Sanford Clark on which the four indictments are based.

Efforts of her attorney to keep her arrival in Riverside a secret were somewhat successful early last night, but certain promises made to the authorities caused Miss Clark to announce her presence. The girl could add very little to her previous statements about the murder charges, but indicated very clearly that she is ready to play an important part in clearing up the mystery that surrounds the isolated farm and the disappearance of the four boys.

While declining to be further questioned, except in the presence of her attorney, Miss Clark intimated that she would have further revelations to make on the strange case before the trial, and would aid her brother and the Riverside authorities in substantiating the charges against her uncle and grandmother.

QUARREL BETWEEN NORTHCOTTS WARMER

VANCOUVER (B.C.) Oct. 17.—Gordon Stewart Northcott's near breach with his mother over the employment of attorneys to defend both of them for the asserted Riverside, Cal., chicken-farm murders, appeared widening today when the youth insisted that Frank Lyons of Vancouver be retained as counsel for both of them.

Tomorrow morning Northcott will appear for his third time in a Vancouver court and probably will be remanded back to Oakalla Prison for another eight days to await the return here of California officers from Calgary.

Northcott's mother makes her fight against extradition there tomorrow, according to word received here today, and in case she is ordered extradited by Chief Justice Simmons of the Calgary Supreme Court, it has been indicated by her attorney, J. McKinley Cameron, that a right of appeal will be waived.

Mrs. Northcott, who is held in the Calgary Jail, insists that if she is returned to California that both her son and herself be represented by Cameron, the latter announcing that he has had an offer from a Los Angeles concern of attorneys to handle the case from their office.

Northcott, on the other hand, has asserted that he will conduct his defense alone unless he can be represented by the attorney now acting for him.

It will be early November before the boy and his mother can be returned to California if another delay in the extradition hearing is met with, it was indicated by officials here today.

BOY SCOUTS ENLISTED IN PARK BOND DRIVE

Every Boy Scout in California is being enlisted in the campaign for the State park bond issue which is to be voted on at the November election, it was announced yesterday by Maj. Frederick Russell Burnham, chief scout of the British armies in the Boer War, member of the California State Park Commission and member of the executive committee of the national Boy Scout organization. Calling on each Los Angeles Boy Scourt to prevail on his parents to support the bond issue, E. B. De Groot, Los Angeles Scout executive, has written letters to 1500 adult Scout leaders throughout the country calling on them to organize their troops into park bond supporting organizations. Similar letters are to be sent to every Boy Scout council in the State, Maj. Burnham said.

Motion-Picture Schools to be Investigated After Many Complaints

Grand jury investigation of motion-picture schools in Hollywood was ordered yesterday by Ellis A. Eagan, deputy District Attorney, supervising grand jury matters, upon the complaint of Mrs. Margaret Russell, 6806 Hollywood Boulevard, who stated that she had paid $250 for a course of instruction with promise of a position.

Mrs. Russell charged that after paying the fee she was given a brief instruction course in make-up and released from the school without a certificate or diploma of any kind and has since been found no employment.

Complaints by five other pupils of the same school have been made according to Eagan, and the asserted victims will be called before the grand jury at once to give their versions of the affair.

WOMAN ARRESTED IN ASSERTED FRAUD

Upon the complaint of two women that she had obtained money from them by giving them worthless photographers' tickets and promising to submit their photographs to motion-picture studios, Mrs. Sarah Jackson, 63 years of age, was arrested yesterday by Detective-Lieutenants Deatherage and Loomis. Mrs. Jackson, who said she is a writer and lives in a hotel at Sixth and Flower streets, is being held on a charge of suspicion of grand theft.

The women who made the complaint against her are Mrs. Marie Kaumans of 1244 West Eleventh street, and Mrs. J. F. McCarthy of 1936 Ellendale Place.

MAMMOTH CIVIC PLAN EXPLAINED

Cutting Down of Bunker Hill Subject at Meeting

Investment Head Addresses Property Owners

Project Declared Not to be Difficult Problem

In an address to the Building Owners' and Managers' Association at Hotel Clark yesterday, C. C. Bigelow, president of the Southwestern Investment Corporation, explained his plan for the razing of Bunker Hill.

He asserted that the project should not be viewed merely as a sectional one, but rather in the light of an essential step in promoting the welfare of the whole city. Its very magnitude, he said, makes it certain that it will attract great public attention, and that fact makes it an attractive proposition for major financing.

The only area reduction resulting from the razing of the hill will come from the allotments made for widening streets and alleys and other details of subdividing in conformity with Civic Center plans, as well as for facilitating municipal progress in other directions. In measuring property frontage, the survey tape always is held level and not according to ground contour. Adequate arrangements have been considered for disposal of the ground to be removed. Principal traffic will not be impeded during the work.

SERIES OF PROJECTS

The plan is in effect a succession of smaller projects so that the benefits will manifest themselves as the work progresses. The removal of the hill is a simple engineering feat. The chief problem concerns the bringing of all interested parties into such organization as will enable the carrying through of the work under one direction. The work expeditiously can be carried through in about five years.

The meeting manifested deep interest in the project and the organization will discuss it at a subsequent session when opportunity will be afforded for an expression of approval of the plan by the board of directors in behalf of the association.

NOT DIFFICULT PROBLEM

Mr. Bigelow stated that there is nothing whatever complicated about the project and pointed out its salient points. He explained the plan of organizing a holding company to take over, either by purchase or stock issuance, all the property embraced in the project. Stating that there has been a commitment of $25,000,000 for financing the project, he said that after carefully budgeting all expenditures he finds there is a balance of $3,000,000 left. The financing plan, he explained, provides for the issuing of preferred stock at $25 par with a retirement value of $50 per share, such stock and its accrued dividends to be applicable, if the holder so desires, to the repurchase of property within the regraded area, less a maximum average of $3 per square foot for retirement costs. No-par common stock also is to be issued, but is not to draw dividends until after the preferred stock has been retired or called for retirement.

One of the escrow conditions set up is that at least 85 per cent of the privately owned property within the area must be deeded to the holding company. A complete reappraisal of the property will further the determination to provide equitable compensation for all property owners.

COMMUNITY WELFARE

Removal of the hill, said Mr. Bigelow, would make of the area a convenient, beautiful and valuable district. It also will be of benefit to the surrounding property, he pointed out, and of general benefit in that it will mean the removal of a troublesome traffic barrier.

He believes that it would be well to inaugurate the work by opening Hill and Figueroa streets at their northern ends, but said these details and others of a technical character will be given the consideration of carefully chosen engineering consultants.

To try to carry through such a project under an assessment plan would take a great many years, he declared.

Lemuel C. Freer, first vice-president of the Building Owners' and Managers' Association, presided and Mr. Bigelow was presented by Executive Secretary Copper. Fred K. Jones, president of the Spokane Building Owners' and Managers' Association, was among the guests.

Suit Including Lyons Dismissed

Although State Senator Lyons declared himself ready for immediate trial of the suit against him and others for an accounting of their trust as directors of Chevra Chessed Shel Emeth, the Jewish Free Burial Society, when it came up for hearing before Judge Schmidt in Superior Court yesterday, the complaint was thrown out of court by a ruling sustaining the objections of other defendants.

The action has been pending since 1926. Senator Lyons declared in open court that it had been filed against him to embarrass him in his campaign that year, and that he was ready to waive all technical objections and go to trial on the complaint as it stood.

PAIR AWAIT CALL IN SUIT OF ACTRESS

Jack Donovan and Mother Ready to Appear Before Jury Against Mae Murray

Jack Donovan, accompanied by his mother, appeared at the grand jury rooms yesterday morning and announced their willingness to testify regarding the charges he is seeking to bring against Mae Murray, motion-picture actress, but after waiting until noon without being called, both prospective witnesses departed from the Hall of Justice.

Donovan, who recently lost a civil suit brought by Miss Murray over the purchase of a home which she bought from him, has since sought to obtain an indictment against the actress charging her with attempting to influence witnesses and twisting facts during the trial.

Dep. Dist.-Atty. Egan, in charge of grand jury affairs, yesterday said that as yet he has not found sufficient facts to warrant an indictment, but the case will not be dropped until a complete investigation has been made.

In a signed statement issued yesterday, Donovan said his action in seeking a grand jury hearing was taken purely to clear his name and that of his mother of imputations of forgery.

He denies rumors that he instituted the investigation because of "selfish grounds and as a means of attempting to belittle her in the eyes of the public."

OWNER OF 'BORROWED' CAR GENIAL

Wealthy Youth's Plea for Unauthorized User of His Auto Halts Prosecution

Because Charles Patrick Grogan, wealthy stepson of Dr. Thomas Young, who was tried for killing the boy's mother, didn't want a garage attendant to go to the penitentiary for borrowing his automobile, William O'Day, 23 years of age, will get another chance.

Grogan appeared in Municipal Judge Baird's court yesterday as a State's witness against O'Day. He declared that the latter "borrowed" his expensive automobile, which was parked in a garage at Eighth and Olive streets where O'Day is night attendant, driving it around town for about an hour. O'Day was arrested as he was about to return the car, according to A. S. Goldman, his attorney, and had no intention of stealing it.

Dep. Dist.-Atty. Kearney agreed that preliminary hearing of the case be continued until April 2, next, with the understanding that it be dismissed at that time if O'Day has had no other legal difficulties in the meantime.

Fall in Store Has Sequel in Damage Action

When Mrs. Sophia Jelks slipped and fell on the stairway leading to the basement of a department store on November 13, 1926, she sustained injuries, she asserts, which should be paid for in the sum of $27,500 by the company.

The large amount is asked in a damage suit brought by Mrs. Jelks against Hackel & Gutterman, owners of the department store, which went to trial yesterday before Superior Judge Alvarado.

The plaintiff asserts that she tripped and fell over a defective piece of metal that was used to bind the padding on the steps of the stairway. She further contends that in falling she received a contusion of the skull, received internal injuries and that since the accident has suffered from insomnia, nervousness and nausea.

The company answers the action declaring Mrs. Jelks contributed to her injuries by her own negligence in not watching her step; that her fall was caused by not properly placing her foot on the step.

Police Seize Drug Suspect

Jack Kramer, 34 years of age of 1115 South New Hampshire avenue, was arrested yesterday on a bench warrant issued by Superior Judge Fricke.

Kramer was arrested on December 18, 1927, on a charge of violation of the State Narcotic Act, but was released on bail. He failed to appear for arraignment and the bench warrant was issued. According to Capt. Seager of the narcotic squad, Kramer has a long record as a dealer in narcotics in the East.

MODEL FREIGHT YARD SHOWN IN OPERATION

A trip through the modern Lancaster freight yards of the Texas and Pacific Railway at Fort Worth, via motion pictures, was a feature at yesterday's luncheon of the Los Angeles Transportation Club. The Texas and Pacific Railway men were hosts of the day, with Irving Wapple, assistant traffic manager of the road, as chairman. The Lancaster yards are among the most modern and extensive in the country. Another feature of the luncheon was an address on the human element in the transportation business by Dr. Paul W. Ivey of the extension department of the University of Southern California. W. H. Andrews, vice-president of the club, presided over the general meeting in the absence of President Loretz.

JANITOR KILLING PUZZLES POLICE

Burbank Physician Tells Conflicting Stories

Slayer Contends He Shot in Self-Defense

Traces of Alcohol Bear Out Intoxication Theory

Burbank police were wading through a maze of conflicting statements last night in an endeavor to learn the cause of the shooting yesterday at noon of Jack Stachel, 43-year-old janitor, by Dr. Frank L. Burleigh, Burbank physician.

Burleigh was taken to the County Jail late yesterday after being held all afternoon for questioning by Police Chief Bergh of Burbank. He was booked on suspicion of a felony pending the Coroner's inquest at 2 p.m. today.

Dr. Burleigh called Burbank police at noon yesterday and announced that he had shot a man. Officers went to the physician's office at 319 Victory Building and found Stachel gasping his last breaths. He died before medical assistance could arrive or police could obtain a statement. The body was taken to the county morgue.

CONFLICTING STORY

The physician declined at first to make any statement concerning the shooting but questioning during the afternoon brought forth a disconnected story which conflicted in many points but always carried the contention of self-defense.

Burleigh's irrational statements led Chief Bergh and Deputies Croushorn and Brewster of the Sheriff's office to declare they believe the doctor was intoxicated despite a statement from Dr. George T. Pomeroy, who examined him, that he could find no trace of effects from liquor.

The officers' contention was borne out last night when Dr. Benjamin Blank, county physician, stated after an examination of Burleigh that he found traces of alcohol, and that it was probable the physician was intoxicated at the time of the shooting. The county official expects to be called on to testify to that effect at the inquest today.

Stachel had been employed intermittently by Dr. Burleigh for six years, according to the latter's statement, and had performed janitor service and odd jobs. Stachel went to the doctor's office early yesterday morning, the physician declared, and threatened to kill him with a steel mallet which he grabbed from Burleigh's desk.

TELLS OF FIGHT

Stachel landed two light blows on his would-be victim, the accused man said, but the mallet finally was wrested from the asserted attacker. When he made an effort to get possession of the hammer again, the doctor declared that he grabbed a pistol from a drawer and fired five shots, two of which took effect.

Dr. Burleigh declared there had been no quarrel previous to Stachel's attack on him. He made similar statements to police, but previous to this version of the affair he had made other assertions which conflicted materially with the ones made just before he was taken to the County Jail, the officers declare.

His first statement was to the effect that he and Stachel had quarreled about some work done by the latter and that Stachel had not struck him with the mallet, but merely threatened to do so. He also declared that the shooting occurred at noon while his later statement was that he had shot Stachel at 9:30 a.m.

Police discounted the statement made regarding the time of the affray due to the fact, they said, that Stachel could not have lived more than a few minutes after receiving two wounds in the heart and that he still was breathing when police arrived at Burleigh's office.

NOTIFIES POLICE

Burleigh also told police in the early afternoon that he and Stachel had had a few drinks together before the quarrel, but later denied that either had been drinking.

Officer Steddom, who answered the physician's call, stated that when he entered the death room, the self-admitted slayer was sitting in a chair at his desk while his victim lay gasping out his life on the floor near by. In notifying police of the shooting, Burleigh calmly said over the phone, "I have shot a man in my office. Send an officer."

Tenants in the same building said that Burleigh and Stachel had been quarreling for the past several days. At the time the shooting took place, Police Judge Crawford was in an adjoining office. He said he had heard nothing in the way of a disturbance before the shots rang out.

Dr. Burleigh has been a physician and surgeon in Burbank for a number of years and is well known throughout the city. He resides at 1725 South Alameda street, but had spent all of Tuesday night in his office, he said. His wife was with him throughout yesterday afternoon.

Stachel is said by police to have gone to Burbank from Detroit, where his mother, wife and two sons live. According to police, he has served a term in the penitentiary and had other police records.

Rebuilding of Church Starts

Construction was begun yesterday on the addition to the Little Church of the Flowers, Forest Lawn Memorial Park. The main part of the building will be changed only by the rebuilding of the chancel to make it more exactly like the old church of Stoke Poges, England, after which it is patterned. The addition will include an auxiliary chapel and new crematory equipment, it is announced.

This work is the first step in an extensive building program, which includes, among other things, the erection of a new church, to be known as the Wee Kirk o' the Heather, a replica of the Scottish church where Annie Laurie worshiped.

Nietzsche Will be Discussed in German Tongue

The philosophy of Friedrick Nietzsche and its effect on society of today will be discussed in German tomorrow night at the Central Public Library by Prof. Rolf Hoffman of the German department of the University of California. This will be the second of a series of twelve lectures in German to be given at the library under the auspices of German professors in Southern California universities. Prof. William Diamond of U.C.L.A. is in charge of the series.

The first of the series was attended by an audience that overflowed the capacity of the lecture hall, many of the listeners having come from near-by cities to hear the German language used in a cultural discourse. The lectures are free and will deal with interesting cultural subjects of special interest to German-speaking persons.

LEWIS CASE EVIDENCE TO END TODAY

Government Closes Long Trial of Former Julian Head and Co-defendants

After a grilling cross-examination of L. R. Espinosa, special accountant for the Department of Justice, conducted by defense counsel yesterday afternoon, it was stated that today the government will complete its case against S. C. Lewis, former head of the Lewis Oil Corporation and once president of the Julian Petroleum Corporation, and of Jacob Berman, alias Jack Bennett, and C. O. Steppe.

The three are on trial in United States District Judge Henning's court on charges of using the mails to defraud in connection with the sale of nearly $1,000,000 in gold notes of the Lewis company.

The closing of the government's case was featured by numerous controversies between Asst. U. S. Attys. Armstrong and Peterson and defense counsel, with Lewis acting as his own attorney. It was charged by Lewis and other defense counsel that the government's figures were inaccurate because they did not include all of the Lewis company's books.

Warehouse Quiz Will be Started

Creation of more inclose air space by the construction of a new warehouse at Los Angeles Harbor, opposed by the California Warehousemen's Association and the Los Angeles Warehouse Company on the ground there are too many empty warehouses already is to be the subject of an investigation by the Harbor Board.

The board yesterday directed that the officers of the McRoy Engineering and Construction Company appear before it at its next meeting and show cause why the commissioners should not join in a protest before the State Railroad Commission. The company has applied to the State body for permission to construct the warehouse as a public necessity.

Today's Bible Text

My soul longeth, yea, even fainteth for the courts of the Lord; my heart and my flesh crieth out for the living God. Psalm lxxxiv:2.

HAPPY MEDIUMS

An eastern newspaper advertises our well-known climate by mentioning that it is so balmy out here that citizens never have to change their underwear. Maybe this will explain some of the rush from the centers of population.

HARD BOILED

Over 150,000,000 eggs were sold on a recent busy day on the Chicago mercantile exchange. It is suspected that a couple of spoiled ones slipped by in the rush. Maybe the yeggmen of the city are getting ready for a busy season.

GETTING READY

Police officers found three revolvers and a machine gun in the automobile of one of the Capone boys in Chicago. The young man was taking his girl out for a spin. The arsenal items represent the idea of preparedness in the Capone family.

THE SHOW GIRL

A star showman says that the perfect girl of the stage for the next generation will be five feet ten inches tall and weigh 135 pounds. Beauty becomes more impressive as it acquires height and this is true of physical as well as facial endowment. Instead of giving the little girl a big hand we want a big girl with a little hand.

THE CAVE MAN

An official of the Barbers' Supply Dealers' Association tells a convention that whiskers are coming back. He says it will be because of their sex appeal. He indicates that back in their hearts women like their men hairy and nowadays a man's only way of showing his superior individuality is in raising a beard. The maidens have everything else. So this party thinks that men will run to whiskers in self-defense. The caveman always had a heavy crop of brush.

THE STRIKE EVIL

The unions appear to be in full control of the labor field in Australia and as a result strikes are on the daily bill of fare. The labor bosses apparently start them—just to prove their authority. There were 436 strikes last year, an increase of more than 20 per cent over the previous year. The workers lost $6,000,000 or $7,000,000 in wages and some communities had to be placed under the mole. Nothing is ever gained by a strike, but the labor leaders simply cannot get away from the habit.

WISDOM BY WIRELESS

Now that the radio is being extensively used in the public schools of the country the possibility of its being pitched to the regular course of study is being understood. Lesson periods of from fifteen to thirty minutes may be worked in so that the general public as well as the student may find benefit and advantage in listening to the voice of some trained and competent authority on a theme of enduring interest.

A pioneer declaration of this nature is made in connection with a course in musical expression and interpretation which will extend for the school year and will begin on Thursday morning, October 18. The lessons will follow on the same day for the next thirty-six weeks, filling the half hour from 11:30 until noon and will be spread over the usual chain of national broadcasting. This may easily take the place of the music lesson in many of the public schools of the nation. At any rate it will prove educational as well as entertaining and the lessons will be made available in printed form to schoolrooms that have not yet been radio-equipped.

Naturally the work will be in the hands of experts of the highest class and will be linked for further interpretation with the Standard Symphony hour, which will be moved from Sunday to Thursday and be opened at 7:30 p.m. By a little judicious juggling of wave lengths some of the best instructive talent of the country might be made available to the humblest of country schools. In this case the Standard Oil Company is undertaking the pioneering, but there is no telling what shape the idea will ultimately form. One may get almost anything by radio except a ham sandwich.

THE ANTI-BOXING BILL

With all respect to the praiseworthy motives inspiring many churchmen and other good citizens now urging the repeal of California's present boxing law, The Times inclines to the belief that their attitude is due to an incomplete understanding of the situation.

Their purpose in supporting the repeal initiative (Proposition No. 5 on the November 6 ballot) is to serve the interests of clean sport, to eliminate objectionable features from boxing matches and to insure proper regulation for them, both for the safety of participants and for the protection of the public against degrading influences. With these laudable aims there can be absolutely no quarrel. Every good citizen will subscribe to them.

But to accomplish these ends they propose to abolish the very law which was passed in 1924 to throw proper safeguards about boxing in California and to regulate it in the interests of the public and of boxers themselves. They propose to return to the previous condition of unregulated, so-called "amateur" boxing whose grave abuses were largely responsible for the present regulatory law.

This law, adopted four years ago by the votes of more than 500,000 California men and women, created a State Athletic Commission of three unsalaried members appointed by the Governor and having complete control over boxing exhibitions in the State, both amateur and professional, where admission fees are charged. Under that act all such boxing matches must be conducted under official license granted only to recognized and responsible men and upon a satisfactory showing of proper conditions. This commission, which it is now proposed to abolish, has been in operation for four years and few who remember the old days of "bootleg boxing" will maintain that it has not vastly improved the conditions surrounding the sport.

The chief objection cited by those who would do away with this law is that it permits contests, not exceeding twelve rounds, by professionals for cash purses in place of the old four-round amateur contests for medals or other prizes, but no cash. It is declared that such professional contests are brutalising, dangerous to the participants, promotive of gambling and the like.

Here again these sincere and worthy citizens betray their unfamiliarity with the actual facts. More than in almost any other sport, training, good physical condition and scientific knowledge are essential to the success and safety of the boxer. In all of these the professional excels. He makes a business of it and his livelihood depends upon a strict observance of the stringent rules of the ring. Further, professional contests conducted under the auspices of the State Athletic Commission are supervised by men who know their business. Every fighter is examined by a competent physician before he goes in the ring. Expert referees, chosen for their knowledge and integrity, see to it that the contests are fair and that the many rules against foul fighting are rigidly enforced.

No such safeguards surround the average amateur contest. The participants are comparatively ill-trained, often in poor physical condition and necessarily dependent for victory more upon brute strength than on scientific boxing. The bouts are conducted by amateur officials, without medical supervision and under the auspices of organizations answerable to no one for abuses permitted.

As to the length of the contests, the records of boxing show that most knockouts occur in the four-round preliminaries, chiefly because the participants are less well trained and less skillful than the main-event boxers.

The offering of purses and prizes is a practice common to all professional sport. It is not only unobjectionable in itself but it offers an incentive to participation by men of superior skill and science, thereby raising the quality of the exhibition and eliminating dangers due to poor training and lack of knowledge.

The experience of years in California goes to show that the four-round "amateur," no-purse system offered no real obstacle to professionals of low grade and few scruples. Its lack of regulation actually helped them to bring boxing into disrepute. In the guise of amateurs they cut their unskilled opponents to pieces in the ring without official hindrance and then sold back for cash to the equally unscrupulous promoters of the fight the "medals" awarded them. Such contests actually did have all the objectionable features imputed to the present law and no redress was possible. Gambling was rampant and the "fixing" of fights, made easy by the absence of competent supervision, was a common scandal. No boxer, promoter or boxing club can indulge in such practices under the present law without imminent danger of prompt and permanent ouster by the Athletic Commission through the revocation of their licenses.

While it has nothing to do with the merits of the question, it is worthy of mention that abolition of the present law would rob our disabled veterans of much of their monetary aid. The law under fire provides that 5 per cent of gate receipts of boxing contests shall go to the disabled veteran fund and, to date, more than $515,000 for veteran relief has come from this source, exclusive of amounts raised by boxing exhibitions directly sponsored by veterans' organizations.

Despite clamor to the contrary, boxing in California today is probably on the highest plane it ever has been, due to the high character and integrity of the men who have comprised the State Athletic Commission and to the fact that the operation of the present law has driven most of the unscrupulous promoters and fighters out of business in this State. The California system is in successful operation in thirty other States.

The value of boxing as a sport is universally recognized. It is encouraged by the government in all branches of our military service. That it should be regulated and objectionable features kept out is undisputed.

It was for that reason that The Times recommended the adoption of the present law four years ago. It is for that reason that The Times recommends its retention now. The initiative measure which would repeal the law should be defeated.

The LEE SIDE O' LA
BY Lee Shippey

WE SUPPOSE it's because we're always searching for something, but somehow we got invited to one of the regular Tuesday luncheons of the research committee of the Chamber of Commerce.

Maybe you never heard of the research committee, but it's quite a committee. All its members are representatives of important business organizations, each is an expert on some line of information. Dan McCarry is chairman and Guy F. Marion, manager of the chamber's research department, is secretary. And when it gets together it discusses taxes, transportation, population, the accuracy of school books, the potentialities of proposed legislation and all sorts of things which touch the life of a great city and which, therefore, some big business or public service interest has had reason to investigate. And then Mr. McCarry tells a funny story and it stands adjourned.

The thing which impressed us was the thoroughness and earnestness with which those men, representing "soulless corporations," go into investigations which must call for a great deal of labor and thought. They are all busy men, and their time is valuable to their companies. But not one objected that he "didn't have time" when some new job was wished on him.

A Great Idea

The meeting had its lighter side, too. While the minutes of the latest previous meeting were being read, the gentleman on our left whispered: "We cut all that out in my committee in our company. Once a year we approve all the minutes in a lump."

Think how that plan would speed up half the dull and tedious club meetings and board meetings in town!

Big Biz and Football

Another explained the system on which his company schedules its directors' meetings.

"We wait till the football schedules are out," he said, "and then plan to have meetings here when the big games are played here, and in San Francisco when they are played up there."

It all made big business seem a lot more human. And we came away convinced that every big organization in town is earnestly working for the public benefit. Not altogether unselfishly, for, of course, they know that what is good for Southern California and all of California is good for them, but none the less sincerely.

The Indestructible Alibi

These girls who comb their golden hair
Or hair of brown, upon the car,
They do not fret me any more,
No more their actions I deplore.
And here's the jolly reason why—
They've given us an alibi.

When wife picks from my sleeve a fair
Strange hair, and seems prepared for war,
I smile and say: "Ah, yes, you see,
The girl who sat in front of me
Kept combing. I suppose it blew."
And all's serene. She does that, too.

No Greener Than We, What Is It?

Lee: I was amused at the reply of a green grocer who, asked if he had any kohlrabi, said: "Not today. Yesterday I had some, but nobody required for it. I don't believe one person in 100 knows what a collar robbie is." Green grocer is right!—J. M. W.

Strong for Health

Well, a quart of prevention is worth a pound of cure.

The Dawn That Hasn't Came

L.S.: During the showing of fall fashions on the screen of a local theater we read the title: "A Chick Costume." But there wasn't a feather in it.

Evidently some of the title writers don't mean any enlightenment amongst themselves when they write, "Came the Dawn."—V. R.

LOYALTY CRUSADE

We have been having national air meets, political conventions, movie revivals and other notable events. Now the churches of the city are developing an eight-week program beginning with October 21.

The Presbyterians, Methodists, Baptists and United Presbyterians of Southern California, comprising in the neighborhood of 400 churches aggregating hundreds of thousands of members and constituents, are uniting in what is called the Loyalty Crusade.

The prime purpose is to boost attendance and faithfulness on the part of those already churched, and to stimulate them to aggressive effort in lay evangelism. Various mass meetings are synchronized for these four great denominations.

After roll call Sunday on October 21, Family Day follows on the 28th. The family is basic for both church and state. When the hearthstone crumbles, the corner-stone of the republic is gone.

Civic Day on November 4 will be peculiarly timely. Coming on the eve of the election, a city in prayer may not be amiss.

Neighbors' Day on November 11 will challenge attention. Social questions are being peddled from door to door by the foolish and incompetent. False propaganda is being broadcast and contagions from diseased minds are being disseminated. The church is fit to develop the art of living together.

Symphony Day on November 18 will be attractive. The church has literally sung its way over the world. Its music rose above the crackling of martyr fires in Europe, was heard through the storms across the Atlantic, over the mountains and across the prairies of this country. Its people yet conquer strongholds by trumpets and bugle calls.

Other religious bodies are catching the infection and are knocking for admission. Pasadena, Long Beach and San Diego with their contiguous communities are rallying under the same leadership. Dr. George F. Dowey of the General Presbyterian Board is director-general. The Methodists have imported Dr. Walter Torbet of Philadelphia to head up their campaign under the general management.

In times of great prosperity religion has a tendency to languish. When men's granaries are full, they allow their lines of communication with the skies to fall into disuse. When they are successful, they go to their wardrobes and not to their prayer closets for clothes.

Loyalty is a big word. That four of the major bodies of Christendom are uniting in effort is significant.

BEAUTY AND BOOZE

A prominent surgeon recently told a convention of beauty experts that prohibition was making the men of America handsome. It is difficult for a persistent lusher to retain his manly beauty. The guy who devotes himself to hard liquor will have an inflamed beak and watery eyes—both of which are detrimental to standards of masculine beauty. They say that Volstead did a lot to shine up the faces of the men of America when he put over his well-known act. Also when a woman gives more attention to synthetic gin than to her creams she passes out as a looker.

OBLIVION WAITS

Under a new law in Czecho-Slovakia suicide will be given a quasi-legal standing. If because of an incurable disease or other cogent reason a man wishes to shuffle off he may have his case considered by a couple of doctors. If they give consent a gentle but efficient method of euthanasia will be his portion. He will pass out without pain or publicity. A certain number of people will find even a contemplation of this program horrifying, nevertheless there may be cases in which it could be defended. When a patient finds himself in a helpless and hopeless condition a painless passage to the other shore would ease not only himself but those to whom his care had become a burden. If this law is to be fully applied the results in Prague will be watched with interest by students and philosophers in other lands.

BONDS OF THE BULGARS

Bulgaria has been a kingdom for twenty years and King Boris has been on the throne for just ten of them. Naturally the country is going to celebrate this dual anniversary by floating a loan of $25,000,000. If Uncle Sam is real good he will have a chance to take $10,000,000 of this bond issue. The peoples of European countries are expected to take the rest. Bulgaria was with the Germans during the big war, but has been forgiven by this time and her bonds are just as pretty as anybody's.

OCTOBER VOYAGERS

By James J. Montague

I've never seen the tiny folk
Who live amid the fern
Until on maple, birch and oak
The leaves begin to turn,
But I've been told that through the night
These dwellers in the dews
Watch sharply till the leaves alight
And use them for canoes.

I've never caught them at their work
Although I've often stood
In places where they love to lurk
Amid the moulting wood.
But when the town was still in bed
To have its last sweet dream
I've seen their boats of pink and red
Go floating down the stream.

Sometimes they travel out of sight
As on the bank I stand,
Again they veer to left or right
To find their way to land
And come to rest where old man mink
Has made his damp abode.
But never have I seen one sink
Or spill its precious load.

And if sometime you'll rise at dawn
And stand a while and look
Across the frost-encrusted lawn
That stretches toward the brook,
Though not a single tiny tar
May ever meet your eye,
If you look yonder past the bar
You'll see the boats go by.

The Live-Stock Industry

BAKERSFIELD, Oct. 12.—[To the Editor of The Times:] I wish to bring to your attention and to the attention of the people of California, Initiative Measure 21, as it pertains to the live-stock industry.

This bill, if enacted would prevent us from doing many of the things necessary in the handling of our live stock. It is necessary to dehorn our animals, so that they will not injure each other in the dairy lots, feed pens, or while in transit. In handling horses, about the most humane method used to hold a young and nervous or mean horse for shoeing, clipping, doctoring, etc., is by placing the harmless twitch upon his nose. If enforced, this so-called humane measure would prevent the use of a twitch, and even the use of a whip at a horse show.

These are but a few of the things which the live-stock people and the farmer would be prohibited from doing, should this pernicious measure No. 21, fostered by the Humane Societies of this State, become a law.

Harbor Rates

WILMINGTON, Oct. 9.—[To the Editor of The Times:] I wish to express my appreciation of your article which appeared in your paper on the fifth of this month, giving the Wilmington and San Pedro Joint Rate Committee a lift in trying to bring about adjustments of rates for the benefit of Southern California as a whole.

I believe that this is something that every man in Los Angeles and vicinity should join in and show their interest in an endeavor to get these adjustments made into our port, equal to those given to San Francisco and other ports.

J. P. PUCKETT,
President Wilmington Transfer and Storage Company.

Effective Cartoons

LOS ANGELES, Oct. 7.—[To the Editor of The Times:] I deside to extend my compliments in regard to the cartoon in this morning's Times. The practical presentation of the two extremes are indeed striking and effective. The candidate who has been dubbed "The Great American Hypnotist" and who has expressed in plain language over his own signature that he would in no case consider a severance from his close alliance with Tammany Hall is hereby well portrayed. These effective cartoons are worth more than a whole page of printed matter. Give it to 'em, so long as the powder holds out.

Robinson Whispered

SANTA MONICA, Oct. 10.—[To the Editor of The Times:] In his speech at Los Angeles Senator Robinson said: "If I ever desire to change my residence I will not spend the greater part of my life in a foreign country, nor apply for citizenship papers under any flag." The impression sought to be conveyed by the Democratic nominee for Vice-President is plain. Why did not the Senator come out in the open? William Hard's biography of Herbert Hoover, page 75, quotes Walter Hines Page, American Ambassador in London during the war, as saying:

"Hoover was approached on behalf of the British government with the suggestion that if he would become a British subject the government would be pleased to give him an important executive post. His answer was: 'I'll do what I can for you with pleasure, but I'll be damned if I'll give up my American citizenship.'"

In order to put an end to the story for all time a communication was addressed to the British government. The following reply was dated March 3, 1920:

"I am directed by the Secretary of State for the Home Department to say that no application for naturalization has been received from Mr. Herbert C. Hoover, either under the British nationality and status of aliens act, 1914 and 1918, or under the act previously in force—the naturalization act of 1870."

REFORMERS

By The Foothill Philosopher

As a rule, reformers hurt themselves worse than they hurt anybody else.

The world isn't so very bad—but try to change it a lot and you'll get a kick, certain as life.

I know a few reformers that I like, but I don't like to let them know it. Usually, I prefer my reformers far away. I can grow enthusiastic about Luther and Savonarola—but if they were here I'm not sure I'd enjoy lunching with them every day.

Sometimes a woman marries a man to reform him—for her own precious sake. When she succeeds (which she often does) he never amounts to much afterward.

If some superreformer would only reform the reformers and stop them from trying to reform others, the world would be safe for those bad folk, who are in the majority and who also deserve the right to life, liberty and the pursuit of happiness.

JAMES WARNACK.

It is interesting to note that whereas the United States possesses more than 32,000,000 active cotton spindles, 40 per cent of them are in New England and 54 per cent in the South. Half a century ago New England had twice that many. W. B. J.

PRESIDENTIAL POINTERS

BY CHARLES COKE WOODS

Presidential pointers are particularly interesting just now. With every day they are becoming more and more numerous. The social and political winds are blowing, and certain significant straws are showing which way they blow. For one thing, the straw vote of the Literary Digest shows the direction of public opinion concerning the Presidency. Obviously that opinion may vary more or less, one way or the other, but the straw vote makes it plain which way the winds of public political opinion are blowing just now.

It is already certain that this is not to be a political campaign of cut-and-dried partisanship. The real American mind is insisting this year on a great American who will embody in his personality the essentials of Americanism. The rally cry is patriotism and not partisanship.

Never in American history has there been such concentration of convictions for Presidential character. We are not to be warped by the preconceived notions of political prejudices, but our votes are to be standardised by first-class American citizenship. It is one thing to get the votes of the people. It is another thing to get the people of the votes. The man who gets the people by a sane and solid appeal of humanity and honor will get the votes. Vote getting may be a trick. People getting is a triumph of statesmanship.

No untried tyro can be President this time. Farmers are no fools. They never hitch an untamed and untrained colt to a load when a true and tried draft horse is available.

The resurgency of American citizenship is now on and nothing can stop it. The soul of the issue is, as understood by the people, citizenship vs. noncitizenship. Democrats are not pitted against Republicans, nor Republicans against Democrats, but shoulder to shoulder they are pulling together for the common good of their united country. This Presidential pointer means greatly for the country's good. Southerners are still Democrats, but they draw the line at Tammany.

Another Presidential pointer is that the great preponderance of first-time voters will cast their ballots for Hoover. On an evening in last July Dr. Daniel Poling, president of the Christian Endeavor Societies of the United States, declared to the 5000 young men and woman assembled in the Shrine Auditorium that he had a mandate from 300,000 young people to say that they would cast their votes in November only for the Presidential candidate who stands for the unmodified Constitution of the United States, and for the firm enforcement of the Eighteenth Amendment.

Millions of voters from the Federated Women's Clubs have already spoken in no uncertain voice. They will not wince nor waver. They would rather vote for a holy warrior for the human home than a "happy warrior" for the return of rum.

The sound and sober thought of the whole country is saying that this is no time for political pranks. The churches, the schools, the judiciary, our greatest printing plants and news journals, and all our custodians of a cherished civilization are supporting the citizen candidate from the Golden State.

Great industries must be engineered and he is an engineer. Our racial relationships must be kept right and he knows the races. Our educational activities must be reorganized and reinforced and the California candidate is deeply and widely educated. We are yet dealing with the aftermaths of the wasteful World War, and he is a great economist and conservator of vital values. The many-sided business mind of our country is centering its attention on Hoover, the man of the many-sided mind. This concentration of attention is itself another impressive Presidential pointer.

Summarize a few of the things that point him out for the Presidency. There is his fixed and fundamental faith in God and humanity. There are his long and large experiences with men and nations. There are his pre-eminent qualifications for penetrating and solving problems. There is his exceptional intellectual grasp of situations and services. He will have had the widest and most useful contacts with men and nations of any man ever called to the Presidency of the United States.

A shrine for visitors who admire the famous scientist will soon be open to the public, when the home of Charles Darwin in Kent, Eng., will be made into a permanent memorial. Presented to the British Association of Scientists with an endowment sufficient for its upkeep, by George Brown, the surgeon, the home will be restored to its original condition, articles belonging to Darwin already having been collected for this purpose. The study in which he wrote "Origin of the Species" will be restored identically as it was at that time. W. B. J.

Last year Louisiana produced 1,000,000 pounds of dressed frog legs. In the marsh lands of the Pelican State, Ole Man Frawg, as the cullud folks call him, thrives, sings his deep chant, and grows big legs, and fifty wholesale merchants keep tab on his activities, so that he may be brought in and prepared for the discriminating palate, north, south, east or west, when required. Although the consumption of this table delicacy is growing steadily, according to the Federal Director of Fisheries, the State of Louisiana is producing more than the whole country needs to supply the demand at present. Last year 10,000 of the biggest bullfrogs were exported to Japan for propagating purposes. W. B. J.

TROJANS LEAVE TONIGHT FOR CALIFORNIA GAME

'El Waffle' in Fine Form for Race

NEW YORK, Oct. 17. (AP)—El Ouafir, a brown-skinned Algerian marathon champion, paced twelve miles around Madison Square Garden today testing his stride and working out the muscle kinks for his twenty-six mile race with Joie Ray and a half-dozen other distance stars here Sunday night. "El Waffle" perspired little and finished at a fast clip in fine condition. The 1928 Olympic champion with the bristly hair that stands straight up and waves as he runs with a smooth, effortless stride, will taper off in his training from day to day. Rather naively, the Arab explained today through an interpreter, that he took up running as a sport because it cost him nothing. All the equipment necessary, he said, was the normal afternoon attire of Algeria—and that does not even include shoes. He learned to run distance because there is nothing else in his native land where the towns are far apart.

Weissmuller Claims Record

TOKIO, Oct. 17. (AP)—Johnny Weismuller of Chicago set what was declared to be a record for a fifty-meter pool today, when he swam 150 yards free style in 1m. 26 3-5s. during the international exhibitions in the Tamagawa Pool.

Eric Rademacher in the 300-meter breast stroke covered the distance in 4m. 41⅘s. for what was said to be a world record.

Weismuller holds the American record for the 150-yard free style over a long course at 1m. 27 4-5s.

HARD LUCK HITS BRUIN GRIDDERS

La Brucherie May be Lost for Pomona Game

Star Backfield Player Out With Case of Flu

U.C.L.A. Machine Works for Clash at Coliseum

BY FRANK ROCHE

Just as things began to look up for Bill Spaulding's football players who are preparing for a joust with the Pomona Sagehens at the Coliseum Saturday afternoon, Old Man Hard Luck took a backhand slap at the U.C.L.A. chances of victory yesterday. The slap came when the players lined up for practice at Moore Field and it was announced that Bert La Brucherie, one of the main cogs in the Bruin backfield, was out with an attack of the flu. The loss of La Brucherie will be a severe blow to the Bruins as it means a complete rearrangement of the Bruin backfield.

EARL FIELDS

Bruin attaches claim that La Brucherie's illness is only a slight one and that he will be able to get out for the game Saturday but Spaulding did not hold any such hopes. The Bruin coach set to work immediately on a new backfield for the game.

Cliff Simpson will be shot into La Brucherie's place at left half. Joe Fleming will play at right half. Rubin Thoe or Earl Fields will hold down the fullback position. Fields has not completely recovered from the battering he took in the Stanford game and he may remain on the sidelines for the Sagehen battle. This means that Spaulding will have only part of his first-string backfield working Saturday if his plans made yesterday go through. Russom will start at quarter.

Buddy Forster, star ball carrier who has been doing the signal calling in the Bruin games so far, will get in the game against the Sagehens, but he will not be in the starting line-up, according to the tentative plans made known yesterday. Spaulding intends to hold

THUNDERING HERD READY FOR ANNUAL GRID TILT

Price Changes Method of Attack

BERKELEY, Oct. 17. (Exclusive) Guess No. 1 is as good as the second guess when the guesser is puzzling over what Coach Clarence "Nibs" Price is doing with his University of California football warriors today behind the barred gates of the Memorial Stadium where he is planning a warm reception for Prof. Howard Jones and his University of Southern California gridsters Saturday afternoon.

BEN LOM

Two definite pieces of information have leaked through the walls to the ever alert gentlemen of the press as they parade outside looking for a secret passage whereby to enter the sacred practice confines. The first bit of news is that Price has plotted a brand new series of plays. The second morsel of escaped gossip is that Price will run his plays from an entirely new formation, bearing close resemblance to Pop Warner's formation. With these important revelations, the press further deduces that the Golden Bears will work their new plays and their new formation via the air.

This much is logical in consideration of what California has done through the aerial lanes so far. Price has passers aplenty. He can hardly usher a back-field man into the game who cannot pass well or catch with equal facility. Look at his passers: "Bending Bennah" Lom, "Speed" Newman, "Dutch" Clymer, Clarence "Moss" Garrity, Stanley Barr, Joel Coffield, not to mention

Substitutes in Line-up for Struggle

BY PAUL LOWEY

All your correspondent learned about the Trojan football fortunes yesterday you can put in your right eye this morning, blink and guess what it is.

It was one of those typical secret practices at Bovard Field when you gained more from the inside of the private office of Mr. Gwynn Wilson, the graduate manager, than outside the football stockade.

DON WILLIAMS

And all these facts were revealed by Mr. Wilson, to wise him to wit:

(1.) The Stanford game which is to be played here November 3, is sold out. That means 76,400 seats have been disposed of with the battle over two weeks away.

(2.) The California-U.S.C. battle at Berkeley Saturday is also sold out. Eight hundred Trojan rooters are going up on the train tonight or tomorrow night. As many more will travel north by steamer and automobile—and a few by airplane.

(3.) Coming on successive Saturdays, the Oregon State and St. Mary's games are rated as too tough for contented Trojan minds. Mr. Wilson was an undergraduate in the Gloomy Gus Henderson regime and he learned how to mean frost Gus when talking about cripples.

(4.) The Trojan football team will leave for the Cali-

BY ALAN J. GOULD

NEW YORK, Oct. 17. (AP)—Football's greatest spectacles nowadays know no sectional barriers or restrictions. Last Saturday the big jam of the day was on Chicago's lake front, where some 122,000 fans turned out to see two teams that may both be out of the championship running this year, but still possess their old drawing power.

This week the main scene, from the spectacular viewpoint, will be at Berkeley, where California and Southern California meet in the first of the major tests of Pacific Coast conference strength. Anywhere from 75,-

LEWIS DEFEATS PLESTINA

Champion Beats Title Contender in Two Out of Three Falls at Daro's Olympic Mat Show

BY BOB RAY

Strangler Lewis is still boss of the world's bone-crushing fraternity. The Strangler definitely proved that to the satisfaction—more or less—of 10,115 followers of the mat behemoths at the Olympic Auditorium last night when he succeeded in flopping Marin Plestina, the 240-pound "barefoot boy" with the billikin countenance, in two out of three falls after a thrilling encounter.

Lewis won the first and third falls, while Plestina, "the trust buster," broke in with the second fall, when he temporarily put the champion on wooxy street with a series of his famous flying mares.

STRANGLER LEWIS

Plestina was the aggressor throughout and seemed on his way to victory when the Strangler slipped over a fast one to put across the third and deciding fall with what Referee McDonald announced was a backward body slam. Plestina had just finished clamping on four straight flying mares, when the Strangler, who spent most of the evening running for the ropes, succeeded in clutching the strands and hung on for dear life. Marin grabbed Lewis about the middle and was trying to tug him back into the ring, when suddenly the Strangler let loose his hold. A total of 470 pounds of wrestling beef immediately bounced back into the center of the ring, with Lewis landing on top of his

Upsets Mark Squash Event

Two decided upsets featured the playing of the third-round matches of the junior national squash tournament last night at the Pasadena Athletic and Country Club. Chet Cooper, Hollywood Athletic Club ace, the outstanding favorite of the tourney up to last night, was eliminated by Parker Lyon, Jr., of Pasadena in an extra-set match, and Bill Holman, another Film City Club star, was beaten by Joe Gordon of the Los Angeles Athletic Club. Holman is the champion of the Hollywood Club and Gordon the champ of the downtown institution.

The Lyon-Cooper match scores were 25-27, 21-14, 21-18. The Gordon-Holman scores were 1-21, 21-9, 21-11. With the two Hollywood stars out, the Film City Club has but one remaining man in the tourney, which advances to the quarter-final round today. In the other match played in the third round Bob Ackley of the L.A.A.C. defeated DeForest Home in straight sets.

Hal Vance (L.A.A.C.) vs. Al Schroeder (F.)
Parker Lyon, Jr. vs. Maxwell Stiles (L.A.A.C.)
Joe Gordon (L.A.A.C.) vs. Albert Gautier (H.)
Bob Ackley (L.A.A.C.) vs. Harry Williams (F.)

LOTTIE SCHOEMMEL BREAKS CHERRY'S ENDURANCE RECORD

NEW YORK, Oct. 17. (AP)—Lottie May Schoemmel, woman swimming star, broke the world endurance record today when she left a hotel pool here after remaining in the water 72 hours, 2 minutes, 40 seconds. The former record was set up Sunday by Jimmy Cherry in a Los Angeles pool. Cherry's mark was 65 hours, 2 minutes.

Mrs. Schoemmel left the water at 12:47:40 this afternoon, apparently in fine condition. She entered the water at 12:45 p.m. Sunday and has been swimming, floating and treading water steadily up to this afternoon.

POLY AND L. A. HIGH TEAMS SET FOR ANNUAL BATTLE ON COLISEUM GRID TOMORROW

BY BOB RAY

With all of the cripples on both squads rapidly getting back in shape and the rival elevens showing more drive and power in each practice, it is beginning to look as though this Poly-L. A. High struggle at the Coliseum tomorrow is going to result in the most bitter and hard-fought battle of the long series of annual games played between the City League's ancient enemies.

Out at L. A. High, Coach Dave Ridderhof's Romans are getting more rampant every day now that Capt. Jimmy Owens, star quarterback, and Bill Bates, first-string center, have definitely recovered from injuries that threatened to keep them out of the all-important clash with Poly. Owens is to the Romans what Don Williams is to the Trojans, and now that he is certain to play the Blue and White players figure they have a better than even chance of bumping off their traditional rivals. Reed and Fay, halves, and either Baum or Lingren, full, will with Owens form the Roman backfield at the kick-off.

Over at Polytechnic Voyle Brennen is beginning to see a ray of hope through the dark clouds with the return to first-class shape of Capt. Jimmy Young, triple-threat back; LaViolet, a 170-pound back, who suffered a broken hand early in the season, and the recent im-

WHITTIER MOVES EN MASSE FOR OXY GAME SATURDAY

The "ghost cities" of Nevada with their once busy streets totally deserted will have nothing on "Ye Friendly Towne" of Whittier this coming Saturday for the citizens of that thriving community are going to move over to Pasadena en masse to witness the annual Whittier - Occidental football game in the Rose Bowl. It has been a long time since the Whittierites have gotten such a kick out of a football game as they did out of their victory over the Tigers a year ago and they are willing to go a lot farther than Pasadena in the hope of getting another such thrill.

ED KIENHOLZ

Reports from Whittier indicate that not only will the entire Whittier College student body journey over to the Crown City, but that in addition the "thundering thousand," Whittier's time-honored rooting section of business men, willbe swelled to many times its customary size on Saturday. The Poets are making their first appearance of the season in the big bowl and they propose to celebrate the occasion with lots of noise and, if possible, a victory.

Chances of just another such Whittier victory are not really remote, either. Last year, after the Tigers had led all the way, Peewee Walker broke loose and in about two plays went more than half the length of the field for a touchdown. This year, with Walker assisted by several new backfield stars, Coach Philbrook has reason to expect another victory in the estimation of many who have seen his team perform.

With the Tiger and Poet strength fairly even, fans must look to other factors to decide the winner of the contest. Dink Walker and Speed Weaver will be the big guns in the Poet attack. Capt. Johnny Eberhart is fully recovered from his injury at San Diego last week-end. Eberhart, along with Glenn Roselle, Jack and Ward Schweizer, Bud Col-

ANCIENT AND MODERN

It may be there are Gothic Vandals who still insist that low candles would beat electric light; for there are always people sighing for ancient glories and denying that modern things are right. There are anti-mistic voters who view the speedy, shining motors, and long for grand old days, when we were driving noble pacers or trotting steeds and other nags along the dusty ways. The people see the airships zooming and hear the engines, throbbing and roaring, and say they are a shame; disparaging remarks they utter; "Our parents went on foot," they mutter, "and there just the same." Each new invention sets men kicking, and each improvement gets a howling before it gains its place; the graybeards of old things are jealous; "Old ways were best, they often tell us, in accents deep and bass. It is a sign that man is aging when he pens the long hours raging at everything that's new; when he insists that long dead writers were better than the modern blighters who print a book or two. When he declares with righteous passion his hatred of each modern fashion, he should tear it in a fit of water and call upon his wife and daughter to have a poultice spread. He's left the springs of youth behind him, his prejudices sorely blind him, he must the sad fact known that all his mental works are rusty, ready for the churchyard's couch and for the graven stone.

Jose Jurado May Play in Los Angeles $10,000 Open Tournament

BIG SIX' MAKES BID FOR SOUTH AMERICAN GOLFER

Dick Smith Leads Mercury Players in Club Tournament; Women Plan City Championship Next Month

BY EDWARD LAWRENCE

If Jose Jurado, brilliant young South American professional, does not choose to play in the Los Angeles $10,000 open, it will not be the fault of the "big six" committee.

DURWARD HOWES

Durward Howes, president of the Junior Chamber of Commerce, and chairman of the "big six," stated yesterday that the committee was going to make every effort to bring the colorful Argentine golfer to Southern California.

Jurado is very much interested in the United States and has intimated that he would like to make a connection with some club in this country. He has been hammering at championships in every tournament that he has played in during the past two years, although he entered the British open practically an unknown.

The plucky little Argentinian won the qualifying medal in the British open, when he finished eight strokes ahead of the nearest American in the thirty-six-hole qualifying play. He finished in a tie for fifth place with Jim Barnes and Audrey Boomer in the tournament, after leading Walter Hagen, Gene Sarazen and Archie Compston on the first day of the tournament. At the end of the first round of the final day he was tied with Sarazen for second place, but lost his chance to win when he took a 41 for the first nine in the last round.

With Archie Compston, 1927 British pro champion; T. P. Perkins, British amateur champion, and the foremost pros in America scheduled to play in the Los Angeles open, Jurado's entry would complete one of the most notable fields to play in an American tournament during the winter season.

SMITH LEADS MERCURY GOLFERS AT RIVIERA

Dick Smith, chairman of the Riviera tournament committee, who holds the course record of 68 jointly with Leon Keller of Rancho, yesterday led the field in the Los Angeles Athletic Club tournament. Playing in the scratch division, Smith was 3 down to par.

The tournament is a match play vs. par event with play in four divisions. W. F. Huber, 4 down, led in the second division, handicaps 5 to 13; L. J. Courtney, 3 down, was first in the third division, handicaps, 14 to 18, and Leonard Garbutt, 4 down, took first place in the last division, handicaps 19 to 24.

Play will continue through Friday over the 36-hole route.

PALOS VERDES STAGES TOURNEY SUNDAY

Jimmy Fiske announces the regular semimonthly golf tournament at Palos Verdes for Sunday. Members and guests only are eligible to play.

The tournament will be medal play with two prizes for two low net scores. Handicaps up to 32 will be permitted.

WOMEN PREP FOR CITY GOLF CHAMPIONSHIP

Sponsored by the Women's Auxiliary of the Southern California Golf Association, the women's Los Angeles City Golf championship will be played over the Warren G. Harding course, Griffith Park, the week beginning Monday, November 5 to 9, inclusive. Ike Wentworth is busily engaged at present preparing the course for the tournament.

The qualifying round, 18 holes, will be played November 5. Match play starts Tuesday with the finals on Friday. No green fee will be charged contestants during the tournament and one 18-hole practice round will be granted each contestant a week before the tournament. All women golfers with established handicaps to 26 are eligible to enter.

The entry fee will be $3. Entries can be made by calling Mile Thompson at Griffith Park, OLympia 1503.

Oneonta Grid Stars Lose to Truck Driver

To show what chances football players have against truck drivers, five Oneonta Military Academy pigskin artists landed in the hospital late Tuesday evening, while the truck driver went on his way. Up to that time the Oneonta boys had a real tough team, one of the best outfits in the Southland, it is claimed. But with four regulars and one substitute out, Coach Jim Hudson thinks the going will be pretty tough for a couple of weeks until some of the injured recuperate.

The injured are: Bill Butt, star left tackle, who will be out for the season, with a broken shoulder; Bob Butt, regular guard, Bill's brother, also out for the season with a broken arm; Johnny Trainotte, star end, out with severe bruises; Jim Smith, running guard, bruises and contusions, and Bill Phillipi, substitute guard, severe cuts and bruises.

ONEONTA LIGHTWEIGHTS LOSE, 33-0 TILT

South Pasadena's fighting Tiger lightweight eleven scored a 33-0 victory over the Oneonta Military squad yesterday afternoon on the Indian's gridiron. South Pasadena scored all of their six touchdowns in the fourth quarter, but were only able to convert three of them. Oneonta put up a stiff fight for three periods, but couldn't keep up the pace.

DETROIT PILOT RESIGNS POST

ited Detroit last week, ostensibly for a conference with Navin, and following the visit it was rumored that he would pilot the club next year. Queried tonight, President Navin said he had no statement to make on the subject at this time.

It was also reported the club was negotiating with Donie Bush, manager of the Pittsburgh Pirates, but this likewise could not be confirmed.

Moriarty's letter of resignation follows:

"I hereby tender my resignation as manager of the Detroit club. In severing my connection in this capacity, it is my sincere wish to convey my thanks to the fans and the press of Detroit for their support. I also wish to say that I hold Frank Navin in the highest esteem.

ACCEPTS REVERSE

"Unfavorable circumstances played a part in the showing of the team this season. However, my contact with the game from the sand lots up has taught me to accept the reverses of baseball with the same spirit that accompanies success. That is exactly the way I feel about it.

"Detroit is a great baseball city and its fans know the game thoroughly. Good luck to them."

IDAHO COCKED?

TO THOSE who have been devoting themselves exclusively to worry over the list of dead and dying in the Trojan football camp it may come as a surprise that, under cover of the excitement over the impending California-U.S.C. game at Berkeley Saturday, Stanford adherents also have been going to pieces in a quiet, but systematic, way.

One of Pop Warner's best halfbacks, Mr. Frank Wilton, who is a sort of Jekyll and Hyde person in the dual role of hero and goat in important games, will be unable to play, it seems, in the Stanford-Idaho struggle which precedes the Berkeley conflict by one day. So will Mr. Spud Harder, considered some end as ends go, and one or two other likely gridiron characters on the Palo Alto campus.

Somebody with malice aforethought dug up the dirty rumor that Charley Erb always lays for some outstanding team with his Idaho Vandals each year, and there is a deep-rooted suspicion in the minds of Stanford supporters that the team Mr. Erb is laying for is Stanford.. Mr. Erb, having been something of a quarterback at California in the "Wonder Team" days, always laid for Stanford in those days, and there is no evidence to support any belief that he has changed.

At any rate the Stanford boys are very much alarmed about the matter, and fear the worst. Last year Idaho, which played neither Stanford nor U.S.C., tied the pair for the Pacific Coast Conference title by playing a 0-0 tie with Oregon, a 7-7 tie with Washington State and defeating Oregon State, which lost to the Trojans, 13 to 12, early in the season. In addition, St. Mary's, which bumped over Stanford, 16 to 6, was tied, 3-3. Altogether Idaho had a whale of a tie season, and while they haven't started quite as suspiciously this year the Stanford boys are suspicious, and they will either have these suspicions vindicated or exploded in San Francisco tomorrow.

A JUGGLING ACT

AFTER a week of juggling with his athletes, Howard Jones still seems uncertain about his backfield and the key to his offense, the running guard. It's this chap one night and that one the next.

It now looks as if Marger Apsit, an early-season prospect, will land the starting job in the crippled Harry Edelson's post at inside halfback with Tony Steponovitch likely to fill the running guard spot Heiser made so conspicuous last year.

Steponovitch should make a good candidate at the position. He is heavy enough, fast enough and experienced enough with a year of varsity play at end to fit right into the scheme of things.

And it may be that Apsit, given his big chance, will hound into the limelight as did Lloyd Thomas two years ago when he took over Morley Drury's berth on two nights' notice.

HARD TO RETIRE

THE Yost defection at Michigan, although denied in university circles, is not surprising if you can accept any of the hearsay evidence about the matter.

The boys say Tad Weiman has been the man behind the gun for several years, but that it has been difficult to keep old "Hurry-up's" fingers out of the pie.

He was finally eased out of the picture and given the title of director of athletics, but this year he had the itch and decided to assume charge of football again.

The result was painful in the extreme, Ohio Wesleyan and Indiana beating Michigan in the first two games of the season.

They say Yost would be glad to quit if 65-year-old Alonzo Stagg at Chicago would retire, but that Hurry-up resents having one of the old-timers still in the picture without himself in a similar role.

BUSY FARMER

NEWS of Zack Farmer's appearance on the Berkeley campus before the Bear-Trojan game means a big boost over the radio Saturday for the State aid proposition No. 2. This $1,000,000 issue to put over the Olympic Games in this city in 1932 comes up for approval at the polls November 6 and efficient Zack is busy as all get-out on the matter.

The Stanford-U.S.C. game here November 3 will see some more propaganda for this live-wire proposition and so will the California-Stanford fray in the north November 24.

Gorchakoff to Meet Van Ryn

Johnny Van Ryn, United States Davis Cup star and sixth ranking tennis player in America, will cross rackets with the Occidental College captain, Ben Gorchakoff, twice a runner-up for the national college championship, this afternoon on the Tiger courts.

Van Ryn, recent Princeton University graduate, and Gorchakoff, Oxy's stellar ace, have met before in Eastern turf court tilts, with the former enjoying a slight edge. The Oxy star is expected to turn in a victory today on his home grounds.

Ellsworth Vines of Pasadena, one of the country's outstanding juniors of promise, meets Arthur Kussman, second ranking Tiger star, in a second singles, following which Gorchakoff and Kussman will oppose Van Ryn and Vines in a doubles tilt. The first matches get under way at 2:30 o'clock.

Sagehens Get in Shape for Tennis Season

CLAREMONT, Act. 17. (Exclusive)—Starting the long program of local and intramural tournaments, Pomona's varsity tennis team has embarked on its training campaign preparatory to making another strong bid for the Southern California conference championship. The Sagehen netmen opened the annual Myers Cup tournament the other day, and have a series of events lined up for several months which should put them in the peak of condition and shed a lot of light on who's who and why.

This year's conference tennis race bids fair to be a lot tougher than any the old loop has yet seen. Occidental, with Ben Gorchakoff and Art Kussman leading the array, will be favored to defend its championship, but Pomona will be a good deal stronger than ever before and San Diego State College, whose team finished second last year, will be weaker, with the result that any of three teams may win, rather than the two-way arrangement of 1928.

San Diego has lost Dolf Meuhlheisen and Bob Muench, two men with national rankings, who transferred to the University of California. That virtually puts the Aztec team out of the running, although still formidable. Pomona will be strengthened by the appearance of some flashy sophomores who produced an unbeaten frosh team last year.

The Sagehens have lost only Ralph Arnold this season. Four of the five who formed the team are back, and they will be able to use a mighty efficient transfer, as well as the aforementioned sophomores. Levan Zerbe, Donn Bent, Lee Mills and Red Ford are the four letter men. Ted Campbell of Lafayette University, will be eligible this year and the sophomores, Stan Hahn, Nip Walker and Red Pettit are coming up to make their bids for places on the squad.

Zerbe, Bent, Mills and Campbell are pretty certain of berths. Just who will play fifth man is a question. Ford, being a letter man, will have the inside track in the race, but under the tournament system of picking a team — which awards places on consistently high standing in actual play—he may fall before either Hahn or Walker. Hahn captained the frosh squad last year and didn't lose a single set. Walker had almost as good a record.

Following the Myers Cup tournament which is emblematic of the college championship, intramural play opens.

SACRAMENTO JAYSEE SQUAD PACES AGGIES

SACRAMENTO, Oct. 17. (AP)—The Sacramento Junior College football eleven, 1927 champions of the California Coast Conference, and State junior college champions, will meet the California Aggie aggregation, coached by "Crip" Toomey, a former star on one of the late Andy Smith's "wonder teams" at the University of California, for the second official game in Sacramento's new stadium Saturday. Both the local junior college and the Aggies have great teams this year and the game is expected to be close.

Capt. Fred Silva, the outstanding star of the Panther victory over Santa Rosa Junior College last week, is expected to lead the attack against the Aggies.

PASADENA SOCCER TEAM IN BOW HERE

Facing another tough contest, the Pasadena soccer team makes its initial appearance at Loyola Field Sunday afternoon, meeting the strong Magyar squad in the feature contest. In their two previous games, the Pasadena team has played at the Los Angeles Soccer League's other field in Pasadena. The opening contest at Loyola Sunday will see the strong Los Angeles Athletic Club squad meet the Richfield Oilers.

The other twin program offered by the Los Angeles League will be played at Pasadena with the Scots meeting the Vikings in the final game and the Hollywood squad meeting the Sons of St. George in the opening tilt.

FIELDS RETURNS TO START TRAINING FOR BAKER BOUT

Jackie Fields will return from Gilman Springs tomorrow to begin his intensive training for the Sergt. Sammy Baker bout at Wrigley Field on the 30th inst. The Jewish welterweight has been confining his work at the springs to hikes and roadwork.

The Main-street gymnasium is preparing to give Fields the room that most of the champions have had while training in Los Angeles. Sammy Mandell, Mickey Walker and Joe Dundee have used the same dressing-room that Fields will take.

Baker's training plans are still unknown. He boxes Joe Simonich in San Francisco on Friday night and will come to Los Angeles Sunday with his two managers, Doc Bagley and Abe Katz.

Matchmaker Wad Wadhams may go north to see the fight and also see the Trojan-California game on Saturday, returning with Baker.

The Olympic Club was besieged with inquiries for ticket reservations yesterday. Many of the calls are coming from outside towns, indicating the bout will draw more than the usual "faithfuls."

Extra help will be secured for the next two days to assist in checking the tickets so they can be put on sale no later than next Monday. Reservations are being taken now, but people are asked to pick up their tickets early so as to avoid last-minute rushes for seats.

Promoter Jack Doyle will visit Wrigley Field today and go over the seating arrangement of the park. The same set-up that was used for the Godfrey-Paolino bout will be put back as nearly as possible.

With the return of Bert Colima the Olympic Club has opened negotiations for a Colima-Ace Hudkins fight. The bout would take place early in November, if made. Hudkins is chafing for action and if he doesn't get it in California he will go East.

The Mexican is ready for work immediately. He brought back a belt from Mexico City emblematic of the middleweight championship of Mexico.

others such as Jim Cockburn, Harold Breckenridge and Leland Rice.

Then there is the recapitulation phase of the passing game. In their twenty-two passes of the first three games of the season, the Bears have split fifty-fifty a high measure of success. The eleven passes completed netted a total gain of 137 yards, and were important influences upon the touchdowns registered.

Although he has a whole menagerie of passers, Price's passer-in-chief is "Benny" Lom, so styled because his triple-threat qualities make him valuable for deceptive purposes. Many critics feel that the game may be decided upon the success of Lom's passes or those of Lloyd Thomas in behalf of the Trojans. This assertion is made in view of the fact that two of the U.S.C. goals in the St. Mary's game were the direct or indirect result of passes.

California is not especially afraid of a pass attack retaliation, in fact, it would be rather enjoyable. They are keen-eyed young men in the Golden Bear backfield, when they want to be. Of the thirty-one attempts to pass over the Californians heads, but four have been successful in three games. Washington State completed three of these four passes in fifteen attempts. The Cougars gained fifty-eight yards on their passes, while Santa Clara advanced two yards on their one completed pass, and St. Mary's failed to register a single complete toss.

Since the University of Southern California pass attack will probably prove much more accomplished than that of the opponents encountered thus far by the Bears, the above figures may prove of little avail Saturday. Even so, they are indicative of considerable pass defense strength, and a passing game on the Trojans' part should prove a highly interesting exhibition for the capacity house.

In the matter of injuries, California is possibly more favored than the Trojans. The only serious casualties suffered by Price are at the wings, where Capt. Irvine Phillips, who has not yet opened with his all-American style of play, is not fully recovered from a severe cold in addition to a badly strained leg muscle. Russ Avery, the other end, still favors his left leg a lot. Avery is one of the most completely banged-up football players in captivity. He has suffered virtually every injury known to the football field, but still plays a stellar game.

This is about the extent of the California injuries, since Andy Miller is practically ready for Trojan game service at center, and Jose Pitto, the Pony guard, has a fully healed back. Word 'ricking in here from the south has it that Jones's ends, McCaslin and Tappaan, are also in poor condition for the big match of the week-end.

SANTA ANA, WHITTIER TO CLASH SATURDAY

SANTA ANA, Oct. 17.—They are likely to turn 'em away at the Santa Ana - Whittier High School football game at Poly Field here Saturday.

With no other game scheduled in Orange county, the junior college dons as far away as Pasadena and the U.S.C. Trojans farther away in Berkeley competing with California, the Saints will be a powerful drawing card, especially in that they are meeting one of their most bitter rivals.

The Poets have blanked the Santa Anans for two years while rolling up 33 points. The 1926 defeat, 20-0, started them on a downhill slide and the 13-0 rout of 1927 didn't do anything except beat the homesters out of the Coast Preparatory League title.

FRAZIER TO FIGHT JOE NOTO TONIGHT

Richard (Rib) Frazier, Pasadena's latest pugilistic discovery, gets a great chance to show just how good he is tonight at the Pasadena Arena when he will face Gunner Joe Noto, who is featherweight champion of all of Uncle Sam's fleets and has been undefeated for three years.

Jack Gibbs, who created a sensation at Hollywood two weeks ago in winning the semifinal, will find himself facing Jimmy Lancaster, who is the all-navy middleweight sensation, in the six-round semi-wind-up Thursday night.

Four-round fights will be: Ray Cardinas vs. Chick Peralta, 138 pounds; Domingo Suzana vs. Dud Craig, 120 pounds; Pete Cardinas vs. Ray Molina, 126 pounds.

AMERICAN STABLE TO RACE

NEW YORK, Oct. 17. (AP)—America will be represented in the historic Grand National steeplechase in England next March by the colors of Mrs. Payne Whitney's Greentree stable. John Hay Whitney, who is now in England, has purchased Easter Hero, one of the best British jumpers, for this purpose.

TROJANS LEAVE FOR BIG GAME

fornia game on the Padre tonight. The whole squad—some forty strong—will be taken along. The boys will stay at the Mt. Diablo Country Club. As a reward for the knocks they take during the season the Spartans will get a free trip to the battle, being taken north tomorrow night.

Aside from this information, which was offered freely and generously by Mr. Wilson, your correspondent availed himself not.

What went on behind the locked gates at Bovard Field is confined in the bosoms of the Trojan gladiators and the coaching staff, plus Pop Smith, who sneaked between the legs of the watchdog at the gate when the latter was rebuffing your correspondent. Pop is only a half-pint in size, and was able to do this without imitating one of Lou Daro's wrestlers by tying himself into a pretzel.

NEW BACKFIELD?

There is a general suspicion that Mr. Howard Jones, who has developed a streak of terrible tractibility since the St. Mary's game, was working out a new backfield combination last night.

Mr. Jones has been experimenting himself blue in the face over this matter, and it is believed he finally hit on an arrangement that won't be revealed until the boys take the field at Berkeley Saturday afternoon.

There didn't seem to be anything wrong with the combination he had on the field to start the game against St. Mary's, but it is said Mr. Jones is distinctly dissatisfied.

Outside of his kicking, and he never professed to be a booter, Lloyd Thomas made a dandy quarterback. His running of the team and his handling of the ball were well nigh perfect. There are plenty of Trojan rooters who would be perfectly satisfied to see Mr. Thomas start at quarterback and Mr. Don Williams saved for dynamic moments.

"Why," argue these boys, "should Williams take a pounding early in the game when he may be needed badly in later stages? Or start Duffield and let California get used to him—even if he does run across field—and then stick Williams in. There will be so much difference between Williams and Duffield the Bears will develop cross eyes in trying to catch up with him."

STEPONOVITCH TOUTED

The other most important point in Trojan minds is the possibility of Tony Steponovitch developing into a real running guard.

If Steponovitch, switched from an end, can learn Bert Heiser's old position in a week's time, the Trojan attack is made. The running guard is the keynote of the Jones power plays, and if Tony makes good everything will be considered hotsy-totsy in Trojan circles.

A parade of 4000 students is planned from the U.S.C. campus to the Central Station to see the Trojan team off tonight. The squad leaves on the Padre at 7:45 and will arrive in Oakland at 9 o'clock tomorrow morning. The team will not see the Stanford-Idaho game in the afternoon, but Jones and the rest of the coaching staff will take it in.

FREMONT LIGHTWEIGHT ELEVEN TO BE GREEN

Coach Otto Anderson will put out a fighting but green lightweight grid outfit for Fremont this season. The team has had practice games with Huntington Park, San Pedro and Poly, and has showed up well.

Prospects that are looking good: Shuloff, Metz, Brittingham, Judd and Naideth. Audit, who plays a halfback, is the only returning letter man.

Fremont held the lightweight football championship with Belmont last year.

Fremont's official lightweight schedule follows:
October 18—Fremont at Harding.
October 25—Fremont at Roosevelt.
November 1—Fremont at Garfield.
November 8—Fairfax at Fremont.
November 15—Belmont at Fremont.

SANTA ANA JAYSEES MEET PASADENA TEAM

SANTA ANA, Oct. 17.—In preparation for their conference contest with Pasadena at Pasadena Saturday, Coach Bill Cook is putting his Santa Ana Junior College football teams through some scrimmage of the type they will encounter and having observed the method of play of the Rose City eleven, he is instructing his linemen how to cope with it most effectively.

JACKIE CARR AND COOPER ON EDGE FOR HOLLYWOOD SCRAP

Jackie Carr and Farmer Joe Cooper are all ready for the main event at the Hollywood American Legion stadium tomorrow night. Some like Carr to win and others are picking Cooper. Opinion is divided as to the outcome but the majority of the fellows in the racket believe Carr is the better boy and his best fights are yet to be seen.

Training activities have shown Carr to be fully as good as the night he beat Mushy Callahan. He is boxing well and hitting hard. His condition is what it should be and Jackie is confident he will make a better showing than he did with Johnny Lamar.

The Hollywood boxing show has the appearance of an all-star card. The main events should pass inspection of the fans because Carr has demonstrated in his few main events that he has the stuff. The bout in which he won from Mushy Callahan showed that Farmer Joe Cooper is a big-time fighter, having appeared in Madison Square Garden where Tex Rickard rules the roost.

Jackie Mandell and Ray McIntyre rank among the best of the preliminary bantamweights. This bout is for six rounds and it should be as good as any on the bill. Little fellows always provide action but McIntyre and Mandell are very fast.

George Blake's heavyweight, Harry Beum, will get the acid test when he faces Russell Walters in the special event. Walters and Beum are hard punchers and it wouldn't be a big surprise if either took the count. Blake has been schooling Beum for many months and he believes the big fellow is ready for the professional racket.

ller, Alah DeHoag and Ed Beebe should shine for the Tigers.

Breaks played a big part in the Poet victory over Oxy last year at 7-3, and either this factor, or the exceptional playing of the Poet backfield, rated heavy and hard drivers, will bring a Poet win. The reserve strength of the Tiger charges of Coach Ed Kienholz, the punting of Jack Schweiser, and the ground - gaining of Ward Schweiser, are Oxy's big claims for a victory. All in all the game is bound to be a battle from start to finish.

WHITTIER POETS WORK OUT AT ROSE BOWL

In order to acquaint themselves with the foreign field, thirty Whittier Poets, accompanied by Coaches George Philbrook and Ray Johns, journeyed over to the Rose Bowl yesterday for their daily practice. The Poets play what figures to be their toughest game of the conference season at the bowl Saturday when they take on the powerful Occidental Tigers.

Bad news greeted the Poets yesterday when it was learned that Earle Clevenger, one of the regular guards, was down with an attack of the flu and would be definitely out of the Oxy battle. Harold Dyer will start the game in Clevenger's position.

Coach Philbrook has practically decided on the following starting line-up: Weaver and Reitz, ends; Hanson and Cooper, tackles; Sheldon and Dyer, guards; Ashton, center; Stepp, quarter; Walker and Jertberg, halves, and Costo, fullback. The Whittier coach plans on saving Nate George, his dusky sprint flash, out of the fray until the rest of the boys become a bit tired, so that his speed will prove more of an asset.

Rancho Bids Fair Golfers

Mrs. Harry Pressler, Mrs. Gregg Lifur, Mrs. Kryle Bellew, Mrs. Roy Green and Miss Kathleen Wright will be the guests of the Rancho Golf Club Saturday, when a two-ball foursome invitational will be held in their honor.

U.C.L.A. Machine Works for Battle at Coliseum

Buddy for the opportune moment if there is any such moment for the Bruins Saturday.

The varsity lined up against the Goofs yesterday and scrimmaged for over an hour with the scrubs using Pomona formations. A good deal of the time was spent in perfecting a defense against a passing attack. Ansel Breniman, a southpaw, tossed passes all over the place to members of the Goofs with the varsity playing on the defense. Brentman was giving the first-stringers an idea of what Poke Hartman of Pomona may do when the teams clash at the Coliseum.

Spaulding made several changes in his line yesterday. Epstein, the big 220-pound center got back on the first-string in French's place. French was injured in the Stanford game. Red Adkins played at end for a while in Bob Rasmus's place and Russell Nuse went in for Carl Brown at tackle. Brown will play in the game Saturday, however. Spaulding is letting him rest up for a few days.

Stan Gould, first-string guard worked out yesterday with his hand completely encased in a cast. Goodstein who has been substituting at center and guard, respectively, also was made up for the practice session. Goodstein has a broken nose and he is forced to work with one of went out with Bryan's silver plan with Covina High.

While the varsity worked at one of the fields Fred Guier's peagreeners had an hour's scrimmage with the California Christian College eleven. The frosh eleven plays the preliminary game at the Coliseum with Cenis High.

POMONA POLISHES PLAYS FOR BRUIN BATTLE

CLAREMONT, Oct. 17. (Exclusive)—Pomona's varsity football squad went through a last long workout here tonight and is practically finished with the week's work for the important battle with the University of California at Los Angeles in the Coliseum Saturday. Coach Eugene Nixon drove his charges through a long signal drill and scrimmage tonight, bolstering up the weak spots and polishing away on attack and defense until it was almost too dark to see.

The Sagehens may not be as strong as last year when they trot onto the Coliseum greensward against U.C.L.A., but it's a well-conditioned, fairly powerful team that is being pointed toward the Bruins. The boys were charging through their plays, and working like a well-oiled machine against a second team and the freshmen here tonight.

The same line-up that was on the field at Tucson for the opening kick-off against the University of Arizona will start against U.C.L.A. That will be Bishop and Dyer, ends; Waterbury and Miller, tackles; Russell and Reed, guards; Judy, center; Williams and Martin, halves; Murdy, fullback, and Hartman, quarter. Capt. Lee Williams is limping a bit with a twisted ankle and Lyle Martin is troubled with one of those things, but both backs ought to be fit by Saturday.

It is probable that Don Mayes, veteran jackie who has been relegated to the sidelines all season with a weak ankle, may play part of the game Saturday. Mayes's injury has been yielding to treatment so that right now he is practically back in old form on the line. If he goes in, either Waterbury will come out of the line or else Lloyd Miller will be moved back to his guard job, putting Reed, a sophomore, on the sidelines.

Nixon plans a short warm-up and signal drill for tomorrow night and then the Sagehen gridders will lay aside the moleskins until game time.

RIVALS READY FOR BIG GAME

provement of Yuster, a sophomore fullback, who has spent most of the practice sessions on Eddie Leahy's second-string outfit. Added to this, there is a strong possibility that Lee Coates, lanky center, will be able to perform for at least a part of the clash. Coates had a mild touch of the flu last week-end but is recovering rapidly.

Both squads have been working overtime brushing up on their attacks and the boys have their plays running off in a polished manner that belies the fact that tomorrow's clash will be the first league game of the season. There'll be plenty of football uncorked at the Coliseum tomorrow and you can bank on that.

A crowd of at least 20,000 fans is expected to attend the annual battle, which generally furnished the high spot of the City League season.

The Hollywood and Manual outfits, who clash in another opener tomorrow on the Toilers' home grounds, are both reported in tip-top shape and another hot battle is expected. Coaches Vic Kelley and Jim Blewett are sticking to the original starting line-ups that were announced last Friday.

Coach Pop Bates yesterday nonchalantly announced that his Lincoln squad would be without the services of Bruce, its regular center, and Tommy Dill, quarterback, when it faces Jefferson on the Democratic gridiron. Both are out with injured ankles suffered in scrimmages this week. Bertelli will start in Bruce's center berth. Dill was not scheduled to start at quarter, where Capt. Pete Vitale holds forth, but his loss is liable to result disastriously should anything happen to the Lincoln captain.

Over at Jefferson Coach Jim Pursell's Democrats are working hard and not saying much about their chances. With Capt. Jim Morrish, veteran guard, and Herb Cirino, flashy halfback, recovered from injuries that would have prevented their playing last week, the Democrats figure that they may give the strong Lincoln outfit a surprise—at least an exceedingly tough battle.

There will be no City League lightweight games today, all three clashes being postponed a week in order to allow them to get their schedule even with the unlimited squads, whose openers were all rained out last Friday.

The Minor City League officially gets under way today with a trio of Class B games. Garfield faces Belmont, Fremont meets Harding and Roosevelt tackles Fairfax today, with the home teams being named last. Tomorrow the same schools pit their unlimited eleven against each other with the home grounds being reversed.

The Marine League also comes in for some excitement today with Torrance facing Rile on the latter's field in a game that was originally billed for tomorrow. The rest of the Marine League second-round games are to be played tomorrow, Narbonne journeying to Jordon, Bell entertaining Washington and Gardena and Banning hooking up on the latter's gridiron.

STRAY TURTLE COPS PRIZE FOR FINDER

Newspapers, news reels, magazines have of late been discussing at great length the recent turtle races held in the Southwest and particularly the fact that one of the entrants found a turtle while out walking on a Sunday, named the turtle Sunday and captured first honors and a prize of $4500.

Lovers of sport in this vicinity will have an opportunity of witnessing and participating in the turtle derby that will be held at the Olympic Auditorium, the 24th, 25th, 26th and 27th inst.

TOM HEENEY COMING IN QUEST FOR TITLE

WELLINGTON (N. Z.) Oct. 17. (AP)—Tom Heeney, Gene Tunney's last opponent before his retirement from the ring, will sail for America on the 24th inst. to resume his quest for the heavyweight title.

Heeney, who has been resting in his native country since his defeat, will begin training immediately on his arrival in the United States in order to participate in Tex Rickard's elimination contests.

TWO JAP BOXERS ON MAIN-STREET CARD

The Main-street boxing arena has lined up an attractive card for Saturday with "Moose" Tausig's newly imported Japanese featherweight, Kato Nakamura and Jimmy Mullen of Denver.

The semifinal event brings together Manuel Vasquez, Mexican middleweight star, and Harry (Bubber) Johnson. Yama Soko, great Japanese KO artist and sensation of the club, is slated to appear against Joe Caballero, Filipino of Stockton.

OKLAHOMA TO MEET TEXANS TOMORROW

NORMAN (Okla.) Oct. 17. (AP)—The existence of a ten-year contract with the University of Texas, providing for a football game in Dallas each year with the University of Oklahoma, during the Dallas fair in October has been revealed here by Ben Owen, athletic director of the university. The contract was signed last December and the first game will be played the 19th inst., Owen said.

(Exclusive) Early season basketball practice has hit its full stride at the University of California where some eighty-five candidates for the varsity and freshman teams are working out daily under the direction of Hap Houvenin and Bill Higgins respectively. Among the letter men now practicing are Capt. Verne Corbin, Pery Ten Eyck, Leonard Stevens, Beech Stearns, Rufus Gregory, and Wilson Tripp. Football will yield Paul Dutch Clymer and Lee Eisan. Ralph Dougery, forward on the basketball varsity two years, will return to school in January. He is working the semester. Higgins's freshman team is packed with high-school experience.

ON THE EVE OF THE WORLD'S SERIES

Three Triumphant Yankees conduct the Blindfold test... and MILLER HUGGINS picks OLD GOLD

Babe and Lou here will tell you that there is only one way to choose a pitcher . . . and that's to put him into the box and let him pitch a few innings.

The best way to choose a cigarette is to put them all through their paces in the blindfold test.

In the test I have just made, Old Gold played right into my hand. Its zippy flavor and mellow mildness couldn't be touched by the other three brands.

Miller J. Huggins

LOU GEHRIG (witness to the test)

MILLER HUGGINS (who made the test)

BABE RUTH (witness to the test)

In the dressing room at Navin Field in Detroit, where the New York Yankees won the American League pennant, Babe Ruth and Lou Gehrig gave the blindfold cigarette test to Manager Miller Huggins. The famous Yankee pilot was asked to smoke each of the four leading brands, clearing his taste with coffee between smokes . . . Only one question was asked, "which one do you like best?"

Why you can pick them . . .

Three types of leaves grow on the tobacco plant . . . coarse top-leaves, irritating to the throat . . . withered ground-leaves, without taste or aroma . . . and the heart-leaves rich in cool and fragrant smoking qualities. Only the heart-leaves are used in Old Golds. That's the reason for their superiority and the secret of their winning appeal.

Cards Face Vandals in Bay City

COAST ELEVENS MIX TOMORROW

Idaho Game Will be Staged in Kezar Stadium

Third Conference Clash for Stanford Gridders

Erb Will Have Heavy Outfit Ready for Battle

STANFORD UNIVERSITY, Oct. 19.—For the first time in many years, a Stanford football team will play in San Francisco, when "Pop" Warner's Cardinals tangle with the Vandals from the University of Idaho at Kezar stadium Friday afternoon at 3 o'clock.

GLENN "POP" WARNER.

Like Stanford, Idaho has been slow getting started but Coach Erb's men have been showing great improvement and are capable of giving the Redshirts as much action as they wish. Last year, the northerners boasted of the heaviest team in the Pacific Coast Conference and are just as big this season. Bill Kershisnik, the 212-pound fullback, is expected to put the powerful Stanford forward wall to a severe test as this big fellow is about as hard to stop as a steam roller.

The Cards are hopeful that four of their regulars—Frank Wilton, halfback; "Spud" Harder, end; Walt Heinecke, center, and Corwin Artman, tackle—who have been out because of injuries and sickness, will be able to start against Idaho. Harder and Heinecke will probably be ready but Wilton's bad knee has not been improving as rapidly as it might and Artman's bad cold is hanging on.

Coach Warner was well pleased, on the whole, with his team's work in defeating U.C.L.A. 45-7 last Saturday. The playing of Bill Simkins at fullback, Lud Prentrup and "Spud" Lewis at halves, and Chuck Smalling at quarter brought joy to his heart. In the line, "Mush" Muller at end and that great pair of guards—Post and Robesky—did some fine work.

The Vandal contest will be the third conference game for Stanford, the Cardinals having already disposed of Oregon and U.C.L.A. Either U.S.C. or California will be eliminated from the undefeated class Saturday and the Reds are expected to fight it out with the winner for the conference championship, if they can turn back the northern invaders.

STANFORD GRIDDERS TAKE IT EASY

STANFORD UNIVERSITY, Oct. 17. (AP)—With Halfback Frank Wilton engaging in his first practice session since his injury ten days ago, Stanford's varsity gridders took things easy today with signal drill comprising the bulk of the work.

Although Wilton's bad knee apparently gave him no trouble today, indications were that Coach Warner does not care to risk a recurrence of the diminutive halfback's injury by using him against the University of Idaho Friday.

Lud Pentrup has been exhibiting great driving power in recent workouts, and with Sims, Fleishhacker and Hoffman making up the rest of the backfield, the Cardinals may attempt to smother Charlie Erb's men with sheer power.

FLEET SPORTS

BY FRANK T. HARVEY

Johnny Buff, former featherweight champion, now on duty aboard the battleship West Virginia, will have the Mountaineer boxing team in excellent shape for their meeting with the U.S.S. Pennsylvania leather-pushers on Friday night.

The smoker which is to be held aboard the West Virginia is expected to be one of the best of the season inasmuch as both ships have excellent stables.

Representing the West Virginia will be "Poison" Pisons, all-Navy flyweight champion, who created quite a sensation last year when he knocked out three of the best fireworks in the service to win the crown.

Joey Pratt, heavyweight runner-up last season, is also aboard the ship, as is Frankie Fleming, one of the hardest-hitting lightweights ever to wear the navy blue.

Coach Dillaven's battleship Pennsylvania football team strengthened their chances of winning the battle fleet grid title last Sunday at San Diego by defeating the strong Marine Corps aggregation, 6 to 0, in one of the hardest fought games ever played on the navy field at the southern port.

At present the Pennsylvania, California and Maryland are undefeated in the battleship division eliminations and it appears as though the Pennsylvania and Maryland will battle it out for the local group championship.

Joe Noto, former all-navy champion from the U.S.S. Mississippi, will get his first chance as a main-eventer in a Southern California ring on Thursday night when he appears in the top spot of the Pasadena Armory show.

On the same card will be Jimmy Sweetins, lightweight from the battleship Maryland, and Jimmy Lancaster, present fleet middleweight champion from the U.S.S. Pennsylvania.

Jimmy Bernheim, popular racehoat coxswain of the battleship Mississippi, was this week transferred to shore duty at Troma field, San Pedro. Bernheim is known as one of the best coxswain's in the service and his loss will be felt aboard the home ship next month when two important races are to be pulled.

In one of the hardest fought basketball games ever played on the Y.M.C.A. court at San Pedro, the battleship Mississippi this week defeated the battleship Colorado quintet, 24 to 23. The last point was made in the final thirty seconds of play.

The first enlistment raceboat crew of the U.S.S. Colorado this week copped the three-mile event, winning over nine other entries. This makes the third race of the year that the Colorado has annexed and puts them far in the lead with points toward the Iron Man race.

Mickey Fannin, hard-hitting lightweight of the U.S.S. Colorado, proved that he is to be considered a serious contender for fleet honors this year by recently taking a decision over Joe Carter, U.S.S. Mississipi veteran.

The regular Saturday football game at Troma Field this week will bring together the teams from the Arizona and Mississippi. The Mississippi is a slight favorite to win the tilt.

It was announced this week that there would be an interfleet baseball meet held at Panama this winter when the combined Pacific and Atlantic fleet athletes compete for the all-navy titles. Several independent games, however, will be played both at Panama and in South America.

GIVES BLOOD TO MOTHER; WINS FIGHT SAME NIGHT

OMAHA (Neb.) Oct. 17. (AP)—After submitting to a blood transfusion early yesterday which may be the means of saving his mother's life, Freddy Penn, 18, Omaha fighter, stepped into a Council Bluffs (Iowa) ring last night and in the last round of his bout knocked his opponent down four times, winning the fight. Penn gave more than half a pint of blood to his mother, who has been near death since Saturday. The transfusion cost Freddy precious poundage in his boxing match and he entered the ring thirteen and a half pounds lighted than Clarence Berger, his opponent. Freddy's mother was reported improved today.

MINOR CITY FOOTBALL LOOP OPENS TOMORROW

Tomorrow is the day local prep fans have been awaiting for the last three months, because tomorrow marks the opening of the Minor City League football circuit. Three games are on tap in the opening round, the feature game of the trio being the Roosevelt-Fairfax tussle on the Rough Riders' field, the two other games finding Belmont at Garfield and Harding at Fremont.

Out at Roosevelt, Coach Clark De Groot has been hard at his squad all week drilling them against Fairfax plays in the hope that his team can stave off the powerful Colonial eleven. De Groot has lost two of his best backfield men in the last couple of weeks, the last addition to the cripples being Sneller, who rated all-Montana halfback last year. Warren Payne, the Rough Riders' best backfield man, is certain to be out until the Belmont game with a deep leg muscle injury. However, De Groot still has Gordon Gearhardt, Neiden and Ramona in the backfield. Gearhardt was elected captain Monday.

Hugh Welsh's Colonial eleven is said to be one of the best bets for the title this year, so the Roosevelt team is in for a hard afternoon.

Sid Witherow's Belmont Hilltoppers will have to be at top form to nose out Coach Fitzmaurice's Garfield Presidents, as the Garfield team, although light, is fast and full of fight. Garfield's starting line-up will not average 150 pounds.

Fremont is figured to have an easy time with Bob Triggs's Harding team, although Harding has a fast team and a good passing attack that may score gainst the Pathfinders.

DISSATISFACTION IN RANKS OF NATIONAL BOXING BOARD

TORONTO, Oct. 17. (AP)—Rumbles of dissatisfaction withth the National Boxing Association were heard today.

The trouble originated over the annual meeting. The Canadian delegation wanted to know why Thomas Murphy, second vice - president last year, was not nominated for the office this time. It was explained that Murphy's election last rrary to the constitution which provides that foreign delegates cannot hold office in the organization.

A number of State delegations rallied to the support of the Dominion and charges were hurled that western delegates had "steam-rollered" the convention to secure control of the N.B.A. The newly elected president, Paul Prehn, is chairman of the Illinois Boxing Commission; Stanley Isaacs, first vice-president, is from Ohio, and Dr. F. C. Allen, second vice-president, comes from Kansas.

At the conclusion of the regular meeting of the convention, a private gathering, attended by the Canadian delegation and delegates from several States, was held to discuss the situation. There were some indications that a move might be made by which Canada and other disgruntled State delegations might attempt formation of a new association.

Allan J. Trible of Newark, N. J., announced that the private meeting had been attended by representatives of Canada, Connecticut, Maryland, Kentucky, North Carolina, Michigan, Wisconsin, New Jersey and "even Illinois, itself." Commissioner Sam Luzzo of the Illinois delegation, was there, Trible said.

"It was evident," he said in reference to the convention itself, "that a coterie who have proved to have control of the election have used steam-roller methods to attain their own ends."

Just what, if anything, is to be done about the situation, remains to be decided.

LEWIS WINNER OVER PLESTINA

perspiring opponent. Strangler found himself in perfect position to secure a fall, so all he had to do was lay all over Plestina until the referee patted the champ for the deciding fall.

The time of the final fall was exactly 2m. and 31s., a rather sudden finish as wrestling matches go.

Lewis won the first fall in 41m. 30s. with a headlock after Plestina had punished him severely from the start. Plestina had just clamped on four flying mares in a row and was trying for the fifth when Lewis, who was on the ropes and behind him, hit Marin three emphatic jolts in the solar plexus. The 240-pound trust buster doubled up like one of those trick opera hats and squatted to the canvas looking for his suddenly depleted wind supply. Lewis quickly clamped on his headlock and that was all for the first fall.

Lewis started out as if to end it in a hurry when they came out for the second fall, but his rally was cut short when Referee McDonald made him break a headlock that slipped down around Plestina's windpipe. From then on Marin had all the better of it. Plestina got his flying mares working on the champ and, on the last of four of these Lewis landed as hard as Babe Ruth in that last game of the world series.

The Strangler was temporarily knocked out from the force of the impact and had to be escorted to his corner after Dr. Lloyd Mace, the State Athletic Commission physician, and Manager Billy Sandow had worked over him.

Plestina's fall was achieved in 12m. 45s.

The husky muscle-massagers provoked a near riot in the front row early in the match when they rolled out into the cash customers' laps and started tugging at each other and scattering perspiration on all those in the vicinity. One overzealous gent took a pop at Lewis, who turned and put a mild headlock on the nearest guy to him before the referee could get him calmed down.

The whole card was filled with action and Promoter Lou Daro's wide smile almost hid his famous carnation as he counted up the house and listened to the fans cheer his trained pachyderms.

The second bout on the card, between Bill Shaw, the rough, tough 202-pound redhead from Salt Lake, and Big Bill Beth, a 240-pound old gentleman built on the lines of the Graf Zeppelin, resulted in a victory for the former. Shaw flopped Beth around with reckless abandon and secured the lone fall of the affair with a reverse body slam in 23m. 30s. This match was limited to forty-five minutes.

Dr. Perry A. Millikin, the well-known Hollywood chiropractor, gave Pete Aisbrenner an adjustment in fourteen minutes and fifteen seconds in the curtain-raiser. Millikin's winning hold was a reverse body slam, the same as used in putting the third lumbar vertebrae in place. Millikin weighed 169 to 159 for Aisbrenner and agreed to flop his lighter opponent in fifteen minutes or forfeit the match.

Dr. Millikin is in great shape from mauling hapless patients who have recently strayed into his office and wants Daro to give him a match with some good light-heavyweight.

ALL EYES ON TROJAN GAME

000 to 100,000 will get at least a bird's-eye view of this tussle from the hillside if not altogether from the big Berkeley bowl itself.

The following week should shift the spotlight back to the near East, with Yale's big arena packed to its usual limits of around 75,000 for the colorful visit of West Point's cadets.

There are any number of other big spectacles, East, West and South, every week but these illustrate that no one section has any monopoly on popular interest or in attractions of nation-wide appeal. Fog a number of reasons, chiefly the use of the radio, the big games in any section attract the public eye, or ear, most anywhere nowadays.

KING AND LUNDY IN DRAW AT WILMINGTON

Richie King and Jimmy Lundy battled ten rounds to a fast draw last night in the feature event on the Wilmington Bowl program. The bout was hostly contested from the opening gong to the final bell. Raymond Lugo defeated Frankie Bolt in the semi-wind-up over the six-round route. Wendell Long and Bud Cougler boxed six rounds to a draw verdict in the special event. Dick Peralta won by a technical knock-out from Archie Akers in the fourth round of the second bout on the card. Kid Banta defeated Alex Tovar in the four-round opener. A capacity house witnessed the fights.

LYNCH AND KLICK IN DRAW FISTIC MELEE

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 17. (AP)—California Joe Lynch, 124½, and Frankie Klick, 126, both of San Francisco, fought ten rounds to a draw tonight at National Hall.

A last-round rally by Klick caught the referee's eye after Lynch had piled up a lead in the middle rounds. Lynch, strictly a counter-puncher, outfought Klick at close ranch during most of the fight.

SAN CLEMENTE GETS BUSY

SAN CLEMENTE, Oct. 17.—San Clemente is continuing its work on the baseball diamond which will be used by the Seattle Indians as a training camp next year. The field was seeded today after the installation of a water system had been completed. W. A. Ayer, City Engineer, and Bob Gore, in charge of construction, state the diamond will be ready for play within two months.

REVIVAL OF SHIP PACT FORECAST

Delegates Returning from Eastern Meeting

Outlook Regarded Good for Stronger Compact

Only Few Minor Questions to be Ironed Out

The Westbound Intercoastal Conference not only will live but will emerge from its present series of conferences stronger than ever, in the opinion of Pacific Coast delegates, returning from the meetings at New York and Virginia Beach.

The meetings have resulted in the withdrawal of the Dollar and Transmarine Lines' resignations; an agreement on certain modifications in the internal organization of the conference, and establishment of a basis for amicable relations between conference and non-conference lines.

The most thorny problem yet unsolved, is the reluctance of Panama Pacific Steamship Company to halt its resignation, soon to become effective, but negotiations continue in that direction. Dimon Line, already outside the conference, had not been won over at last reports and can be only by a direct reversal of its previous policy. Industrial lines, however, have indicated a friendly attitude and are expected to conform as nearly as their interests permit with conference practices.

At all meetings the conferees recognized their obligations to provide rate stability for patrons of both coasts, one of the outstanding contentions of interested Los Angeles parties, and the need of continuing to build on foundations laid down for the conference by Robert C. Thackera, chairman.

Final agreements are expected in a few days from the little group still remaining East, when details heretofore confidential will be made public.

An aside move, but having its effect on the intercoastal conference, is the preliminary application of Oceanic and Oriental Navigation for admission to the Pacific westbound conference. O. & O's absence from this conference has been one of the Dollar Line's contentions for withdrawing from the intercoastal pact.

EFFICIENCY AWARD MADE TO SKIPPER

The Luckenbach Line announced yesterday the awarding of first honors to Capt. A. H. (Noisy) Sears of the Lewis Luckenbach for efficiency during the year.

The statement reads: "Capt. Sears wins first place in ships of our line for efficiency, operation, personnel and freedom from grounding and docking accidents." A gold star is the award.

Incidentally, vessels of the Luckenbach Line will handle more than 10,500 tons of commerce in and out of this port during the seventy-two hours beginning today.

The Florence Luckenbach will lift 1500 tons befgre sailing tonight for the Gulf. Harry Luckenbach will pick up 1200 tomorrow for the same place; the F. J. Luckenbach in tomorrow and out Saturday, will load 1000 tons for the North Atlantic; the Edgar F. Luckenbach on the same day will arrive with 3600 from the Gulf, and the J. L. Luckenbach will drop 3200 tons from the North Atlantic Friday and Saturday.

Christmas toys, radio sets and motor trucks constitute main items in 2000 tons to be dropped by the American-Hawaiian steamer Ohioan, due today from the North Atlantic. Today also will see the Hawaiian picking up 1800 tons of copper, wool and cotton for the east coast.

First grain to be stored at the port since the war is now in the Globe elevator on the main channel, forty-eight carloads of wheat from Utah. It is occasioned by the crowded conditions of the company's facilities uptown.

An army service launch for the mine service in the Philippines will be ready for launching in a few days at the yards of the Harbor Boat Building Company at East San Pedro, according to John Rados, president. The craft is sixty-four feet long, will be powered with one 120-horsepower Union Diesel engine and will cost $35,000. The contract was won in competition throughout the United States.

The Princess, a glass-bottom pleasure boat, was brought over from Catalina Islands yesterday for overhaul at the yards of William Muller, Wilmington. The entire pleasure fleet of the Wilmington Transportation Company at the island lands will undergo similar treatment during the ensuing months.

WHEEZING, SPITTING OLD BUS KICKS UP HOT CRACKING RUMPUS

It was just before dawn. Out of the fog slipped a small automobile going west on Pico street. At Union avenue Officers McPherson and Fadeen were patrolling for suspicious automobiles.

"Crack!" a report shattered the silence.

"Hey!" cried Fadeen in a hoarse whisper, "Jahear that?"

"Yep," answered McPherson, sotto voce, "hijackers, I betchu. Let's go."

And they went right after the phantom car from which the sound of a shot had come. The police car gained speed.

"Ahoy, there, you," yelled Fadeen, cupping his hands, "stop, halt, pull over to the curb."

The car kept going.

"Give 'er the gun," urged Fadeen to his partner, "we'll run 'em in."

"Crack, crack, bing, bang, wham," the reports ripped out from the car ahead.

The police car slowed up as the officers cleared for action. In their report, turned in later, they said, "they fired upon us after disregarding our commands to halt and we returned the fire. Then they opened fire again and we fired back. At Hoover we lost track of them in the darkness."

But the officers had obtained the license number of the car and this they turned over to Detective Lieutenants Freudenberg and Jamison who, tracing it, located the car and the owner, William Weeks, in his garage at 837 South Spring street.

Weeks admitted, the detectives reported, that he had been driving on Pico street at about the time the officers had figured in a running "gun battle," but denied that he had done any shooting, heard any shooting, or seen any gun-firing officers.

"But I'll tell you," said Weeks, according to the detectives, "maybe it was that old tire of mine that caused all the trouble. When she gets rolling more than twenty-five miles an hour she backfires. Maybe I didn't hear anything because of that."

To verify Weeks's story the detectives took his "old bus" out into a rear alley and stepped on the gas. Sure enough, said the detectives, at twenty-eight miles an hour the car shook with the concussion of a steady stream of machine-gun-like reports.

And that's the end of that.

Galveston rate is discriminatory and, therefore, in restraint of trade.

EXPERT EMPLOYED

The San Pedro and Wilmington Chambers of Commerce, it was revealed, have employed a rate expert to fight other asserted discriminatory rates from Pacific Coast inland points to western ports other than Los Angeles Harbor, in addition to fighting split-delivery methods which are held a detriment to the local port.

General Manager Cole's letter to the harbor board, on which the decision to give battle was based, in part follows:

"For some time the department has been investigating the copper and wool rail rate with reference to movements from Arizona points to Los Angeles Harbor as compared with rates from the same points to Galveston for water shipment, also as compared to rail rates from other mountain State points to Pacific Coast ports for water movement.

We find rates on these commodities to Los Angeles Harbor to be unjust and unreasonable and, therefore, in violation of Section 1 of the Interstate Commerce Commission Act, and that they are unduly prejudicial in violation of Section 3 of the act.

"The Arizona Corporation Commission and the Arizona Wool Growers' Association already have filed a complaint before the Interstate Commerce Commission against the rail rates from Arizona points to Los Angeles Harbor on wool.

"The copper interests are anxious to have a complaint filed against the rail rates on copper between the same points. They state that if the city of Los Angeles will file the complaint, because of its interest in encouraging and developing the movement of copper through this port, they will intervene and do all they can in an endeavor to secure a favorable ruling from the commission.

"The wool interests have asked that we intervene in their case for the same reason. I am submitting the same for your consideration, with the recommendation that your honorable body authorize the department and the city attorney to take such steps as may be necessary."

WOMEN TO BE FETED AT SAN GABRIEL

Federation Delegates Will be Luncheon Guests at Mission Playhouse

More than 800 women delegates to the president's council of the Los Angeles District Federation of Women's Clubs will be guests of the San Gabriel Women's Club at an all-day session in the Mission Playhouse today.

Luncheon will be served under the historic old grapevine which adjoins the Mission Playhouse and which covers more than an acre of trellises.

John Steven McGroarty, author of the Mission Play, and Mrs. McGroarty, "mother" of the Mission Play cast of more than 100," officially will greet the women from Los Angeles, Ventura, Inyo, Santa Barbara and San Luis Obispo counties. Mr. McGroarty will deliver the address of welcome inaugurating an interesting and elaborate program to be presented from the stage of the playhouse which has been thrown open for this district conference.

Mrs. William Waller Slayden, district president, who will preside, will sit in the chair originally used by Fray Junipero Serra, and will use the historic table around which the mission fathers gathered centuries ago at their conferences.

New Opposition to Rodeo Bill

Regarding the antirodeo bill, Referendum No. 21 on the November ballot, reports have been received by J. A. McNaughton, executive chairman of the Rodeo Educational Association, from a number of the societies for the prevention of cruelty to animals throughout the State placing their members on record as opposing the passage of this measure.

The S.P.C.A. of Monterey not only has come out definitely against this proposed measure, but has voted to place the matter before the State convention in an effort to obtain State-wide opposition.

The Oakland S.P.C.A. of Alameda county, in a resolution reported by Walter Osborn, secretary, also has gone on record opposing the measure on the grounds that the rodeo in a distinctive California institution which should be preserved and that existing State laws are ample to meet all the requirements in the prevention of cruelty to animals.

In conclusion, the resolutions set forth that the measure is so severe that it makes a potential criminal out of every farmer and cattleman.

Injurious Crash Laid to Speed

Excessive speed, according to police, is what put Kenneth Grant, 28 years of age of 1025 South New Hampshire avenue, and his coworker, L. J. Hollis, 21, of 6511 Lankershim Boulevard, in the hospital yesterday, the first with fractured ribs, head injuries and possible internal chest injuries, and the latter with severe bruises and lacerations.

Witnesses said Grant drove his automobile across the intersection of Twenty-fifth and Alameda streets at about sixty miles an hour. The car hit a dip, struck a truck driven by Harry Olcott of 1037 South Los Angeles street, sheered off into a sedan driven by B. B. Spencer of 1414 North Catalina street, and then turned over. Both men are electricians of the Neon Light Company. They were taken to a private hospital following treatment at the Georgia-street Receiving Hospital.

FAMOUS ACTRESS WELCOMED HOME

Mayor Cryer and Nance O'Neil

Mayor Cryer yesterday officially welcomed at the City Hall Miss Nance O'Neil, native daughter of California and noted actress, and officers of the Los Angeles Repertory Theater, including L. E. Behymer, Simeon Gest and H. Ellis Reed. Miss O'Neil's return to Los Angeles signalizes the first step of the Repertory Theater, which will stage its production at the Playhouse in the Friday Morning Club building on Figueroa street. The first play to be given is "The Silver Cord," and the cast, which is now being assembled, is headed by Miss O'Neil.

Opponent Joins Supporters of Supervisor Bean

The candidacy of J. H. Bean for re-election to the Board of Supervisors was indorsed yesterday by J. Percy Hart, one of Bean's opponents at the August primaries.

Hart is the second of Supervisor Bean's opponents who has declared himself for the incumbent county official, Cole Salling previously having announced that he will support the re-election of Mr. Bean.

"I feel that Mr. Bean is able and has given the taxpayers of Los Angeles the highest value for their tax dollar," Mr. Hart said. "This is demonstrated, in my opinion, by the fact that the Los Angeles county tax rate has been reduced 2 cents this year, while the city tax rate has been increased by 11 cents."

Charter Change Fought by Board

A resolution opposing the proposed charter amendment to be voted on in the November election known as proposition 16-A was passed unanimously by the Civil Service Commission yesterday on recommendation of General Manager Amsden.

It is charged the amendment, providing that heads of departments may demote employees of their departments for lack of funds or lack of work, took the matter completely out of the hands of the Civil Service Commission, supposed to have such jurisdiction "if civil service standards are to be maintained."

The charge was advanced by the commissioners and Amsden, that the plan nullified the service rating system for employees provided for in the new city charter and established at great expense.

The amendment is backed by the Board of Public Works.

RABBI TELLS WHY HOOVER SHOULD WIN

Nation Needs President of International Vision, City Club Hears

"Alfred Smith is a splendid citizen, and a fearless, efficient executive, but I am for Herbert Hoover for President because I believe that we need a man of his strength, ability, type of mind and vast fundamental experience to guide the destinies of our nation," said Dr. Ernest Trattner, rabbi of City Temple, in an address yesterday at the City Club.

"Hoover's splendid achievements at home and abroad, in the realms of industry and economics, qualify him for the position in which I believe the citizens of the United States will place him," said Dr. Trattner. "His experiences in Asia and Europe have given him a world vision which his opponent does not possess, but which should be one of the chief qualifications of the man who is to be so influential in America's attitude toward and dealings with other nations. In the United States we are undergoing great industrial changes, and no man is so well qualified as Herbert Hoover to solve the country's industrial, economic and agricultural problems."

Speaking on "Where Religion and Politics Meet and Where They Part," Dr. Trattner said:

"So varied are the types and interests of American citizens that the religious issue injected into this campaign should give no one cause for worry," said the speaker. "There would be no more danger of Roman Catholic domination of this country if Smith were elected than there will be a likelihood of a wave of Quakerism sweeping the States because of the election of Hoover. The bugaboo of any brand of religious domination need not frighten us, although every one should take an ethical interest in the political welfare of the country and seek to place the best men available in positions of trust."

Entertains Club

One of the lovely affairs of the week was the luncheon and bridge with which Mrs. Joseph Robinson entertained Tuesday afternoon at her apartments in the Biltmore, her guests being members of her bridge club.

A color motif of yellow and purple was attractively carried out in the flowers and other appointments of the table and the special guest of honor was Mrs. S. L. Seamans, who has recently returned from an extended visit in the East. At the bridge games the prizes were won by Mrs. George Gillette and Mrs. Charles Easton.

Going East

Among the Angelenos who are planning extensive trips east are Mr. and Mrs. Robert Irwin Rogers of Beverly Hills who, with Mrs. Richard Jewett Schweppe and Miss Anna Katherine Flint, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Frederick W. Flint, Jr., of Chester Place, are leaving today for New York City.

Mr. Schweppe will join his wife in Gotham later in the season in time to attend the Harvard and Yale football game, and they will return home in time for the Christmas holidays.

Mrs. James Rathwell Page of Windsor Boulevard left last week for New York and will join her sister, Mrs. Schweppe, there.

Johnson-Nason

The marriage of Miss Violette Marie Johnson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Frederick R. Johnson of Rodeo Drive, Beverly Hills, to Frederick Northrup Nason, son of Mr. and Mrs. Malcolm Craig Nason, was solemnized Tuesday evening, the ceremony taking place in Beverly Hills Community Church, with Rev. C. Elwood Nash officiating.

The church was beautifully decorated with a profusion of pastel shaded flowers and lighted by myriads of tall waxen tapers, 600 guests having been bidden and Mr. Johnson gave his daughter in marriage. The bride wore a gown of rose point lace over soft white satin, fashioned with full sleeves and train, the veil of lace and tulle being held in place by a coronet of pearls and she carried orchids and lilies of the valley.

Mrs. Malcolm Craig Nason, Jr., assisted as matron of honor while Miss Frances Budd was maid of honor and the other attendants included Miss Jessaline Nason, Miss Mary Bryant, Miss Veryl Sweeney and Mrs. Fred Weber, Jr. They were frocked in gowns fashioned from three shades of orchid tulle with dainty hats of tulle to match their frocks and carried armsfull of pink roses and garlands of fragrant English violets.

Malcolm Craig Nason, Jr., served his brother as best man and Fred Weber, Jr., Robert Green, Morley Drury, Milton Johnson, Easton Noble and Leo Anderson were ushers.

A reception and wedding supper for seventy relatives and close friends followed at the home of the bride's parents, after which Mr. and Mrs. Nason left for an extended wedding trip which includes motoring through the north and after their return they will make their home in Beverly Hills.

Mrs. Nason was graduated from Cumnock School and later attended University of Southern California where she is a member of Kappa Alpha Theta Sorority, while Mr. Nason also claims as his alma mater University of Southern California and is a member of Sigma Chi Fraternity. Mrs. Johnson wore a becoming gown of yellow beaded georgette and velvet with hat of gold while Mrs. Nason wore a gown of pink georgette.

For Visiting Celebrities

The coming of grand opera and visitation of many brilliant musical stars have given an incentive for a number of brilliant events recently, among them being the tea with which Maestro and Mme. Pietro Cimini entertained yesterday afternoon at their lovely home, 620 South Alexandria avenue, honoring Tito Schipa and Mme. Schipa, while Sunday afternoon Mr. and Mrs. Norwood Howard gave a charming garden tea and grill supper at their home in Altadena honoring Edward Johnson, who was also honor guest at a dinner party with which Mr. and Mrs. Frank Roger Seaver entertained Tuesday evening at their apartment in the Gaylord.

Lawrence Tibbett and Edward Johnson shared honors at a dinner party given last Friday evening by Mr. and Mrs. E. Avery McCarthy, and Tuesday Mrs. Edward Laurence Doheny entertained with a luncheon at their Doheny Rancho, when M. and Mme. Gaetano Merola and Elisabeth Rethberg and her husband, Mr. Doman, were especial guests of honor.

Mr. and Mrs. Doheny also entertained about thirty guests aboard their yacht Cassiana Sunday, when Mme. Rethberg was special honor guest. The day was enjoyed cruising about Catalina waters and luncheon was served at noon aboard the craft, which had been anchored in Catalina Harbor at Avalon.

Delightful Affair

Among the enjoyable affairs of last week was the luncheon and bridge with which Mrs. Arthur C. Amos of 4825 Rosewood avenue entertained Friday afternoon at the Jonathan Club.

The decorations were charmingly carried out with a profusion of autumn flowers and foliage and exquisite French chiffon handkerchiefs were given as place favors.

The hostess was assisted by Mrs. Paul Battelle Fletcher, Mrs. Wilbur C. Curtis, Mrs. Leone Bentley and Miss Cora Boettcher. Guests included Mmes. Frank B. Anstead, Walter B. Allen, Albert E. Keep Skin Young, Coloring Beautiful

To insure a perfect skin and beautiful complexion, start now to use pure mercolized wax. Obtainable at any drug store, it is applied nightly to the face like a cream. In just a few days the film skin is gently absorbed, with such defects as freckles, blackheads, tan and pimples. The under skin when unveiled is clear, transparent and fairly radiant with fine natural color. Mercolized wax brings out the hidden beauty. To remove wrinkles and restore the contour of youth, use as an astringent, 1 ounce powdered saxolite and 1 half pint witch hazel.—[Advertisement.

A Better Corn Was Needed

So we took 12 years to develop this new breed for you

DEL MAIZ
The New Sweet Corn

In scores of years there has been no new sweet corn. Year in, year out you have had the same varieties under different brands. Many of them, though delicious, have lacked that "something better" you have craved in a canned corn.

For years we have grown and packed the finest brands of these old-established varieties ourselves. With our improved cultivating and packing methods we were producing as fine a can of corn as any known. Still we were not satisfied.

Mechanically, we had gone as far as anyone could. For a better corn, we decided to call on Nature, and with her aid, breed a distinctly new and different seed that had appetizing qualities no other possessed.

To accomplish this, took 12 years of intensive seed culture. Finally, we perfected a corn of unique and distinct qualities, that met, when canned, all the requirements of an ideal fresh, sweet corn. The tall, tender kernels permitted a full, deep cut without including the unpleasant cob particles, and gave a rich, uniform, creamy consistency, with the flavor of delicious, fresh, sweet corn.

Breeding the Del Maiz seed

This new breed—DEL MAIZ—cannot be duplicated anywhere, as we alone own the seed. You will have to taste it to appreciate it.

Serve it right from the can, or try it in this tasteful recipe.

DEL MAIZ Luncheon

1 can Del Maiz
1 cup left-over chicken or ham, chopped rather coarse
2 eggs, well beaten
½ cup cream or milk
½ tsp. salt

Mix all together. Put in buttered bake dish and cover with bread crumbs and small pieces of butter. Bake about 30 minutes in moderate oven.

Leading grocers handle DEL MAIZ. Get your can today and a FREE booklet of a dozen delicious DEL MAIZ recipes.

Engagement Announced

Of outstanding interest not only in local social circles but to football fans all over the State is the announcement of the engagement of Miss Virginia Thorpe to Morley Drury, captain of last year's Trojan football team. Mr. Drury has just returned from a trip east where the engagement was announced at a formal banquet, the bride-elect being a student at Smith College. Morley Drury was awarded the Trojan diamond medal at the University of Southern California commencement last June for his athletic prowess and he accompanied the baseball team to Japan this summer.

Chrysanthemums and foliage decorated the house and before the ceremony Mme. Flora Ferrara played the wedding march.

What a Pity To Stay Fat
When millions don't

People don't stay fat in these days. Not the people who care to reduce. Not the people who seek youth and beauty, health and vigor. You can see in every circle that excess fat is disappearing fast.

One great reason lies in a discovery made some 25 years ago. Medical research found a great cause of excess fat in a deficient gland. That gland largely controls nutrition. When it is under-active, too much food goes to fat.

That discovery changed the treatment for obesity with physicians the world over. They aimed to correct the deficiency. The chief factor they used was then embodied in Marmola prescription tablets, perfected by a great medical laboratory. Marmola has been used for 21 years—millions of boxes of it. The use grew and grew as the results appeared in every circle. Now it is enormous.

The use of Marmola does not require abnormal exercise or diet. Such extremes are harmful. The aim is to correct the cause. One simply takes four tablets daily until weight comes down to normal.

Each box of Marmola contains the formula. One knows exactly why the weight goes down and the vitality goes up.

Don't let excess fat deprive you of the joys of life. Use Marmola to correct the cause, as so many have done for so long. Don't wait longer. Get a box of Marmola, watch the results, then let those results decide.

Marmola prescription tablets are sold by all druggists at $1 a box. Any druggist who is out will order from his jobber.

HEALTH and DIET ADVICE

By Dr Frank McCoy
author of "The Four Way to Health"

Dr. McCoy will answer personal questions on health and diet, addressed to him, care of The Los Angeles Times. Inclose stamped, addressed envelope for reply.

HAY FEVER

Judging by the number and type of letters which I am receiving, the annual crop of hay fever or autumnal catarrh is being harvested.

Although cases of hay fever may begin as early as June or July, by far the largest number occurs toward the last part of August, and remains until frost. Hay fever patients usually know the exact date when their next attack is going to occur and regard its approach with apprehension. This disease is characterized by a profuse flow of secretions from the eyes and nose, a general feeling of depression, sleeplessness, intense headaches and sensitiveness to light, and a loss of appetite. It is exceedingly troublesome and interferes with work and recreation.

The majority of hay fever victims are intellectually developed or highly nervous individuals. The irritation from pollen or dust is usually blamed for causing this disease, but there must always be two other conditions present, first a general tendency toward acidosis or catarrh and, secondly, a local congestion of the membranes of the nose.

Even though appearing locally, hay fever is really of constitutional origin and is caused by a failure of most of the organs of elimination to discharge their full quota of toxins so that the mucous membranes, irritated by the excessive quantity of acid excretions, develop a chronic state of engorgement.

Much foolish advice is given as to the treatment for hay fever, but the cure is very simple and depends entirely upon dietetic treatment. The person who has a tendency to this disorder must first cleanse his blood stream by a short fast of several days from all food, and he must drink large quantities of water, possibly three or four gallons per day, and use at least one enema of a quart of warm water. Shower baths should be used twice daily, followed by brisk rubbing with a rough towel till the skin fairly glows. This stimulates elimination from the skin and relieves the overworked mucous membranes, and relief will almost immediately be felt.

It is surprising how quickly hay fever will disappear under this regime but if your sickness has been of many years' standing, the tissues may be so chronically engorged that much time may be required for a cure. The inflamed mucous membranes have been trained in the habit of being eliminative organs and the cure cannot be greatly hastened except by those treatments which stimulate elimination.

All starches and sugars, and bananas, should be excluded from the diet for a considerable time and in many cases it seems advisable to discontinue milk and cream, although normal amounts of butter may be used.

Even though you are not suffering from a spell of hay fever at present, you can often prevent its future occurrence by following this regime between the periods of attack.

So many people have hay fever that many of the sufferers have banded themselves together in an organization which meets annually so that the members can mutually sympathize. I am serving notice on this association that if they invite me to address them next year at their annual convention, I will guarantee to break up their society if the members will follow my advice, and the following year they will not have enough of their old members to form a committee, let alone an association.

QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS

Developing the Chest and Back

Question: A reader asks: "Kindly publish in your column whether or not it is possible for a man 21 years of age to develop the chest and back."

Answer: Unless you are greatly deformed it will be possible for you to develop your chest and back to perfect shape through taking certain exercises. The best exercises are with what are called chest weights which are found in any gymnasium. In addition to this, exercises may be taken by lifting heavy weights under the instruction of a competent physical culture teacher.

YOUR BABY AND MINE

Mrs. Eldred will be glad to answer all questions pertaining to babies and children. A stamped and self-addressed envelope, forwarded to this office, will bring a personal reply.

This department offers hints on weaning and feeding the child from 6 weeks to 6 years, prenatal care and diet for the nursing mother, constipation, eczema, outfits for the new baby, sleeping, walking, teething, thumb sucking, ammoniacal urine, bed wetting, training in cleanly habits, periods of nursing, cod liver oil, orange juice, fevers, worms, vomiting, refractory children, prune juice, lime water, rupture, stye and boils and cradle cap. Before asking a personal question about one these subjects, it is better to send a self-addressed stamped envelope for the leaflet you need. If your particular problem is not covered in the above list, Mrs. Eldred will be glad to give you a personal reply.

CONSTIPATION ENCOURAGED BY TOO MANY LAXATIVES

It is essential that a child have one regular evacuation of the bowels daily. Most children will have. Babies may have from one to four normally, and the average baby will gradually become regularized if his mother will refrain from making such frenzied efforts to prevent constipation.

Not uncommonly a mother doses her baby with such a strong drug as castor oil, with the mistaken notion that she is helping constipation. If she doesn't go quite this far, she still puts her faith in bottled nostrums rather than simpler and more natural aids like orange or prune juice. Then when she doses him constantly she complains when he is full of gas, strains and struggles in discomfort and passes small stools in every diaper.

ALLOW NATURE TO WORK

If left alone, a healthy baby will have sufficient stools to rid itself of accumulated residue. Instead of beginning the laxative habit, as so many do, the first or second week of a child's life, why not allow nature to establish its own habit? Bowel movements are a natural part of the body activity and there is no more reason to suppose that this particular avenue of elimination is any more helpless than the lungs or kidneys or skin, which we do not dream of helping. The duty of the bowels is to secrete what the body cannot use. Why not let it do this as it will naturally?

The child may be underfed and so have little residue to eliminate. "Cleaning out" the bowel tract with constant doses of physic certainly does not help matters while improving the diet would. As soon as one uses a physic, then more than the normal amount of secretion is forced out, and there will be constipation again until sufficient residue has collected to stimulate a normal movement. Thus, instead of helping the constipation, laxatives actually cause it by removing the bulk that if left alone would give the impetus to the muscles which induces activity.

If there is a general sluggish muscular tone, so that the trouble lies rather in the inability of the sphincter muscle to propel the residue out of the body, laxatives will not help, but some mechanical irritant, as a suppository, will help. Building up the whole system by correct food, fresh air, general exercise, is going to help these particular muscles too, and inevitably, if not given too much aid they will be able to do their own work.

People in this day and age are too bowel conscious. They are always striving to keep themselves from being constipated, instead of having some faith that a healthy body will be able to manage for itself if not offered too many outside aids.

Health Methods Held Paramount

Maintaining that "the correct application of any health measure in itself accomplishes more than 50 per cent of the result," Dr. Philip M. Lovell, lecturing this afternoon at 2 o'clock in the Southwest Building, 130 South Broadway, will explain the proper technique for the administration of the various measures recommended in his health regimes.

Mental treatment will be set forth as a potent factor of this technique, Dr. Lovell contending that "a wrong state of mind is responsible for more ill health than any single agency. N. P. Rowe will give a brief demonstration of corrective exercises.

The organization is made up of nearly all the various choirs in the city and received an ovation at its first public appearance, September 2, at the Pacific Southwest Exposition under auspices of Loyola College on University Day. A concert orchestra will provide the accompaniment for the choral and solo numbers at the coming affair.

GUIDING THE CHILD

THE VALUE OF OBEDIENCE

By Mrs. Agnes Snyder

Obedience is a means, not an end. By means of obedience we guide the child through the difficult labyrinths of his early years.

If children were to be allowed never to have wills of their own, never to have to make decisions, we might be spared the task of making unquestioning obedience an end in itself. But such children will grow up to be men and women who must take responsibility for their own lives, we must regard obedience simply as a convenience, a convenience with which to fit people into life until judgment and the development of the child's sense of values negates the need of it.

Obedience has long been considered as a virtue in itself. Only recently have we begun to examine it critically. Its worth or condemnation implies subservience to the will of another. It is worth nothing in the development of the child unless the child himself accepts his parents' requirements as fair and reasonable, within the limits of his intelligence to understand, helped to understand why things are demanded of him.

When Patsy was three she was forced to take her nap every day while crossing the street was the danger of being run down by an automobile had been explained to her, but made no particular impression. The rule had to be enforced. Tears and protests. After listening to her objections her faith in her mother made her obey. At four she regularly puts her hand in her mother's at street crossings. At five, old enough to appreciate the reasonableness of what she has been made to do. What was formerly obedience has become habit. Obedience has become habit. Patsy have attained sufficient maturity to cross streets by herself.

In all our training of human beings must require only such obedience as is necessary for safety and well-being.

Passage Seen as Move to Get More Industries

Present Restrictions Held Bar to Development

In urging a "Yes" vote on Proposition 8-A on the November 6 general election ballot, President Allen of the Board of Harbor Commissioners said yesterday that the adoption of this charter amendment will greatly promote the growth of prosperity of the municipal enterprises at Los Angeles Harbor, President Allen said:

"The purpose of the charter amendment proposed in Proposition 8-A is to enable the city to secure more revenue from the city properties and to bring large industries to our harbor. The restrictions to be removed by the adoption of this amendment are now prohibiting the harbor department from leasing the large warehouse as well as other space at Pier 1. The restriction was placed there years ago and now stands as a bar to the development of Pier 1 under the lease plan which prevails in all parts of the municipally owned harbor. Until this restriction is removed we have the large warehouse and other parts of Pier 1 idle and unproductive. A 'Yes' vote on this proposition will enable us to secure revenues from Pier 1 as the city does now from all harbor lands and piers.

TO GAIN INDUSTRIES

"A second purpose of the charter amendment is to enable the harbor department to offer forty-year leases to industries at the harbor, subject, of course, to approval of each lease by the City Council. Large industries which desired to come to our harbor have gone to Long Beach and elsewhere because we were prohibited by the charter for making leases longer than for thirty years and also, the charter provides that the rental terms in the lease shall be subject to revaluation every ten years.

"Large industries have refused to come to our harbor and build large plants on these terms, not knowing what their rent will be for the entire lease period. A business man must know what his rental is to be for the entire lease period. Under the provisions of the charter amendment, the harbor department will be able to offer industries and shipping companies forty-year leases at definite rentals for the entire period.

SELF-SUSTAINING

"The harbor department is now on a self-sustaining basis and this year is enabled to pay from its revenues not alone its entire operating expenses but also to relieve the taxpayers of paying the interest and sinking fund charges on harbor bonds.

"A 'Yes' vote on Proposition 8-A will be of great benefit to the taxpayers, to the city as a whole and to the prosperity of Los Angeles Harbor by bringing large industries to the port and increasing the revenues of the harbor department by opening Pier 1 to leases."

PROJECT ATTACKED

The City Council this morning will hear protests against the proposed improvement of Emelita street from Fair street to Lankershim Boulevard.

PROHIBITION ISSUE LURES HER TO POLLS

Mrs. Elizabeth Carter

ONE'S NEVER TOO OLD TO AID HOOVER

And So Mrs. Carter, 89 Years of Age, Will Cast First Presidential Vote

Age may cramp one's style in some respects, but it is not going to stand in the way of Mrs. Elizabeth Carter casting her first Presidential vote November 6. She is 89 years of age and a native born American, yet up to this time she never has taken any interest in politics with the exception of a single instance when she voted for prohibition in Oklahoma.

"When I was young I lived in Pennsylvania," said. "In a Swiss settlement and there it was not considered proper for girls and women even to talk about politics. This early training was so strong that later when women became enfranchised, it still didn't occur to me to exercise my voting privilege."

But Mrs. Carter always has been an ardent believer in prohibition, so with a little urging from her grandchildren, she is convinced at last that she should go to the polls and cast her vote for Herbert Hoover.

Mrs. Carter is the mother of thirteen children. She has six grandchildren, about fifty-six great-grandchildren and five great-great-grandchildren. As far as she knows all of the ones of voting age also will vote for Hoover.

Mrs. Carter lives at 10717 Lawler avenue, Palms, with her daughter, Mrs. George Williams.

RADIO STATIONS HAVE HUGE TASK

Political Broadcasts Involve Vast Amount of Labor

Chain Hook-up Arrangement Especially Complicated

Musical Series Scheduled for School Children

BY DR. RALPH L. POWER

A tremendous amount of preparation and labor is required for the broadcasts in behalf of the two Presidential candidates which are given almost every day by the national committees of the Republican and Democratic parties.

Aside from the job of booking some of the leading men and women of the country who are working for the candidates and the arrangements with the network groups the individual stations also are busy with local programs for the political parties.

How great a task the more important speech broadcasts are can be judged from the fact that upward of 100 stations have been used at one time to carry an address by the candidates, while other speeches are given over twenty or thirty stations.

TASK FOR ENGINEERS

Well in advance of the time the address of the evening is to be delivered, engineers have arranged their circuits to make sure that each station in the network is properly cared for.

When the address is delivered from some point other than the studio of a radio station it is necessary to run a telephone line to the speaker's stand and provide microphones to pick up his voice.

A still more complex tax, however, arises when the address is to be made in a city in which none of the network stations are located. It then becomes necessary to run a line from the nearest station on the chain, which in some cases may be several hundred miles away.

During the delivery of the address a close watch is maintained at the point of delivery in order that the speaker's voice may be properly modulated, so it will come through the loud speakers in each home distinctly and with sufficient volume to be easily heard through the average set.

HUGE TECHNICAL FORCE

Engineers are scattered all along the network of wires which connect the various stations in order that there may be no break in the broadcast. In the operating rooms of the various stations transmitting the program there are more engineers who see that the speeches go out perfectly from each individual station.

In some instances duplicate equipment makes certain that no possible technical difficulty can mar the program.

"Behind the scenes" in broadcasting is interesting, especially when things threaten to go wrong.

NEW SCHOOL SERIES TO BE GIVEN OVER KFI

A new series of musical broadcasts, especially for school children, will be inaugurated over the coast network commencing at 11:30 o'clock this morning.

They will be regular Thursday features with the morning half-hour discussion of composers and selections which will be played the same evening over the network chain on the 7 o'clock hour.

The lecture course of thirty-six concerts has been developed by Arthur S. Garbett, who compiled the Victor Book of the Opera and now is associated with the National Broadcasting Company.

There will be six main sections, viz, America music, Austro-German classics, Russian, Scandinavian and Polish, French and Italian, operatic influences and romantic nineteenth-century musical developments.

Scores of educators up and down the Coast have shown considerable interest in the school series and many classrooms and auditoriums will listen to the programs, while students and parents can hear the evening broadcasts in their homes.

For schools not equipped with receivers, the sponsors of the series have announced that the lectures later will be published in printed form for use by teachers of music.

KFI will be the Southern California station of the network series.

ARGUMENT MAY BE CRISS-CROSS

Anyhow Debaters Will Be That Way Discussing Crossed Eyes

Some authorities say that correction of far-sightedness will correct the strabismus and others deny it. The topic will be debated by two prominent optometrists tonight at the October session of the Los Angeles County Association of Optometrists in the science hall of the University of Southern California. Strabismus by the way, is a condition known as cross-eyedness and is considered an affliction by some but a boon to others: Ben Turpin, for instance. This will be the first time the condition and its remedy will have been debated in California.

NOVARRO WILL SING IN EUROPE

M.-G.-M. Star Has Role of Cavaradossi in "La Tosca;" Dorothy Arzner Signs New Contract With Lasky; Gertrude Olmsted Talks for Vitaphone

BY GRACE KINGSLEY

Ramon Novarro was speaking no empty words when he declared that he meant to make singing and grand opera a large part of his career.

RAMON NOVARRO

Word reaches us that Novarro will make his operatic debut in Berlin singing the role of Cavaradossi, the painter, and lover of Tosca, in Puccini's "La Tosca," according to arrangements announced yesterday by the Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer film star and singer.

Immediately after his next picture, soon to go into production, Novarro will leave for New York, pausing for a brief visit to sing a series of phonograph records, and then will proceed to Berlin.

The star's first full operatic performance will be in the Berlin opera, with celebrated European operatic stars in the other roles in the production. Gorgeous modernistic sections and costumes will embellish what is planned to be the most elaborate performance of its kind ever staged in Europe. Following this performance, Novarro will sing in Paris, then return to California to film his next picture.

Later, it is understood that, through the provision of his new contract with M.-G.-M., which allows him time to work in musical productions, he will sing the role of the Duke in Verdi's "Rigoletto."

Dorothy Arzner's New Contract

Women directors appear to have a tough time of it in pictures, and very few of them survive the wear and tear. Lois Weber and Dorothy Arzner being the only two of the species who have maintained themselves under all circumstances o'e a. Now Miss Weber has gone into temporary retirement, leaving the field to Miss Arzner.

DOROTHY ARZNER

So much, indeed, do Paramount officials think of Miss Arzner that they are giving her a new year's contract, according to the announcement of B. P. Schulberg.

Miss Arzner has just completed her fourth picture for Paramount, "Manhattan Cocktail." Several stories are under consideration for her, but so far none has been definitely decided upon.

Vitaphone's Real All-Star

Warner Brothers are to have a real all-star cast in their Vitaphone production, "She Knew Men," from all indications.

GERTRUDE OLMSTED

Gertrude Olmsted, Claude Gillingwater, Tom Dugan and Lucy Beaumont were added yesterday to the cast, according to announcement by Darryl Zanuck. These performers in important roles will supplement Edward Everett Horton, Betty Bronson and John T. Murray, already announced. Archie Mayo will direct.

Fox Star's Father Passes

Victor McLaglen received sad news in a cablegram which reached him yesterday, when he learned of the death of his father, the Rt. Rev. Bishop McLaglen.

Bishop McLaglen died in London early yesterday morning at the age of 77 years. He was father of nine sons and one daughter, all of whom survive him. Each of the ten children was in service in the British Army during the war.

Ruth Chatterton Ill

Ruth Chatterton is so ill that production on "Half an Hour" is being held up at the Paramount studios. She is suffering from influenza, confined to her home, and it will be at least ten days before she will be able to work, according to reports.

Mrs. Wallace Reid Busy

Mrs. Wallace Reid intends to have an all-star cast or nothing in her picture, "Linda," on which she is just starting to work at Metropolitan studios.

Mitchell Lewis, Allen Connor, Bess Flowers, Monty O'Grady, Kate Price and Lillian Brockwell have been added to the cast, which already boasts Helen Foster, Noah Beery and Warner Baxter.

Clara Bow to Vacation

Clara Bow is going to call it a day and take a vacation. Having just completed her latest Paramount picture, she is accepting the invitation of Clarence Badger and his wife to visit them at their mountain home in Lone Pine. She is leaving tomorrow and will remain a week.

All to Mexico City

Mexico City will be the gathering place of a number of picture stars around Christmas holiday time, according to present plans.

Colleen Moore and John McCormick are planning to go down there for the holidays, and Jack Gilbert expects to say "Merry Christmas" in Mexican to some friends in Mexico City.

Lewis Stone's Next

Lewis Stone's next assignment under his Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer contract will be one of the leading male roles in Greta Garbo's new starring vehicle now being prepared for production under Sydney Franklin's direction.

The feature, yet untitled, has a Javanese locale, and was written by John Colton.

Florence Vidor to Europe

Florence Vidor's famous husband, Jascha Heifets is expected in Los Angeles in December. Which is very nice, indeed, says Miss Vidor. But he will have to leave again to fulfill professional engagements in concert.

Wherefore Miss Vidor will go to Europe next May to accompany her husband homeward.

Edwin Carewe Soon

With the European presentation tour of Dolores Del Rio ending last Saturday in Paris, Edwin Carewe sailed Tuesday night on the Leviathan for New York, where he will entrain immediately for Hollywood, according to cable advices received by his Hollywood offices.

He will at once start preparation for the production of "Evangeline," for which Finis Fox has been writing the adaptation.

C. D. Lancaster, Writer of Stage and Films, Dies

Charles D. Lancaster, stage and screen writer, and formerly well known as a polo player, died early yesterday morning at the Pottenger's Sanatorium, Monrovia, following an illness of eighteen months. His death was attributed to chronic bronchitis, which forced his retirement from active business life in 1924.

The most notable of his stage successes was "The Great I Am," which was produced sometime ago with Taylor Holmes in the leading role. He had written other successful stage and screen plays.

Born at Shelbyville, Ind., in 1877, Lancaster first gained prominence as a jockey. Later he became a traveling salesman and in 1899 became famous as a polo player, making a world tour. He spent most of his recent years in writing.

He was a Mason and an Elk and a member of the Hollywood Masquers' Club. He leaves no relatives. Friends in the cinema colony are arranging for the funeral services, tentatively fixed for tomorrow at 4 p.m. at the Hollywood Cemetery chapel. The undertaking establishment of Graham and Isbell, 915 West Washington street, will be in charge of the funeral.

Man Dead, Wife Hurt When Car Stalls on Track

E. E. Davies was killed and his automobile was struck late yesterday afternoon by a three-car Pacific Electric train inbound from San Bernardino at Muscat crossing, one mile west of Pontana. Davies lived at 907 East I street, Ontario. His body was taken to the establishment of the Shaw Undertaking Company at San Bernardino, while his wife, who suffered a fractured skull, was taken to the Community Hospital at Upland.

The motorman of the train, M. A. Rouchleau, said Davies's automobile apparently had stalled, as the car was standing still on the track when it was struck. Rouchleau had put on his brakes as soon as he saw the automobile, but the train was traveling at such speed that it carried the wrecked automobile fifty feet down the track before stopping.

MAN LOSES FAMILY

Car, Wife and Children Disappear From Parking Place

Attention, Mrs. Whitmore!

You can find your husband at Room 331, Taft Building, telephone HEmpstead 4358.

As for anyone else reading this there is a police report on file which states that F. S. Whitmore arrived in Los Angeles yesterday via automobile at the end of a cross-country trip. He left his wife and two children in the automobile in front of the Taft Building while he visited a near-by insurance company office. When he returned his family and car were gone. It is the first time the Whitmores have been in Los Angeles and they had no local address at which to go.

So you can just imagine how you would feel if you lost your wife and family in a big city like this.

Have you all of your own teeth?

Unless you take preventive measures now, the day is coming when you will know, to your sorrow, that the true meaning of the phrase "artificial denture" is the extravagant price of self-neglect — false teeth. Here's the reason and the way to safeguard health against the coming of this day.

Teeth are only as healthy as the gums. And gums, undernourished and under-exercised as they are, soon surrender to dread diseases that ravage health and often destroy teeth. To prevent this, avail yourself of the best care that modern dentistry offers. Place yourself in the hands of your dentist at least twice a year. And brush your gums when you brush your teeth, every morning and night.

But for this purpose—use Forhan's for the Gums ... the dentifrice specifically designed to firm gums and keep them sound and healthy, thus protecting them from the attack of disease.

Use Forhan's regularly. You'll be delighted with the way it makes your gums look and feel. In addition, you'll notice that it effectively and safely cleans teeth white and protects them from acids, which cause decay. Get a tube of Forhan's—today!

PASCAL PLAY LARGE EVENT

Brilliant Audience Sees Mayan Premiere

"Marriage Bed" Well Acted and Well Staged

Serious Study of Domestic Complications Is Theme

BY EDWIN SCHALLERT

Nominally, the victory is won by the wife . . . but then . . . there is the other woman . . . and the husband . . . At least, one may say of "The Marriage Bed" that it presents its problem judicially for all persons concerned.

Eugene Pascal's play of wedded life, offering a study of a situation so familiar that it might be pointed out within one's own ken and knowledge, was given its first performance on any stage last night at the Mayan Theater. As an event of social and professional import it had qualities that have hardly been duplicated this year. As a play . . . well, the opinions expressed and the dictums will be many, but at all events the premiere was a singularly engrossing one. It was made notably that by a singularly excellent production, and an unusually fine cast.

With the first rise of the curtain, almost, the abilities of Robert Milton and Hans Druier, respectively, stage director, and setting designer, had established themselves. The smooth general handling of the unfoldment during the three acts, were further proof of the craft of Mr. Milton. Despite a superabundant nervousness in evidence in the opening scenes, the spirit of the performance was exceptionally positive, as reflected in the work of such principals as Alice Joyce, Owen Moore, Doris Lloyd and others.

However, the play being new, it's the play that assumes paramount importance in this review, and, looking matters squarely in the face, and projecting a snap judgment at the same time, I would say that Mr. Pascal had hit far too serious a note, and perhaps too intimate a note in some instances, to please the theatergoer on entertainment bent.

"The Marriage Bed" is a carefully, a skillfully written play, but it is almost a treatise on its subject. It is intense in its interest—so intense, indeed, that its audience obviously "let down" with something almost approaching a sigh of relief when there was a sign of pause.

My idea of a play with a purpose today is one that presents that purpose almost as a surprise at the close and is rather gay and light otherwise. I think that most of the successful plays do this. It is the case of sugar-coating the pill. In Mr. Pascal's play, I fear, realism in all its bitter actuality is offered through the three acts in too close an approach to a monotone.

For all that, "The Marriage Bed" is well nigh perfectly contrived in its psychology. It is almost pluperfect in its definition of character. Every point is logically built up to and logically made. The wife declines to divorce her husband because he is having what she terms a mere affair. The husband and the other woman seek a release through a form of arbitration with the wife. The wife is eventually willing to surrender when she finds the other woman anticipates motherhood. And so, to the end—almost an X-plus-Y-equals-Z equation. And as serious in its unfoldment as an algebraical problem.

"The Marriage Bed" is to be approved as a work of sincere merit. For persons who do not simply seek light enjoyment in the theater, but who like drama mathematically precise, and with a rather permeating humanness as well it will be a most decisive source of interest. I myself am free to admit that I would not have left the theater while it was going on, but in retrospect . . . one legitimately questions an appeal of a play reflecting not light and shadow, as all cleverly constructed plays of today do, but that casts the pall of shadow prominently, and that besides, discourses too much, and acts too little.

As an icy dissection of life as it is, "The Marriage Bed" is decidedly one of the outstanding events of the year—but drab.

Miss Joyce demonstrated an incisive and clear-cut style in her portrayal of the wife. It was almost crisp in quality, and decidedly interesting. She was more ill at ease than anybody on her first entrance, but covered it nicely. She has manifest charm upon the stage.

Moore played a role in which he was under severe stress at virtually every moment. His restrain, which I have referred to already, was most admirable. There is no question but that both he and Miss Joyce add visibly to the attractions of the play, just as does that redoubtable actress, Doris Lloyd, whose final scene is rich in feeling. Very capable work also by Sylvia Beecher, Blanche Friedrici, Ernest Wood, William Davidson, Florence Mason and William A. Turner. It is an excellent company and the direction by Mr. Milton is polished as direction all too rarely is. For all of which due credit to Felix Young for bringing this aggregation together.

WOMAN'S CLUB HONORS REPERTORY-PLAY STAR

Nance O'Neil, who will appear at the Los Angeles Repertory Theater at the Figueroa Playhouse, was the honored guest at the first drama luncheon of the Hollywood Woman's Club yesterday. Miss O'Neil, who is one of the few finished actresses in America and a Californian by birth, had many things of interest to say, particularly of the drama and outlines of the future for the Los Angeles Repertory Theater.

Miss O'Neil has just closed a recent engagement in New York with Elsie Ferguson and her appearance with the Los Angeles Repertory Theater in the role of Mrs. Phelps in "The Silver Cord" the initial season's offering, will be one in which her wonderful talents will be given abundant scope.

EVENTUALLY, AT ANY RATE

Guy Bates Post in "The Play's the Thing," will arrive at the Biltmore Theater the 29th inst., instead of next Monday, as previously reported in these columns.

Al Jolson Chooses Leads Wisely

An Eye for Beauty

And charm discerned in Josephine Dunn (left,) and Betty Bronson, just the player to support the mammy champion in "The Singing Fool," his latest vehicle. One joins the crowds early, these days, to see and hear this Vitaphone production at Warner Brothers Theater.

'Squall' Troupe Will Carry Its Own Weather

Learning a lesson from the recent transoceanic flight of the Graf Zeppelin, which on its trip ran into all kinds of climatic conditions, "The Squall" company when it leaves the Belasco Theater a week from Saturday night, will carry its own weather with it. A long tour is contemplated by the producers of this play—and to make sure in each city that the squall arrives at the proper time it will travel right in the baggage car with the scenery.

The carpenters at the Belasco are now busy making a huge canvas covering for the rainstorm, neat packing cases will house the thunder; the lightning fits into a wooden box, while the sunshine that follows the storm is carefully tucked into woolen-lined nests in a well-padded receptacle.

The run of "The Squall," stops at the Belasco, the 27th inst., to make way for "The Royal Family."

ANIMALS STUDIED AT CLOSE RANGE

Osa Johnson

Osa and Martin Johnson, whose travel film, "Simba," is being screened at the Biltmore Theater, are calling attention to a baby elephant which is crowding the lions, rhinos, baboons and all other wild animals very closely for first honors as the most attractive feature of the film.

According to Osa Johnson, Toto, as the natives cal la baby elephant, was only two days old when the camera caught it. Scarcely able to walk, Toto nevertheless struggled gallantly to keep up with its mother, whose solicitude for her offspring is plainly shown in the motion pictures. At times, the mother became so annoyed she slapped the baby with her trunk; then seeming to repent for her harshness, she rewarded it with a luncheon.

The little one suffered pitifully from the heat, says Johnson. It whined and wobbled and persistently refused to keep pace with the older animals. Pausing at a near-by water hole the mother gave Toto regular jungle heat treatment. First she butted the little fellow off his balance and held him down with her big forefoot while he lay squawking. Then she sucked up a trunkfull of mud and water and squirted it all over the suffering infant's body. Despite his protests she repeated this performance again and again until Toto showed plainly that he was well on the way to recovery.

TALMADGE FEATURE IS EFFECTIVE

Dramatic Situations Hold Marked Interest in "The Woman Disputed"

BY EDWIN SCHALLERT

Lest the fact that it expounds a war story might prejudice you against "The Woman Disputed," which opened yesterday at the United Artists Theater, it might be appropriate to mention that even the battle scenes are remarkably well done. The usual bewilderment that often prevails when movie troops go into action is very effectually overcome, and the story of romance and sacrifice which the film tells, actually gains in force and drama because of the sundry bombardment and military action that it depicts.

"The Woman Disputed" has as dramatic and well-knit a plot as any picture in which Miss Talmadge has appeared in recent times, and yields her some unusual opportunities for emotional acting. The situations are splendid, in their tensity, and there are excellent elements of surprise.

The direction of this picture is credited to both Henry King and Sam Taylor, and considering this division of honors, there is a marked unity in the final result.

The picture tells a not unfamiliar story of the woman forced to sacrifice her honor that her countrymen may live. It is material that has done valiant service in such high-brow plays as "Monna Vanna."

The case of the heroine in "The Woman Disputed" is, however, somewhat different.

In the beginning of the film she is a girl of the streets. She goes through a process of regeneration due to her friendship for an Austrian and a Russian officer, who are instrumental in saving her from the police.

She falls in love with the Austrian and thus invites the jealousy and resentment of the Russian.

The war separates the trio, with enmity still persisting, and in due course of time the fortunes of the conflict bring the Russian officer to the village, during an attack and conquest by his troops. Against orders issued by him, various people attempt to leave the town, among them the girl who plans to join her lover. The Russian officer agrees to free the prisoners, provided the girl will consent to become his mistress. The necessity of the sacrifice is further impressed upon her by a spy of the Austrian forces, who is seeking to rejoin the troops, and hopes to be able to do this with her aid.

This final situation is slightly complex, and not entirely clear in its motivation, but it serves to lead to a dramatic reunion later between the heroine and her fiance.

"The Woman Disputed" may be summed up as a theatrically forceful film, verging on unreality at times, and a little over footage, but essentially interesting. The picture was adapted from the play by Denison Clift.

Miss Talmadge gives a notably sustained performance as the heroine, achieving a splendid dramatic note especially in the later scenes. Gilbert Roland and the late Arnold Kent share rather equally in opportunities as the two officers, and both are adequate to the demands of these roles. Boris de Fas, Michael Vavitch, Gustav von Seyffertitz and Gladys Brockwell appear.

On the stage is a singing and dancing prologue, headed by Armida, the Gus Edwards protege. Armida presents Spanish numbers and impersonations that seem to please. The act is very acceptably staged.

Carthay Plans Early Closing

"Mother Knows Best," Fox Films first venture into the realm of long talking, singing Movietone features, is soon to leave the Carthay Circle Theater, where it has been drawing for several weeks.

Fred Miller of the Circle has several other productions booked.

"Mother Knows Best," despite its title, is less a sentimental sort of story than one of youth and its battle against time-worn traditions. It is based on Edna Ferber's narrative of a stage mother who fought down her daughter's natural desires for love and a home, and forced her up fame's ladder. It has talking sequences, singing, musical accompaniment and some impersonations of well-known stage stars done via Movietone by Madge Bellamy.

DE MILLE'S BIBLE FILM TO RETURN

"King of Kings" Booked to Follow "Patriot" Into Criterion

Cecil B. De Mille's production of tremendous magnitude, "The King of Kings," will return to Los Angeles for its first popular showing the 25th inst., following Emil Jannings in "The Patriot," at the Criterion Theater, it was officially announced yesterday.

The production of biblical times, which was accorded enthusiastic reception in the cities of America and which enjoyed lengthy runs, will be presented for a limited time only at the Criterion.

"The Patriot" enters its final week today.

Spanish Pieces Emphasized in Schipa Recital

Tito Schipa, whose concert at the Philharmonic Auditorium tonight is attracting much attention, has placed several Spanish numbers on his program. This is partly due to the influence of his accompanist, M. Longas, who is well known in his native Spain as a composer also.

A Spanish dance by Granados is especially popular in the tenor's repertoire. It has been skillfully arranged from the violin number by Schipa. Longas was a Granados pupil. The words of the song are about a divided love between a sweetheart and a mother and the denouement is typically Spanish.

"Sevilliana" is a song by M. Longas of the folk-song type. Longas is from Barcelona and has toured often with the great Pablo Casals, violoncellist.

Social Orders Favor Horton

Another theater party took place at the Vine-street on Tuesday night when the Lambda Kappa Tau Fraternity took over the house and staged a benefit for its new home-building fund.

Almost every week some fraternity or sorority or club takes over this popular playhouse for a benefit. There is, a story relates, an air of intimacy and friendliness about the place that warms one the minute one steps inside the foyer, and puts one in a humor for the feast of comedy dispensed by Edward Everett Horton and his company of players.

Lean, Mayfield Augment Acts

Special booking of Jeell Lean and Cleo Mayfield, popular stars of musical comedy successes, to appear as the feature number on next week's bill has just been announced by the Orpheum management.

Recent luminaries of "No, No, Nanette" and other Broadway stage hits, Lean and Miss Mayfield will present a snappy musical melange called "Hello! Everybody." Claud Neff will augment the offering as musical conductor.

BROWN PUTS FINAL TOUCHES TO DRAMA

Clarence Brown at present is one of the busiest men in Hollywood. He is doing two things, either of which is a full-size job for any man.

The noted director is concentrating, half the time, on putting the final touches to the editing of his latest completed picture, "A Woman of Affairs," the adaptation of a Michael Arlen story made at Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer studio. The rest of the long working day and night he is conferring with Bess Meredyth, scenarist, on the adaptation and scenario of his next production, "Wonders of Women," from the Sudermann novel, "The Wife of Stephen Tromholt."

Both jobs demand intensified effort, as speed is demanded in each case. A print of "A Woman of Affairs" is due in the Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer New York office within a short time. And Brown's schedule calls for an early start on "Wonders of Women."

MISS REXFORD GIVES MENTAL-RADIO TALKS

That one's brain is a receiving and broadcast station, but that unless one knows how to operate this mental radio one will have a life of discouragement, dissatisfaction and failure, is the contention of Orcella Rexford, bachelor of science, University of California, who first developed her own power while living in Alaska—where the action of the aurora borealis, she says, has a keener effect upon the nervous system.

Miss Rexford claims that through "mental radio" she has been able to demonstrate health, wealth and love in her life. She comes to Los Angeles from a tour of America and Europe, where crowds listened eagerly to her expound this latest scientific discovery, she relates. She will give a course of nine free lectures at Trinity Auditorium, all next week, beginning Sunday.

VERSATILE NO END

Jacqueline Logan, who is playing the title role in "The River Woman" at the Shrine Auditorium, is regarded by some critics as one of the most versatile players on the screen, having persistently refused to be classified in a type role.

TRAMWAY UP MT. HOOD

Refusal of Col. W. B. Greeley, former United States Forester, to allow the construction of a tramway to the summit of Mt. Hood was over-ridden by a committee of Oregon citizens appointed by Secretary of Agriculture Jardine to consider an appeal of the promoters of the line.

If Jardine issues the permit, and he indicated that he would be bound by the report of the committee, a tramway will be built from Cloud Cap Inn, at the 6000-foot elevation, to Cooper's Spur, a distance of two miles and an elevation of 2500 feet. From there a cableway, equipped with cages of forty-passenger capacity, will be constructed to the summit of the mountain, 11,220 feet above sea level.—[Oregon Journal.

"HERO" WARSHIP READY TO SAIL

H. M. S. Diomede Will Leave for Auckland Tomorrow

Good-will Vessel Has Many Veterans Aboard

Captain Given Decoration for His Services

H. M. S. Diomede, the "hero ship" of the Royal Navy and said to have among her officers and men more veterans of World War naval actions than any cruiser under the white ensign, will sail tomorrow for her home station in New Zealand, after a four-day good-will visit here.

CAPT. LIONEL WELLS

Her commander, Capt. Lionel Wells, D.S.O., received that coveted decoration for his work as gunnery officer of H. M. S. Repulse, when, in the battle cruiser action of November 17, 1917, in Heligoland Bight, he holed a German cruiser at the then-unprecedented range of 22,000 yards.

OTHER SERVICE

Capt. Wells later was in the post-war actions with the Turks off Asia Minor in the battleship Royal Sovereign, subsequently being executive officer of the battle cruiser Hood.

The Diomede's executive officer, Commander R. E. Jeffreys, D.S.O., was an officer of the light cruiser Cornwall at the battle of the Falkland Islands and later was present with Admiral Freemantle at the evacuation of Gallipoli.

MORE HEROES

Among the other officers aboard with distinguished records are Lieutenant-Commander H. H. Simpson, who was with Admiral Jellicoe aboard the flagship Iron Duke at the Battle of Jutland; Commander V. E. Kemball, chief engineer, also at Jutland, and Commander A. H. Joy, M.B., ship's surgeon, who served with the illustrous North Atlantic patrol.

The Diomede's officers and crew have been entertained well during their stay here. The ship, which is a D-class light cruiser of 4765 tons, mounting six six-inch guns as main armament, will sail tomorrow for Auckland, where she is due via Honolulu on November 19, next.

Smith Target of ex-Democrat at Students' Club

Declaring that Al Smith should be defeated by a decided majority for the benefit of the Democratic party, Miss Jeannette O. Campbell of 1016 South Gramercy Place, formerly prominent in San Francisco political circles, spoke to the Hoover-for-President Club of the University of California at Los Angeles yesterday afternoon. Her talk was given on the U.C.L.A. campus at the club's weekly meeting. Miss Campbell, who has deserted her Democratic political affiliations to support Herbert Hoover in the present Presidential campaign, was induced to speak before the university political organization by Virgil Cazel, president of the U.C.L.A. Hoover Club.

JEANNETTE O. CAMPBELL

In her address she also stated as a reason for her support of Hoover for President, that "Unless Mr. Hoover is elected, no political party ever will dare to uphold the dry laws in a Presidential campaign."

Miss Campbell, who is the author of a booklet, "A Pocket Primer of Politics," also will speak before the Stanford Women's Club next Monday, in Pasadena.

John J. Corey, News Pioneer, Called by Death

A pioneer journalist of California, John J. Corey, 67 years of age of 7109 Stafford street, Huntington Park, died shortly before noon yesterday at the Alynmore Sanatorium, adjacent to Huntington Park. Death was due to a nervous breakdown suffered some years ago. He leaves his widow, Mrs. Carrie G. Corey, three sons, Lester G., Robert D., and Edmund L. Corey, all of Huntington Park, and two sisters. Mrs. F. R. Bowie of San Francisco and Mrs. Carrie E. Ralls of Oxnard.

Funeral services will be conducted tomorrow at 10 a.m., from the Klinker undertaking parlors, Huntington Park. The body will be cremated at Inglewood Cemetery.

Corey began his newspaper career in San Francisco in 1880, serving at various times on San Francisco's largest papers in their editorial departments. In 1890 he came to Los Angeles as telegraph editor of the Morning Herald. Later he served as make-up editor and exchange editor of the Evening Express, relinquishing his position a few years ago when a physical breakdown made it necessary.

SEWER PERMIT GRANTED

Permission for the Board of Public Works to construct a temporary sanitary sewer from North San Pedro 300 feet into the west arm of the West Basin was granted yesterday by the harbor board, following approval of the plan by the San Pedro and Wilmington chambers of commerce.

BOOKS TO BE TOPIC

Bernard Fay will lecture in French at the next monthly meeting of the Alliance Francaise of Los Angeles at the Artland Club, 1719 South Figueroa street, tomorrow evening at 8 o'clock. Dr. Fay's subject will be "The Outstanding French Books of 1928 (Julien Green, Morand, Giraudoux, Gide, etc.")

CHEST GROUP SETTING PACE

Central Division Near Halfway Mark on Quota; Cinema Leaders Plan for Campaign

Two divisions of workers in the 1928 Community Chest campaign met yesterday and completed plans for raising their respective quotas. One group was able to report that 45½ per cent of its quota has been subscribed.

The latter report was made at a meeting at the Biltmore of the entire personnel of the central division, which is soliciting the wealthiest persons and concerns in the city.

It was decided not to announce the total and individual subscriptions until the opening of the general campaign on November 12, next, but it was announced that the largest personal subscription received to date is $25,000, and the donor is Ben R. Meyer, president of the Union Bank and Trust Company.

SPEAKERS AT MEETING

Speakers at the meeting, which was presided over by J. A. H. Kerr, campaign chairman, included Thomas May, John G. Bullock, William W. Bearman, James G. Warren, William Lacy and Mrs. Albert Crutcher.

The other meeting, which was of the division representing the motion-picture industry, took the form of a banquet last night at the Roosevelt Hotel, which was presided over by Cecil B. De Mille, chairman of the executive committee of the division. Mr. De Mille announced that the quota fixed for the motion-picture industry this year is $300,000, the largest amount this division ever has undertaken to raise for the Chest.

PLAN OUTLINED

Meeting with Mary Pickford and other members of this campaign executive committee before the banquet, Mr. De Mille outlined a thorough plan for surveying studio pay rolls, with emphasis on the large salaries of stars and directors under contract.

"The actor, actress or director or studio executive with a large salary or income must give in far greater proportion than the rank and file," Mr. De Mille said. "Some of the amounts subscribed by them in past years have been pathetically inadequate."

WORK DIVIDED

It was decided to divide the executive committee into five branches. Mary Pickford will head the solicitation of actors and actresses, Harry Rapf of M.-G.-M. will head the producers' soliciting; Herbert Brenon, the directors'; Jeanie MacPherson, the writers', and Roy Pomeroy of Famous-Lasky-Paramount, the technicians'. Members at large will be solicited by another branch of the committee composed of Sol Wurtzel, Jack Warner, Robert E. Welsh, Al Kaufman, Al Rockett, William Sistrom and William Le Baron.

Students Form Bar Association

A Model Bar Association has been formed by students in the school of law of the University of Southern California, patterned after the State and American Bar Associations, and displacing the old established student body organization.

To familiarize legal students with the methods and organization of the authentic Bar Association of which they plan to become a part after graduation, the Model Bar Association at Southern California will include committees and sections, headed by individual Trojan students. Sections include criminal law and procedure, courts and judicial officers, regulatory commissions, professional conduct, library, law review, publicity, program and civil procedure.

The entire student body of the law school will be members of the Model Bar Association; this year there are 353 law students enrolled at Southern California close to a 10 per cent increase over the registration last fall.

CONTRACT AWARDED ON CITY BOAT ENGINE

Contract for the installation of a new engine for the Harbor Department's inspection launch was awarded yesterday to the Wilmington Boat Works on its bid of $3400 and credit of $700 given on the old motor, which required much repairing. The engine is to be a 200-horsepower Hall-Scott and is to be installed within fifteen days. President Allen expressed the hope that it is not a similar case to one he heard about another department, where, he said, a new boat had been refused, so a new engine was provided and then it was found that a new hull would be required to carry the engine. He was assured by General Manager Cole that so far as the department knows the inspection boat's hull is in good shape.

PROTESTS TO BE HEARD

Protests against the proposed improvement of streets in the Marathon and Maltman-avenue improvement district will be heard by the City Council this morning.

BEARD UNABLE TO SAVE FACE

Liquor Suspect Recognized In Court by Detective As Former Offender

A recently grown heavy beard failed to save M. J. Suyetsuga from recognition by Detective Caldwell yesterday in Municipal Judge Ballard's court and as a result he is serving a ninety-day jail sentence, in addition to which he must pay a $500 fine.

When Suyetsuga pleaded guilty to a charge of possessing less than a pint of liquor, expecting the usual fine, Caldwell, who is assigned to watch for persistent violators of the dry laws, spotted him and informed the judge that he had been convicted twice before of the same charge. According to Deputy City Prosecutor Higgins, Suyetsuga was arrested in his cafe at 2855 West Tenth street while shooting dice with two other men.

PRISON ECHO SOUNDED AS WIDOW SUES

Slayer's Deposition Read; Blames Fatal Quarrel on Remark About Woman

The fight between Frederick A. Stern and Jacob Goldstein, which resulted in Stern's death and Goldstein's imprisonment for manslaughter, arose out of a slighting reference to Mrs. Stern during an argument, according to Goldstein's deposition, introduced in evidence before a jury in Judge Willis's court yesterday.

Mrs. Julia Rothschild Stern, widow of the slain man, is suing Goldstein for $250,000 damages. Goldstein is in San Quentin.

The two men were involved in an argument over business affairs, Goldstein's deposition relates. Goldstein said he remarked of Mrs. Stern, "She's a bigger crook than you are," and that Stern menaced him with a hammer. He contends he shot in self-defense.

Witnesses yesterday testified they heard the shots. Trial will continue today.

Clubwoman to Be Chairman of Art Commission

Mrs. William J. Wilson was yesterday unanimously elected head of the Municipal Art Commission to succeed the late F. W. Blanchard. Mrs. Wilson has been a member of the commission for seven years. She has long lived in Los Angeles and has been a member of the Ebell Club for twenty years. She lives at 5017 Franklin avenue.

Mrs. W. J. WILSON

Mayor Cryer so far has not made an appointment to the vacancy caused by the death of Mr. Blanchard. Other members of the commission are Donald Parkinson, Mrs. Edna Porter Phillips and Stewart Laughlin.

Approval of the commission to the design for all city public buildings and structures built on public property, such as bridges and ornamental lighting posts, is required by the provisions of the charter.

Swimming Pool Will Be Aid to Olympic Games

The $300,000 swimming pool planned by the City Playground Commission for Exposition Park will constitute another permanent facility for the Olympic Games here in 1932.

But for the saving effected through these permanent facilities, most important of which is the Coliseum, the cost of bringing the Olympic Games to California would have been staggering, says officials of the California Tenth Olympiad Association.

Every dollar saved through the use of such facilities will make more nearly sufficient to the needs of the undertaking the $1,000,000 State aid, ratification of which is expected at the coming election. The availability of this fund, voted almost unanimously by the Legislature, is dependent on "yes" votes for Proposition No. 2.

Woman Killed, Another Hurt, Crossing Street

Mrs. Mabel L. Wilson, an elderly woman, residing at 757 Whittier Boulevard, was killed and her companion Mrs. Alice Hughes, 63 years of age, of 712 Stuart street, was badly injured last night when they were struck by the bumper of an automobile driven by David Foreman of 555 West Santa Barbara street, when they attempted to cross the street at Palm Grove streets and West Adams Boulevard.

Foreman was arrested last night and charged with suspicion of manslaughter, following a police investigation of the accident. According to the police report, two cars were approaching the corner, and the elderly women apparently did not see the second car before they were struck down. On a card in the purse of the dead woman police found a request to notify Floyd A. Wilson, a son, with offices in the Subway Terminal Building, in case of accident.

OCCIDENTAL SURE OF MUSIC COURSE

Because of a substantial gift from James G. Warren, member of the board of trustees, together with the pledged support of other benefactors, Occidental College students are assured a music course in Alumni Hall this winter. The details of the course are being worked out by Prof. Walter E. Hartley, and at the present time announcement of three numbers can be made. There will be the A Cappella choir, directed by John Smallman; the California instrumental trio composed of Homer Grunn, pianist and composer, Axel Simonson, 'cellist, and Leon Goldwater, violinist; and the DeBusscher woodwind artist players.

JITNEY LINE MAY SEEK FRANCHISE

Promoters Propose to Parallel Los Angeles Rail Lines Through City

Seeking information for the purpose of making application for a twenty-year franchise to operate independent "jitney" busses on the streets of the city paralleling the lines of the Los Angeles Railway and to charge a 5-cent fare, Charles A. Palmer, president of the Comanche Mining and Reduction Company, yesterday addressed a communication to the City Council. He said that some associates in the East are ready to establish the bus lines if given a franchise. He further stated that he was seeking information as an individual and not as an official of his mining company. The 5-cent fare, the application said, would not include outlying parts of the city such as Venice and San Fernando. The application was sent to the Board of Public Utilities for recommendation and report. Several years ago the voters rejected a similar application filed by William G. McAdoo and associates on the ground that any independent lines would be unable to give transfers to the street cars.

In his letter to the Council President Palmer expressed the opinion that the United States Supreme Court would ultimately rule against the 7-cent car fare decision of the lower Federal court. Palmer said that, as contended by the city and the State, the question of the Los Angeles street car fares is not within the jurisdiction of the Federal courts but is purely a State matter.

Burglar Bores Hole in Stores, Avoiding Doors

The burglar who broke into business establishments a year ago by boring holes through walls from vacant stores is operating again.

Yesterday Detective Lieutenants Olewine and Casselbury reported finding evidence of his operations in the burglary of the Roberts Tailoring Company shop at 444 South Spring street and Louis Epstein's clothing store at 450 South Spring street. The burglar, the detectives stated, had rented a room in a hotel above the stores. He cut a hole in the floor of the room, through the ceiling into the tailoring shop, and dropped through.

After taking about $1000 worth of coats and suits he bored another hole through a wall into the clothing shop and there obtained half a dozen more suits. Police believe he then handed up the goods to a confederate in his hotel room and followed after by pulling himself up on a rope.

Wife Charges Seer Hit Her; Asks Alimony

Charging physical and mental cruelty, Mrs. Lillian Marrion Conlin yesterday filed suit for divorce from Claude A. Conlin, better known in the theatrical world as "Alexander the Great, the Man Who Sees All and Knows All." He is usually pictured in the billboard advertising in East Indian robes peering into a crystal ball.

Mrs. Conlin sets forth in her complaint that the seer on several occasions struck her with his fists. She asks for a temporary alimony of $800 per month for herself and $200 a month for the care of her son, 12 years of age, and her daughter, who is 6. She also demands custody of the children.

Conlin's monthly income is asserted to be approximately $1000. The value of the community property is not set forth.

The Conlins were married in 1915 and have made their home recently in this city.

DOCK DAMAGE ADMITTED

Authority to make a claim of $983.50 damages done to Berth 194 due to the sinking at the dock of the tanker Washtenaw, which still rests on the bottom of the channel, was given by the harbor board yesterday to General Manager Cole. The tanker lies in front of the Park & Kibele lease and the firm has asked for a lease on adjoining supply yard ways, wharves and land areas at $200 a month. The request was referred to the general manager for a recommendation.

YEARBOOK CAMPAIGN STARTS

Intensive Drive Starts Off With Rush

STARTING the big annual drive for subscriptions to the Southern Campus, yearbook of the University of California at Los Angeles, a sales force of 250 members led by fifty team captains began the campaign yesterday on the campus.

The 300 salesmen entered in the campaign met on the campus yesterday afternoon to perfect arrangements and to receive purchase books.

Eleven prizes, donated by campus merchants, will be awarded the highest ranking salesmen.

A new plan for the Southern Campus sales campaign will be inaugurated today with two teams of 150 members each, meeting in a competitive sales contest. Results will be posted regularly during the drive upon a scoreboard representing a miniature football gridiron.

PLANE RADIO STRIDE TAKEN

A great forward step in aerial radio development has just been made by the Navy Department, it was revealed yesterday at the local base, with the completion of successful tests, at a 600-mile range, of radio equipment with an engine-driven generator.

Heretofore, aviation radio sets have obtained power derived from generators driven by air propellers, thus rendering the set impotent when the plane was not in flight. Therefore, planes forced to land or otherwise in distress were unable to radio for help. The engine-driven generator, however, permits full use of radio facilities regardless of whether the plane is in flight.

The new generator and sending set were tested out on a trimotor Ford transport plane, full two-way communication being carried on at ranges in excess of 600 miles. Plans already are under way in the Navy Department whereby the new generator will be used by all observation, scouting and patrol planes in the fleet.

Gaveliers Put Indian Sign on Long Distance

Los Angeles to San Francisco in the morning for luncheon and back in Los Angeles in time for dinner. That was the speedy schedule yesterday of the Los Angeles Gaveliers, past-presidents of the Purchasing Agents' Association, when they paid a flying visit by Richfield trimotored Fokker monoplane to San Francisco to establish a Northern California chapter of the Gaveliers.

A picture of the travelers taken yesterday morning at 7:45 o'clock was transmitted by the telephone company by telephotographic process to a San Francisco newspaper which published the picture yesterday at noon in time for distribution at the luncheon.

Those who made the air trip were H. W. Christensen, J. C. McQuiston, Frank Anderson, P. T. Keenan, Robert M. Ketchum, A. K. Goodwin, H. W. Stores, C. P. Visel, president, and Arthur Baker, editor of the Southwestern Purchasing Agent.

DINNER ASSIGNMENT GIVEN

The harbor board yesterday authorized General Manager Cole and Traffic Manager Starr to attend the annual dinner of steamship officials to be held in San Francisco the 27th inst.

OBJECTIONS TO BE HEARD

Property owners on Gardner street from Hollywood Boulevard to Fountain avenue, who have filed protests against the proposed improvement of this street, will be heard by the City Council this morning.

Screen Actors Take Interest in Film Debate

Officials and actors of the film world are interested in the forthcoming debate between the University of California at Los Angeles and a team representing the University of Sydney, Australia. The subject is, "Resolved: That the World Would Be Better Off Without Motion Pictures." The local team will defend the industry against the negative arguments of the Australians.

Men and women of the motion-picture industry are assisting the U.C.L.A. debaters in preparing their arguments, a score of directors, executives and actors having been consulted by the debaters. Milton Sills, who has a degree of Ph.D. from the University of Chicago, has consented to preside at the debate, which will be conducted in Millspaugh Auditorium next Thursday.

This will be the second international debate ever to have been heard in Los Angeles collegiate circles. The visitors are participating in thirty debates during their visit to the United States, and come here with a formidable reputation as forensic orators. Members of the U.C.L.A. team are Harold Kraft, '26; Myron Smith, '29, and Kenneth Piper, '29.

Hearing Set for Three in Forgery Case

Following investigation of a gang that has been passing forged checks totaling several thousand dollars in Southern California cities John Koukis, 1020 Wilshire Boulevard; Robert Reed, McKenzie Hotel, and Dorothy McGee, whose right name is said to be Ruby Costello, were arraigned yesterday before Municipal Judge Russill and their preliminary hearing set for the 25th inst. Their bail was fixed at $3000 each.

Koukis, Reed and the girl were arrested in a Montebello store Monday by Officer Floyd Benedict of that city when they attempted to cash a $42 check drawn on Wheeler and Johnson, oil-field riggers and builders, in the Sun Building.

The men were dressed in working clothes and the checks they attempted to pass were asserted to have been represented as pay checks. Similar operations are said to have been carried on in Whittier, Santa Ana, La Habra, Pasadena and Alhambra.

WALNUT PARK DEAL VOIDED

Sale of $75,000 Property Rescinded and Owners Must Repay Money, Court Declares

After a hearing of the hotly contested law suit brought by Rueben Loeb Goodman for setting aside the sale of $75,000 worth of business property in Walnut Park, Superior Judge MacCoy yesterday handed down a decision in favor of the plaintiff declaring the sale null and void.

Hearing of the case lasted five weeks. The suit was brought originally against the Frank Meline Company and others. When the trial got under way the case was dismissed as to the Meline company. The remaining defendants were Mr. and Mrs. Abraham Markowitz, original owners of the property; Carl Wodzitzki, who bought the buildings from Mr. and Mrs. Markowitz and sold to Goodman; Guy Barnes, Arthur Lewis and Clarence Lind, who figured as agents in the transaction.

It was the contention of Goodman that the agents who engineered the sale of the property misrepresented to him the leases on various buildings in the block, as well as the amount of revenue derived. The defendants made a general denial.

The judgment of the court compels Wodzitzki to return to Goodman the money he paid for the property and for him to give back the property to Wodzitzki.

Attorney L. Lee Bernstein acted as counsel for Goodman and Attorneys Clore, Warne and Walter H. Hewicker, represented the defendants.

Driver to Face Coroner's Jury on Fatal Wreck

Henry of 1805 Palm Drive, Hermosa Beach, will be called before a Coroner's jury this morning to repeat details of the fatal automobile accident.

Harrington was killed Tuesday night when his automobile collided with one driven by Henry at Rosecrans avenue and Avalon Boulevard. Witnesses told the officers that Harrington was driving at a high rate of speed without lights at the time of the accident. After the collision his coupe turned over four times and came to rest against a light pole, completely demolished.

The inquest will be conducted at the Moreland funeral parlors, Compton.
